INTRODUCTION

TO SECOND VOLUME.

In the preceding volume are given the Newspapers of the United States and British America, together with appropriate gazetteer work and maps. In the present volume are the publications, maps and gazetteer information of the remainder of the world. Thus, in two groups, set one over against the other, are brought together this universal journalistic brotherhood—embodying the profoundest intellect, the keenest research, the wit that flashes bright and burns, and the criticism that pierces shams, however armored, exposes hypocrisies, however glossed, plucks up withered traditions, however deep-rooted, and cuts the chains that blind truth, however firm the clutch of their rivet-heads. These more than thrice ten thousand journals may well be called the lungs of civilization, inhaling current history, science, art, politics, theology, literature, and the great social problems of the age, assimilating them with the life blood of nations and peoples, and in the end expelling the noxious and non-sustaining refuse.

Near the conclusion of this volume will be found comparative, tabulated statements, in English, German, French and Spanish, exhibiting the number of periodical publications in the world, by classes and in the aggregate; the circulation per issue and per annum; the average circulation of the several classes, and the ratio of copies distributable annually per capita. The details have been consummated with care and elaborateness respecting every nation and country, as well as in regard to many of the prominent cities of the world. These tables cannot fail to command the attention of all persons interested in the progress of the Press, as well as of many students of the advance of Civilization. They reveal many points worthy of careful study. When it is remembered that but two hundred and sixty years ago the first spark of journalistic enterprise was as yet scarcely blown upon; that it was but a tiny speck of light amid a world of comparative darkness; and that its progress onward, first into a lambent, and afterward into a well-assured flame, was slow and uncertain—lingering through twenty decades—the present position of the Press of the World must be a subject of almost unalloyed wonder and admiration.

THE PRESENT AND THE PAST.

It is to be regretted that no well-directed effort has been made before this to collect statistics of the Press Universal: for in the absence of such no well-defined comparison is possible between the journalistic status of to-day and that of any given period of time in the past. It is, however, safe to say that the greatest triumphs of the Press, and its most swinging strides onward in numbers, breadth of field and power, have been within the last fifty years. Prior to that period the world still lay in the penumbra of the Middle Ages, not dreaming of the almost magical changes that awaited it, and which were even then at the very threshold, when steamships, railways, telegraphs, and the revolving printing press, born almost simultaneously, clasped hands and swung the pendulum of Progress further forward in five decades

INTRODUCTION

AU SECOND VOLUME.

Dans le volume précédent nous avons donné les journaux des Etats-Unis et de l'Amérique du Nord, avec des explications géographiques et des cartes appropriées. Dans le présent volume se trouvent les explications géographiques et les cartes du reste du monde. Ainsi, en deux groupes, opposés l'un à l'autre, est rassemblée cette fraternité de journalistes, —incorporant la plus profonde intelligence, la recherche la plus exacte, l'esprit qui éclaire et brûle en pétillant et la critique qui découvre la prétention toute bien armée qu'elle soit, expose l'hypocrisie tant bien déguisée qu'elle puisse être, détruit les plus profondes racines des vieilles traditions, et coupe les liens qui enchaînent la vérité, en dépit de la force de ses entraves. Ces journaux, au nombre de plus de trois fois dix mille, peuvent bien être appelés les poumons de la civilisation, aspirant l'histoire courante, la science, l'art, la politique, la théologie, la littérature et les grands problèmes du siècle, les assimilant au sang vital des nations et des peuples, et enfin rejetant les immondices épuisées et nuisibles.

Vers la fin de ce volume on trouvera, arrangés en tables, des états comparatifs en Anglais, en Allemand, en Français et en Espagnol, montrant le nombre des publications périodiques du monde, par classes et dans le total; les circulations par jour et par année; la circulation moyenne de chaque classe et le nombre de copies que l'on peut distribuer à chaque individu tous les ans. Ces détails ont été rassemblés avec soin et grande correction concernant chaque nation et chaque pays, aussi bien qu'en ce qui regarde plusieurs des principales villes du monde. Ces tableaux ne pourront manquer d'attirer l'attention de toutes les personnes qui s'intéressent au progrès de la Presse et à l'avancement de la civilisation. Ils révèlent plusieurs points dignes d'une recherche soignée. Quand on se rappellera que, il y a deux cent soixante ans, la première étincelle du journalisme avait à peine allumé sa flamme; que ce n'était alors qu'un faible rayon de lumière dans un monde d'obscurité comparative, et que son progrès en avant, d'abord leur rampante, puis flamme plus assurée, était lent et incertain—languisant à travers vingt siècles—la brillante position actuelle de la Presse du monde doit être le sujet d'un étonnement et d'une admiration sans aloi.

LE PRÉSENT ET LE PASSÉ.

Il est grandement à regretter que l'on n'ait fait jusqu'ici aucun effort bien dirigé pour recueillir des données statistiques de la Presse universelle; car dans l'absence de ces données il n'est pas possible d'établir une comparaison bien définie entre la position journalistique d'aujourd'hui et celle d'aucune autre période du passé. Nous pouvons cependant dire avec sécurité que les plus grands triomphes de la Presse et ses succès les plus remarquables en nombre, en étendue de circulation et de puissance, se sont accomplis dans les cinquante dernières années; que, avant cette période, le monde se trouvait encore dans la pénombre du moyen âge, ne songeant point aux changements presque magiques qui l'attendaient et qui, à

EINLEITUNG

ZUM ZWEITEN BANDE.

In dem vorangehenden ersten Bande sind die Zeitungen und periodischen Schriften der Vereinigten Staaten und von Britisch Nord-Amerika, sowie geographisch-ökonomische Beschreibungen und Karten erschienen. In dem jetzt veröffentlichten zweiten Bande wird der Leser die Zeitungen, periodischen Schriften und anderweitige ähnliche Beschreibungen, den übrigen Theil der Welt betreffend, finden. So sehen wir in zwei Gruppen, die eine der andern gegenüberstehend, die ganze journalistische Collegenschaft des Universums zusammengebracht, die Verkörperung des tiefsten Denkens, der höchsten Intelligenz, der eingehendsten Forschungen, des leuchtenden und beissenden Witzes und der Kritik, die alles Unächte schonungslos aufdeckt; sei es noch so wohl verkleidet, die alle Heuchelei zur Schau stellt, wie gleissend sie auch erscheinen mag, die alle noch so tief gewurzelten Vorurtheile vernichtet, und die die Ketten, welche die Wahrheit fesseln, zerbricht, seien dieselben noch so hart und sicher geschmiedet. Diese Journale, mehr als dreissigtausend an der Zahl, mögen wohl mit Recht die Lungen der Civilisation der Welt genannt werden; sie athmen die Geschichte der Gegenwart, Wissenschaft, Kunst, Politik, Theologie, Literatur und alle die grossen socialen Problemen unseres Zeitalters ein; verbinden sie mit dem Lebenssaft der Völker und Nationen und stossen zuletzt die unnahrhaften Elemente aus.

Nahe dem Ende dieses Bandes findet man in englischer, deutscher, französischer und spanischer Sprache vergleichende, tabellarische Zusammenstellungen über die Anzahl der periodischen Publikationen der Welt, sowohl classenweiss wie auch im Ganzen; sowie die Auflagen per Ausgabe und per Jahr; die durchschnittliche Verbreitung der verschiedenen Classen; und das Verhältniss der Exemplare per Kopf der Bevölkerung in einem Jahre. Diese Berechnungen wurden mit grosser Sorgfalt und Ausführlichkeit gemacht, bezüglich eines jeden Landes und Volkes, wie auch in Bezug auf manche prominente Städte der Welt. Diese Tabellen können nicht verfehlen die Aufmerksamkeit Aller, die in dem Fortschritt der Presse, sowie in dem Fortschritt der Civilisation der Völker, interessirt sind, in Anspruch zu nehmen. Dieselben zeigen manche Punkte, werth des tiefsten Studiums. Wenn man bedenkt, dass vor nur zweihundertundsechzig Jahren der allererste Funke des journalistischen Unternehmungsgeistes kaum noch angefacht war, dass es nur ein kleines Fünkchen Lichts war in einer Welt voller Finsterniss, und dass sein Fortschritt, zuerst nur einem flackernden Lichte gleich, welches nach und nach zu einer sichern Flamme sich ausbildete, langsam und ungewiss—glimmernd durch zwanzig Jahrzehnte—so herrlich gedieh, so muss gewiss die gegenwärtige erhabene Stellung der Presse der Welt ein Gegenstand der grössten Bewunderung und Aufmerksamkeit sein.

DIE GEGENWART UND DIE VERGANGENHEIT.

Es ist zu bedauern, dass nicht schon früher ernstliche Anstrengungen gemacht wurden, statistische Tabellen der Presse im Allgemeinen zu sammeln;

INTRODUCCION

AL TOMO SEGUNDO.

En el tomo precedente hemos dado las gacetas de los Estados Unidos y las de la America del Norte, con explicaciones geograficas y mapas apropiados. En el tomo presente se hallan las explicaciones geograficas y los mapas del resto del mundo. Asi en dos grupos opuestos uno al otro se halla reunida aquella confraternidad de Diaristas—incorporando la mas profunda inteligencia, la investigacion la mas exacta, el ingenio que relampaguea y quema con sus chispas, y la critica que descubre las pretensiones por mas escondidas que sean, expone la hipocresia desfrazada, y destruye las mas profundas raizes de las viejas tradiciones, y corta los atajos que encadenan la verdad a pesar de la fuerza de sus anillos. Estos diarios, al numero de mas de tres veces diez mil, pueden llamarse los pulmones de la civilizacion, aspirando la historia corriente, la ciencia, el arte, la politica, la teologia, la literatura y los grandes problemas del siglo, asimilandolos a la sangre vital de las naciones y de los pueblos, y al fin echando a fuera las zupias funestas y debilitantes.

Junto al fin de este Volumen se hallará un resumen relativo y liso en Ingles, Aleman, Frances y Español, mostrando el numero de periodicos publicados en el mundo entero, arreglado por clases y colectivamente; su circulacion por salida y anual; la circulacion proporcional de las diferentes clases; y la razon de copias distribuidas a cada individuo. Los por menores han sido completado con cuidado y esmero con respeto a todas las naciones y los paises del mundo, asi como en cuanto a muchas de las ciudades prominentes. Esas tablas no dejarán de mandar la atencion de toda persona interesada en el progreso de la prensa, asi como de todo estudiante del adelantamiento de la civilizacion. Teniendo presente el hecho, que no han pasado mas que doscientos sesenta años desde que la primera chispa de la empresa diaristica apenas habia sido soplada; que no era mas que una manchita pequena de la luz en medio de un mundo de comparativa oscuridad; y que el adelanto de la llama fluctuando a la luz brillante y firme era pesado y dudoso—tardando por Veinte décadas,—la posicion soberbia del día presente de la Prensa del mundo no puede dejar de ser objeto de maravilla y de una admiracion profunda.

EL PRESENTE Y EL PASADO.

Debe ser motivo de pesar que hasta ahora no se ha dado ningun empeño bien reglado con el objeto de recoger las estadísticas de la Prensa Universal; pues no habiendo tal, no es posible hacer comparacion bien definida entre la condicion de la prensa del día de hoy y la que era en cualquiera fecha del tiempo pasado. Como quiera que sea, se puede decir sin riesgo ninguno, que los triunfos mas grandes de la prensa, y los pasos mas largos en adelante que ha dado tanto en cuanto a los numeros como en lo que toca a lo ancho y lo largo del espacio que cubre y a su poder, han a parecido dentro de los cincuenta años ultimos pasados; pues, antes del tiempo dado, el mundo todavía se encontraba en la penumbra de las edades medias no entreteniéndose pensamiento ninguno del cambio casi mágico que era esperándolo, y lo que entonces mismo apareció en el umbral, luego que los vapores, los than it before had moved in twenty centuries. The Press of to-day, compared with the Press of the beginning of the nineteenth century, is as the broad shining of the meridian sun compared with the first streaks of the purple dawn faintly smiling in the sky of the Orient. The pigmy of one hundred years ago has become a giant. The molehill has put on the stature of the mountain. The little cloud no bigger than a man's hand within the lifetime of the octogenarian, has grown to fill the sky with its bursting promise of blessings; and the roar of its voice through the world is as the resounding plaudits of an advancing and triumphant army, or like the grand chorus of angel voices chanting "Peace on Earth, Good-will to Men." If within the last half century the world has been ribbed with rails of iron and steel, and woven fast together with meshes of wire that pierce the earth, the air and the sea, and draw all men into a universal brotherhood; if it be true that myriads of palaces afloat, moved by paddle and screw against both wind and tide, have beaten white tracks for themselves through all the great deeps to every land and shore, till all oceans are as familiar to the mariner and the traveler as all lands; if a man in New York may talk with his friend in Calcutta or in Melbourne, sending his voice via the bottom of the seas, over mountains, through wildernesses and across continents; if the whirr of machinery jars the very ground of Old England and New England, whose yards of curiously wrought fabrics would yearly belt the world hundreds of times;—if these things be so, they are but parallels of the progress of the Press, whose relation to all this era of gigantic building, this day of the full bursting into flower of the bud of the renaissance, has been that of a fore-running Elijah prophesying of the coming of the Day of Great Things, and making smooth and straight its way.

A PROPHECY OF FUTURE TRIUMPHS.

Speaking numerically, it may be said that the Press of to-day is numbered by tens of thousands. Every continent hears the rustle of its falling leaves. Upon some it descends with whitening showers; upon others as yet with but big drops that presage the coming of a glorious season of awakening life, and grand activity. Europe, North America and Australasia are at present its most favored fields. But those that have long sat in darkness are beginning to see the great light. India is awakening. Nearly four hundred journals published upon its own soil, a large proportion of them in its native languages, are breaking the bread of life to its people. Japan, among the youngest of nations to be born into a new civilization, has more than two hundred and fifty newspapers in active operation.

South Africa, enriched by both British and Dutch blood, has had kindled within it a great fire of civilization, which is steadily penetrating Northward. To the heathen is thus being given the pearl of great price, while the givers for themselves extract diamonds of inestimable material value from the reclaimed soil. In North Africa, too, the skies are beginning to be radiant. Railways, the telegraph and the Press are found in Algeria and Egypt; and who dare predict, in view of the events of the past, that the interior of the "Dark Continent," teeming with scores of millions of active and semi-civilized people, cette heure même, étaient sur le seuil, lorsque les vaisseaux à vapeur, les chemins de fer, les télégraphes et les presses à roulage, nés presque au même instant, se prirent par la main et lancèrent le pendule du progrès plus loin en avant en cinq décades qu'il n'avait marché auparavant en vingt siècles. La Presse d'aujourd'hui, comparée à la presse du commencement du dix-neuvième siècle, est comme l'éclatant éclat du soleil à son méridien comparé aux premiers rayons de l'aurore empourprée souriant faiblement dans le ciel de l'orient. Le pigmée d'il y a cent ans est devenu géant. La taupinière a pris la hauteur de la montagne. Le petit nuage, pas plus large que la main d'un homme dans la mémoire de l'octogénaire, a grandi jusqu'à remplir le firmament de sa promesse de bénédictions abondantes; et le rugissement de sa voix par le monde est comme l'applaudissement immense d'une armée triomphante qui s'avance, ou comme les voix des anges chantant le grand chorus: "Gloire à Dieu dans le ciel et sur la terre paix aux hommes de bonne volonté."

Si durant les cinquante dernières années la terre a été couverte de côtes de fer et d'acier, et reliée ensemble par des réseaux de fils de fer qui renferment le terrain, l'air et les mers et unissent tous les hommes en une fraternité universelle; si l'est vrai que des milliers de palais flottants, poussés par des roues contre le vent et la marée, se sont tracé de longues traînées blanches à travers la vaste étendue des mers vers toutes les terres et tous les rivages, jusqu'à ce que chaque terre et chaque rivage soit aussi familier au matelot et au voyageur que les terres mêmes; si un ami à New York peut converser avec son ami à Calcutta ou à Melbourne, envoyant sa voix par les profondeurs des océans, pardessus les montagnes, à travers les déserts et les continents; si le bruit sourd des machines fait trembler le sol même de la vieille Angleterre comme celui de la Nouvelle, dont les aunes de fabriques diversement travaillées entoureraient chaque année le globe de plusieurs centaines de ceintures; si l'en est ainsi ce n'est que le parallèle du progrès de la presse et sa conséquence immédiate dont la relation à toute cette ère de construction gigantesque, ce jour du plein épanouissement de la fleur de la Renaissance, a été celui d'un Elie précurseur, prophétisant l'apparition du jour des grandes choses et rendant ses sentiers droits et unis.

PROPHÉTIE DE TRIOMPHES FUTURS.

A parler d'après les nombres on peut dire que la presse d'aujourd'hui peut se compter par des dizaines de milliers. Chaque continent entend le bruit de ses feuilles qui tombent. En quelques endroits elles descendent comme de blanches rosées; en d'autres ce ne sont encore que de grosses gouttes qui présagent la venue d'une saison glorieuse de la vie renaissante, et d'une grande activité. L'Europe, l'Amérique du Nord et l'Australie sont à présent ses champs les plus féconds. Mais ceux qui sont restés si longtemps assis dans l'obscurité commencent à voir la grande lumière. L'Inde se réveille. Près de quatre cents journaux, publiés sur son sol, en grande proportion dans les langages du pays, rompent le pain de la vie à ses peuples. Le Japon, l'une des plus jeunes nations nées à la civilisation nouvelle, a plus de deux cent cinquante journaux en active opération.

L'Afrique méridionale, arrosée de Sang Anglais et hollandais, a vu s'allumer dans son sein un grand feu «denn indem keine solche vorhanden sind, ist es nicht möglich, irgendwelchen Vergleich anzustellen, zwischen dem Stande des Journalismus der Jetztzeit und irgend einer früheren Periode. Man kann aber dennoch mit Bestimmtheit sagen, dass die grössten Siege der Presse und ihr grösster Fortschritt in Bezug auf Zahl, das Gebiet ihrer Wirkung und ihrer Kraft, errungen wurde in den letzten fünfzig Jahren; dass die Welt vor der Zeit gleichsam noch in dem Zustande der Mittelalterlichen Zeit sich befand, nicht träumend von der beinahe wunderbaren Veränderung, welche stattfinden sollte, und welche so nahe gerückt war zu der Zeit, als Dampfschiffe, Eisenbahnen, Telegraphen und die Cylinder-Druckerpresse, welche beinahe gleichzeitig in's Leben gerufen wurden, sich die Hände reichten, und die Zeiger an der Uhr des Fortschritts in fünf Jahrzehnten weiter vorwärts schoben, als dies in zwanzig Jahrhunderten vorher geschehen war. Die Presse der Gegenwart, im Vergleich mit der Presse im Anfang des neunzehnten Jahrhunderts, ist wie die hellstrahlende Mittagssonne, verglichen mit den ersten Strahlen des Morgenroths, nur noch schwach glimmernd am östlichen Himmel. Der Zwerg von vor hundert Jahren ist jetzt zu einem Riesen herangewachsen. Der Maulwurfshügel hat sich zu einem grossen Berge entwickelt. Die kleine Wolke, nicht grösser als eines Mannes Hand, ist während der Lebenszeit eines Greises zu einer mächtigen Wolke herangewachsen, die den Himmel bedeckt und ihre Segensfülle hernieder schüttet. Die Macht ihrer Stimme, die überall in der Welt wiederhallt, ist gleichwie das Echo der Siegesrufe einer herannahenden Armee, oder wie der erhabene Choral der Engelstimmen, singend „Friede auf Erden, und den Menschen ein Wohlgefallen.“ Wenn in dem letzten halben Jahrhundert die Welt mit Schienen von Eisen und Stahl umgürtet, und zusammengewoben wurde mit Maschen von Draht, welche die Erde, die Luft und das Meer durchkreuzen, und die ganze Menschheit verbinden zu einer allgemeinen Bruderschaft; wenn es wahr ist, dass unzählige schwimmende Paläste, vorwärts getrieben, von Rädern oder Schrauben, gegen den Wind und die Fluth, sich Wege gebahnt haben durch alle grossen Meere, nach jedem Lande, bis zuletzt alle Meere dem Schiffer und dem Reisenden so bekannt sind, wie alles Land; wenn ein Mann in New-York mit seinem Freunde in Calcutta, oder in Melbourne, reden kann, indem seine Stimme durch die Tiefe des Meeres, über Berge, durch die Wildniss und über Weltheile dringt; wenn der Lärm von Maschinen den Boden in Alt-England, sowohl wie in Neu-England, dessen wunderbar gewobene Stoffe jährlich hunderte von Malen den Erdball umgürten könnten, erschüttert,—wenn dies also ist, so sind diese Dinge nur schritt haltend mit dem grossen Fortschritt der Presse, deren Verhältniss zu dieser Zeit des riesenhaften Aufschwunges, und zu diesem Tag des vollen Aufblühens der Knospe der Renaissance, das eines vorausgehenden Elias war, das Herannahen des Tages grosser Dinge prophezeiend und den Weg dafür bereitend.

EINE PROPHEZEIUNG VON ZUKÜNFTIGEN SIEGEN.

Es kann wohl gesagt werden, dass die Erzeugnisse der Presse der Jetztzeit nach Zehntausenden gezählt werden können. Jedes Land vernimmt das Rauschen ihrer fallenden Blätter. Einzelne Länder ferro-carriles, los telégrafos y la prensa circular nacidos todos casi simultáneamente, extendieron las manos y dieron adelanto mas rápido y mas poderoso al péndulo del progreso en cinco décadas, de lo que hasta esa fecha habia recibido en veinte siglos. La prensa del día presente, en comparacion con la prensa como se conocia en el principio del siglo decimo nono, es lo que parece el lustre resplandeciente del sol Meridiano al lado de las primeras rayas de la alba purpúrea debilmente riendo en el firmamente oriental. Lo que era un pigmeo hace cien años es un gigante hoy día. El montoncillo se ha apropiado la estatura de la montaña. No era mas grande que la mano de un hombre dentro de la Vida del octogenario la nuebecita, que ha crecido hasta que colme la region etérea con sus promesas llenas de bendiciones, y el rugido de su voz por dentro del mundo entero parece el plaudito resonando del ejército triunfante ó lo que debe ser el gran coro de los ángeles cantando “Paz en la tierra, Benevolencia al hombre.”—Si es verdad que dentro los cincuenta años pasados el mundo ha sido guarnecido de barandas de fierro y de acero, fabricando con mallas de alambre un tejido rodeando la tierra, el aire y la mar, encojiendo los hombres en una fraternidad universal; si es verdad que millares de palacios flotantes, combatiendo chapoteando y con el tornillo los vientos y la marea, han dejado estelas blancas por medio de todas las aguas inmensas llegando á toda ribera del mundo, hasta que los oceanos han quedado familiares en la vista del marinero y del viajero lo mismo que la tierra firme; si en Nueva York puede uno conversar con el amigo en Calcutta ó en Melbourne, enviando la voz por medio de los oceanos, sobre las montañas, los desiertos y al través de los continentes; si el ruido de las maquinas sueña en el suelo de la Vieja Inglaterra asi como en el de la Nueva Inglaterra, cuyas yardas de productos raros rodearian el mundo cien veces cada año,—si todas esas cosas sean asi, no son pues sino las continuaciones ordenadas del progreso de la prensa, cuya relacion á esa era de fabricas gigantes, á ese día cuando el pimpollo del renacimiento se convierte en la brillante flor descogida es la del precursor Eliseo profetizando el advenio del Día de Cosas Grandes, lisando y enderezando el Camino.

PROFECIA DE TRIUNFOS VENEDEROS.

Hablando numericamente, se puede decir, que la prensa de hoy debe contarse por diez de miles. Cada continente oye el desprendimiento de las hojas que caen; sobre algunos descendiendo con lluvias abundantes; sobre otros no caen sino gotas grandes, pronosticando la venida de una estacion gloriosa, de la vida que se despierta y de gran actividad. La Europa, la America del Norte y la Australasia en esta fecha son sus campos mas fértiles. Pero aquellos mismos, que por mucho tiempo han quedado en oscuridad profunda, empiezan á reconocer la luz. La India está dejando de dormir. Cerca de cuatrocientos periódicos, publicados en el país mismo, una gran proporcion de ellos en el idioma nativo, provee al pueblo el pan de la vida. Japon, una de las últimas naciones á quien ha venido una nueva civilizacion, cuenta mas que dos cientos cincuenta periódicos en operacion activa. La Africa del Sud, bendita con sangre Inglés y Holandes, ha visto encenderse en su seno un fuego reluciente de la civilizacion, lo que está progresando invariablemente en la direccion del Norte. Asi está aproximán-inhabiting a land magnificent in its beauty of landscape, and glorious in the richness of its soil and in the exuberance of its products, will not within the next five decades be sustaining a vigorous and independent home press, daily publishing specials from New York, London and Peking; thundering demands for reform in the governments of Dahomy and Ashantee; championing purity and freedom of popular elections in the Republics of Sahara and Timbuctoo; while in contiguous columns may be seen, among others, well-displayed advertisements of Yankee notions, American machinery, silks from New Jersey, the finest of cottons from Connecticut and Massachusetts, Georgia and Mississippi, woolens from Texas, paper from New England and teas from the South,—the whole concluding with the current time-card of the "Mediterranean, Equatorial and South African Railway" lightning express!

Mexico, Central and South America are unquestionably upon the eve of a great awakening, both commercial and intellectual. Railways, electricity and the Press are nimble instruments in the hands of the Present in scaling off the binding incrustations of the Past, and in stimulating the development of the Future. China cannot long resist the influences of a Western civilization permeating its masses. It is already surmounting her walls and peering into her palaces. It requires but little of the gift of prophecy to foretell that the Flowery Kingdom must soon yield herself to those essential principles, omnipotent in power, which have made Europe and America the absolute rulers and arbiters of the destinies of the world.

A GENERAL SURVEY.

In this connection let it be understood that the word "newspaper," as used throughout this article, is designed to include not only dailies and weeklies, but also monthlies, magazines, quarterlies, annuals, and all other classes; also that the word "publication" refers only to publications periodically issued.

In the entire world there are published 34,274 newspapers of all degrees. Europe leads the way in numbers, circulation and influence, having 19,557 publications, or 57.07 per cent. of all in existence. North America follows with 12,400 publications, or 36.16 per cent. of all. In view of her youth and of the wide dispersion of her population over an area more than twice that of Europe, she may well feel satisfied with her rank in the journalistic world. Europe and North America sustain 31,957 newspapers, leaving but 2,317 to the remainder of mankind. These 2,317 are distributed as follows: In Asia, 775, or 2.27 per cent.; South America, 699, or 2.05 per cent.; Australasia, 661, or 1.91 per cent.; Africa, 182, or 0.54 per cent. How unequal is the distribution of newspaper literature throughout the world, is apparent when it is considered that Europe and North America together have an area less than one fourth (22.97 per cent.) of the habitable globe, and yet they contain more than nine-tenths (93.23 per cent.) of all publications in existence. Combined, Europe and North America have a population of 377,390,145, while the remainder of the world has 1,245,788,016. Examination shows that the inhabitants of the two grand divisions named enjoy the genial influences of the newspaper in the ratio of one publication to each 11,809 individuals within their limits. Counting the average family to contain six persons, it appears that in de civilisation qui s'avance d'un pas ferme vers le Nord. Aux païens est ainsi offerte la perle de grand prix tandis que les donateurs extraient pour eux-mêmes des diamants d'une valeur matérielle inestimable du sol racheté. Le ciel commence aussi à devenir radieux dans l'Afrique du Nord. On trouve dans l'Algérie et l'Egypte des chemins de fer, le télégraphe et la Presse. Qui osera prédire, en vue des événements du passé, que l'intérieur du "Continent obscur," rempli de centaines de milliers de peuples actifs et à demi-civilisés, qui habitent une terre magnifique par la beauté de son paysage, et glorieux de la richesse de son sol et l'exubérance de ses productions, ne soutiendra pas, avant vingt cinq ans écoulés, une presse indigène indépendante publiant journellement des nouvelles spéciales de New York, de Londres, de Pékin; tonnant les cris de réformes dans les gouvernements de Dahomey et d'Ashantie; défendant la pureté et la liberté des élections populaires dans les Républiques du Sahara et du Tombouctou; tandis que dans les colonnes d'à côté paraîtraient, entr'autres, des annonces bien déployées, des bagatelles Yankees, des mécaniques Américaines, des soieries du New-Jersey, des plus belles cotonnades du Connecticut et du Massachusetts, de la Georgie et du Mississippi, de la papeterie de la Nouvelle Angleterre et des thés des Etats du Midi; le tout se terminant par la carte des départs ordinaires des trains rapides des chemins de fer de la Méditerranée, de l'Equateur et de l'Afrique méridionale.

Le Mexique, l'Amérique Centrale et l'Amérique du Sud sont, sans aucun doute, à la veille d'une grande prospérité commerciale et matérielle. Les chemins de fer, l'électricité et la Presse sont des instruments rapides dans les mains du présent pour écailler les profondes incrustations du passé et pour stimuler le développement de l'avenir. La Chine ne pourra pas long-temps résister à l'influence envahissante de la civilisation de l'Occident. Déjà celle-ci surmonte imperceptiblement ses murailles et regarde à la dérobée dans ses palais. Il ne faut pas un don extraordinaire de prophétie pour prédire que le royaume fleuri devra bientôt s'abandonner à ces puissantes influences essentielles qui ont rendu l'Europe et l'Amérique les régulatrices et les arbitres des destinées du monde.

COUP D'ŒIL GÉNÉRAL.

Il faudra remarquer que sous ce rapport le mot "journal," comme il est employé dans cet article, embrasse non-seulement les journaux quotidiens et les hebdomadaires, mais aussi les mensuels, les trimestriels, les magazines, les annuels et toutes les autres classes; et aussi que le mot "publication" se rapporte seulement aux publications issues périodiquement.

Dans le monde entier il se publie 34,274 journaux de toutes classes. L'Europe marche en tête par le nombre, la circulation et l'influence, possédant 19,557 publications ou 57.07 pour cent de toutes celles en existence; puis vient l'Amérique du Nord avec 12,400 publications ou 36.16 pour cent de la totalité.

En considération de sa jeunesse et de la dispersion de sa population sur une aire de plus du double de celle de l'Europe, elle peut justement s'enorgueillir de son rang dans le monde journalistique.

L'Europe et l'Amérique contiennent 31,957 journaux n'en laissant que 2,317 au reste du genre humain. Ces 2,317 sont distribués comme suit: En Asie 775 ou werden davon überschüttet, wie von mächtigen Strömen, während Andere bis jetzt nur die einzelnen Tropfen verspüren, welche die herannahende, herrliche Zeit des erwachenden Lebens und mächtiger Thätigkeit verklären. Europa, Nord-Amerika und Australasien sind gegenwärtig besonders bevorzugt. Aber auch solche Länder, die da früher im Finstern saßen, fangen an das grosse Licht zu sehen. Indien ist am Erwachen. Durch beinahe vierhundert Journale, die daselbst gedruckt werden, ein grosser Theil davon in den Landessprachen, wird jenem Volke das Brod des Lebens gebrochen. Japan, eine der jüngsten Nationen, beglückt mit einer neuen Civilisation, hat mehr als zweihundertundfünfzig Publikationen. In Süd-Afrika wurde, unter dem Einfluss der Engländer und Holländer, die Flamme der Civilisation angezündet, welche beständig weiter nördlich vorandrängt. Den Heiden wird somit die Perle von grossem Werthe gegeben, während die Geber selber dafür belohnt werden mit den köstlichsten Diamanten, an's Licht gebracht aus dem Schoosse der Erde. Auch in Nord-Afrika fängt der Himmel an sich zu lichten. Eisenbahnen, Telegraphen und Druckerpressen findet man in Algerien und Egypten; und wer dürfte sagen, im Blick auf die Vergangenheit, dass das Innere des „dunkeln Welttheils,“ bewohnt von vielen Millionen thätiger, halbcivilisirter Einwohner, im Besitze eines solch herrlichen Landes, mit einem solchen Reichthum seines Bodens und seiner Erzeugnisse, nicht in den nächsten fünfundzwanzig Jahren eine kräftige, unabhängige, eigene Presse unterhalten wird, mit täglichen Nachrichten von New-York, London und Peking; eine Presse welche ihre Forderungen für Reform in den Regierungen von Dahomey und Ashantee heineindonnern wird; welche Reinheit und Freiheit in den Volkswahlen in den Republiken Sahara und Timbuctoo vertritt und fordert; während man, unter Anderen, in langen Spalten schön geordnete Anzeigen sehen kann von Yankee-Notions, Amerikanischen Maschinen, Seidenstoffen von New-Jersey, die feinsten Baumwollentstoffe von Connecticut und Massachusetts, Georgia und Mississippi, Wollentstoffe von Texas, Papier von Neu-England, und Thee von Süd-Carolina, — das Ganze beschliessend mit einem Fahrplan der Schnellzüge der „Mitteländisch-, Aequator- und Süd-Afrika Eisenbahn.“

Mexico, Central- und Süd-Amerika stehen gleichsam am Vorabend eines grossen, erfolgreichen, geschäftlichen und materiellen Aufschwungs. Eisenbahnen, Electricität und die Druckerpresse sind die Instrumente der gegenwärtigen Zeit, wodurch die verhärtete Rinde der Vergangenheit beseitigt, und die Entwicklung der Zukunft befördert wird. China wird nicht mehr lange der durchdringenden Kraft der westlichen Civilisation sich verschliessen können. Dieselbe steigt jetzt schon an die Mauern China's heran und klopft an den Palästen an. Es erfordert nur wenig Weissagungsgabe, um vorauszusagen, dass das „Himmliche Reich“ sich gar bald den mächtigen Principien erschliessen muss, welche Europa und Amerika zu den Regenten und Führern der Welt gemacht haben.

EIN ALLGEMEINER UEBERBLICK.

In dieser Verbindung möchten wir bemerken, dass das Wort „Zeitung,“ wo immer dasselbe in diesem dose la perla de gran precio al pagano, los donadores extrañando diamantes de un valor material inestimable del suelo reclamado. Así, en la Africa del Norte los cielos no dejan de arrojar rayos de luz. Ferro-Carriles, el telégrafo y la Prensa se encuentran en Algeria y en Egypto, y quien osará profetizar, a la consideracion de los eventos del pasado que el interior del “Continente Oscuro,” lleno de millones de gente activa y medio civilizada que habita una tierra magnifica por la belleza de su paisaje y gloriosa por la riqueza de su suelo y la exuberancia de sus productos, no sostendrá a dentro de veinte y cinco años una prensa indigena independiente, publicando diariamente noticias especiales de Nueva York, de Londres, de Pekin, tronando los gritos de reforma en los reinos de Dahomy y de Ashantee, defendiendo la pureza y la libertad de las elecciones populares en las Republicas del Sahara y del Timbuctoo, mientras que en las columnas a su lado aparecerán entre otros, anuncios bien desplegados de batagales Yankeeas, de máquinas Americanas, de fabricas de seda del Nuevo Jersey, de los algodones hermosísimos de Connecticut y de Massachusetts, de la Georgia y del Misissippi, de los papeles de la Nueva Inglaterra, y de los tes de los Estados del sur; terminándose el todo con la Cartilla de las salidas de los trenes expresos de los carriles del Mediterráneo, del Ecuador y de la Africa del Sur.

El Méjico, la Centro America y la America del Sur están sin duda ninguna a la víspera de una grande prosperidad comercial y material. Los carriles, la electricidad y la prensa son instrumentos rápidos en las manos del Presente para escamar las profundas incrustaciones del pasado y para estimular el desarrollo del Venidero. La China no podrá resistir mucho tiempo a la influencia invadente de la civilizacion del Occidente. Ya sobrepasa imperceptiblemente sus murallas y mira de lo lejos a sus palacios. No se necesita un dono extraordinario de profecía para pronosticar que el reino florido debe abandonarse pronto a aquellas influencias esenciales que han hecho la Europa y la America los reguladores y arbitros de los destinos del mundo.

PERSPECTIVA GENERAL.

Se desea introducir esta parte con la explicacion que la palabra “periódico,” cuando se hace uso de ella en este artículo, se refiere no solo a diarios y a semanales sino tambien a los mensuales “magazines” (coleccion de escritos literarios) trimestrales, anuales y a toda clase de publicaciones; tambien que la palabra “publicacion” se refiere unicamente a las publicaciones que salen periódicamente.

En el mundo entero se publican 34,274 periodicos de toda clase. La Europa toma la delantera en cuanto a números, circulacion y influencia, pues se publican allá 19,557, lo que quiere decir 57.07 por ciento de todos los que existen. En seguida viene la America del Norte con 12,400 publicaciones ó 36.16 por ciento del total. A la consideracion de su juventud y de la vasta dispersion de su populacion sobre una aréa doble de la de la Europa, puede en efecto quedar ella satisfecha con el lugar que ocupa en el mundo diaristico. La Europa y la America del Norte, sosteniendo 31,957 periodicos, no quedan sino 2,317 para el residuo del mundo. Esos 2,317 se distribuyen como sigue: en la Asia, 775 ó 2.27 por ciento en la America del Sud 699 ó 2.05 por ciento en la Australia 661 ó 1.91 por ciento, en la Africa 182 ó 0.54 por ciento. Se re-

Europe and North America one newspaper office is in full blast for the benefit of every two thousand families. The remaining grand divisions of Asia, Africa, South America and Australasia, with over 1,200,000,000 population, and with but 2,317 publications, are much less favored, since within their boundaries but one newspaper exists for each 537,673 inhabitants—equivalent to one publication to every 89,612 families.

EUROPE VERSUS NORTH AMERICA.

Europe publishes more than twice as many dailies as North America—the former having 2,403, and the latter but 1,136. The average circulation, also, of the European daily surpasses that of the North American by more than fifty per cent—that of the former being 6,526, while that of the latter is 4,188. This, to a large extent, is accounted for by the heavy editions of the press of London, Paris, Manchester, Liverpool, and other British and continental cities. The average circulation of the London dailies is 44,969; of those of Glasgow, 38,333; of those of Edinburgh, 30,013; while the daily publications of Manchester stand highest in the world in the rank of averages, being credited with 56,666 copies each per issue. The daily newspapers of the United Kingdom (numbering in all only 202,) possess an average daily circulation of 19,710 copies; while those of the United States (numbering 970) have a daily average of but 4,447. The only American dailies which approximate nearly in averages to those of the British cities named, are those published in Boston, New York and Brooklyn—the Boston daily press issues averaging 30,261, and those of New York and Brooklyn, 23,550.

In the matter of publications more frequent than weeklies and less so than dailies (including those appearing two, three, four and five times a week, and which, for convenience, may be called "inter-weeklies"), Europe leaves America quite out of sight, having 3,266 of that class, to America's 271. It is apparent from this that Americans do not take kindly to sheets that intermit between Sundays.

THE TRUE TEST OF POPULAR INTELLIGENCE.

Coming to the true test of popular intelligence, as indicated by the diffusion of the products of the press, the statistical tables show a significant and marked diversity in the several grand divisions. By this test North America is seen to take first rank. Her presses issue nearly 2,800,000,000 copies per annum—equivalent to 36½ copies per year for every inhabitant within her borders. The nearest approach to this is found, not in Europe, as naturally would be expected, but in that continent or nation younger in civilization even than America—we mean Australasia. Here among a population of less than 3,700,000, are annually distributed more than 112,000,000 copies of home-printed newspapers—giving about 30½ copies to each person within its limits. Truly "blood will tell"—especially Anglo-Saxon blood—even in the reading of newspapers! Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania are richly endowed with handsome and ponderous sheets that fly broadcast over those wide lands and are duly conneed with true Anglo-American thoroughness. After Australasia the next in rank of popular intelligence is Europe, whose immense annual newspaper product of over 7,300,000,000 copies, when equally distributed among her more than 2,27 pour cent; l'Amérique du Sud 699, ou 2.05 pour cent; l'Australie 661 ou 1.91 pour cent; l'Afrique 282 ou 0.54 pour cent. L'inégalité de la distribution de la littérature des journaux devient bien plus apparente quand on considère que l'Europe et l'Amérique du Nord, prises ensemble, ne contiennent qu'une étendue de moins d'un quart (22.97 pour cent.) du globe habitable et que cependant elles possèdent plus des neuf-dixièmes (93.23 pour cent.) de toutes les publications en existence. Combinées ensemble l'Europe et l'Amérique du Nord ont une population de 377,390,145 âmes, tandis que le reste du globe en a 1,245,788,016. L'examen découvre que les habitants des deux grandes divisions nommées jouissent des influences fécondes des journaux dans la proportion d'une publication pour 11,809 individus dans leurs limites. Admettons que chaque famille se compose de six personnes, il paraît qu'en Europe et dans l'Amérique du Nord le bureau de publication d'un journal est en pleine opération pour le bénéfice de deux mille familles. Les autres grandes divisions, l'Asie, l'Afrique, l'Amérique du Sud et l'Australie, avec une population de plus de 1,200,000,000, et avec 2,317 publications seulement sont beaucoup moins favorisées, puisqu'on ne trouve dans les limites de leur immense territoire qu'un seul journal pour 537,673 habitants—équivalent à une publication pour 89,612 familles.

L'EUROPE COMPARÉE À L'AMÉRIQUE DU NORD.

L'Europe publie plus de deux fois autant de journaux quotidiens que l'Amérique du Nord, celle-là en ayant 2,403 et celle-ci seulement 1,136. De plus la circulation moyenne du journal Européen surpasse celle du journal Nord-Américain de plus de cinquante pour cent. Celle des premiers étant de 6,526, tandis que celle des derniers est de 4,188. Ceci est dû en grande partie aux éditions nombreuses de la Presse de Londres, de Paris, de Manchester, de Liverpool et des autres villes de la Grande Bretagne et du Continent. La circulation moyenne des journaux de Londres est de 44,969; celle de Glasgow est de 38,333; celle d'Edimbourg de 30,013; tandis que la publication quotidienne de Manchester présente la plus haute moyenne du monde, ayant à son crédit 56,666 copies par chaque issue. Les journaux quotidiens du Royaume Uni (202 en tout,) possèdent une circulation moyenne journalière de 19,710 copies; tandis que les Etats-Unis (970 en tout,) n'ont qu'une moyenne journalière de 4,447. Les seuls journaux quotidiens Américains qui approchent en moyenne de ceux des villes Anglaises nommées ci-dessus sont ceux publiés à Boston, à New York et à Brooklyn. Les issues de la Presse journalière de Boston donnent en moyenne 30,261 copies et celles de New York et de Brooklyn 23,550.

Quant à ce qui regarde les publications plus fréquentes que les hebdomadaires et moins que les quotidiennes (y compris celles qui paraissent deux, trois, quatre et cinq fois par semaine et que nous pourrions appeler inter-hebdomadaires pour plus de commodité,) l'Europe laisse l'Amérique à perte de vue, ayant 3,266 publications de cette classe et l'Amérique seulement 271. D'après ceci il devient évident que les Américains n'aiment pas les feuilles qui paraissent entre les dimanches. Ceux qui désirent les nouvelles plus fréquemment qu'une fois par semaine prennent les journaux quotidiens.

Artikel gebraucht wird, nicht allein tägliche und wöchentliche Publikationen, sondern auch monatliche, vierteljährliche, jährliche, und alle anderen einschliesst. Ebenfalls sei bemerkt, dass das Wort „Publikationen“ nur Bezug hat auf periodisch erscheinende Publikationen.

In der ganzen Welt werden 34,274 Zeitungen aller Art herausgegeben. Europa hat den Vorrang in Bezug auf Anzahl, Auflage und Einfluss, indem es 19,557, oder 57.07 pro cent. aller existirenden Publikationen besitzt. Darauf folgt Nord-Amerika mit 12,400, oder 36.16 pro cent. aller Publikationen. In Anbetracht seiner Jugend und der Thatsache, dass seine Bevölkerung über ein Land, mehr als zweimal so gross als Europa, zerstreut ist, kann Amerika wohl zufrieden fühlen mit seinem Stand in der journalistischen Welt. Europa und Nord-Amerika unterhalten 31,957 Zeitungen, so dass für die übrige Menschheit nur 2,317 übrig bleiben. Diese 2,317 vertheilen sich wie folgt: In Asien, 775, oder 2.27 pro cent.; Süd-Amerika, 699, oder 2.05 pro cent.; Australasien 661, oder 1.91 pro cent., und Afrika, 182, oder 0.54 pro cent. Wie ungleich die Zeitungsliteratur über die Welt vertheilt ist, ist augenscheinlich, wenn man bedenkt, dass Europa und Amerika zusammen nur einen Flächenraum von weniger als einem Viertel (22.97 pro cent.) der bewohnbaren Erde einnehmen, und doch enthalten dieselben mehr als neun Zehntel (93.23 pro cent.) aller existirenden Publikationen. Europa und Nord-Amerika haben zusammen eine Bevölkerung von 377,390,145 Seelen, während die übrigen Theile der Welt 1,245,788,016 haben. Eine Berechnung zeigt, dass die erstgenannten Theile den gesegneten Einfluss von einer Zeitung für je 11,809 Personen geniessen. Indem wir die durchschnittliche Zahl einer Familie zu sechs Personen annehmen, so ergibt sich, dass in Europa und Amerika eine Zeitung existirt für das Wohl von je zweitausend Familien. Die übrigen Theile der Welt, Asien, Afrika, Süd-Amerika und Australasien, mit über 1,200,000,000 Einwohnern, und mit nur 2,317 Publikationen, sind nicht so begünstigt, indem in ihren Grenzen nur eine Zeitung für je 537,673 Einwohner existirt, welches gleich ist einer Publikation für jede 89,612 Familien.

EUROPA IM VERGLEICH MIT NORD-AMERIKA.

Eine Prüfung der, im Anfange dieses Artikels erwähnten Tabellen wird einzelne curiose, sowohl wie interessante, Thatsachen ergeben. Unter diesen sei erwähnt, dass Europa zweimal so viele tägliche Zeitungen besitzt als Nord-Amerika,—Ersteres hat 2,403, und Letzteres nur 1,136. Ebenfalls übertrefft die durchschnittliche tägliche Auflage der europäischen Zeitungen die der amerikanischen um mehr als fünfzig pro cent. Erstere beträgt 6,526, während Letztere bloss 4,188 hat. Dies erklärt sich in grossem Maasse, wenn man die grossen Auflagen der Zeitungen von London, Paris, Manchester, Liverpool und anderen Städten Grossbritanniens und des Festlandes in Betracht zieht. Die durchschnittliche Auflage der Londoner Tagesblätter beträgt 44,969; derjenigen von Glasgow, 38,333; derjenigen von Edinburgh, 30,013; während die Auflagen der Manchester Tagesblätter den ersten Rang einnehmen in der Welt, indem sie eine Auflage von 56,666 für jede Ausgabe ergeben. Die täglichen Zeitungen des Vereinigten Königreichs (im Ganzen nur 202 zählend) haben eine durchschnittconoce facilmente lo que está tan desproporcionado en la distribución de la literatura de periodicos por todo el mundo, si se toma en consideracion que la Europa y la America del Norte juntas no cubren sino una area de menos que un cuarto (22.97 por ciento) del globo habitable, y que á pesar de eso poseen mas que la nona decima parte (93.23 por ciento) de todas las publicaciones que existen. La poblacion de la Europa y de la America del Norte juntas es 377,390,145 y la del resto del mundo es 1,245,788,016. Se descubre por medio de esta investigacion que los habitantes de las dos grandes divisiones mencionadas gozan las influencias geniales del periodico en la razon de una publicacion por cada 11,809 individuos dentro de sus limites. Contando la familia proporcional consistir de seis personas, se deduce que en la Europa y la America del Norte una oficina de impreza está en activa operacion por cada dos mil familias. Las grandes divisiones que quedan á saber la Asia, la Africa, la America del Sur y la Australia, con una poblacion de mas que 1,200,000,000, y con no mas que 2,317 publicaciones, están mucho menos favorecidas, pues dentro sus limites no se halla mas que un diario por cada 537,673 habitantes, lo que iguala á una publicacion por cada 89,612 familias.

LA EUROPA COMPARADA CON LA AMERICA DEL NORTE.

Europa publica mas que doble el numero de gacetas diarias de que se publican en la America del Norte—la primera dando salida á 2,403, y la ultima no mas que á 1,136. Tambien la circulacion proporcional de las gacetas diarias europeas sobrepasa la de la America del Norte en mas que cincuenta por ciento, la de la primera siendo 6,526, y la de la segunda 4,188 solamente. Se da razon de eso en las ediciones espesas de la prensa de Lóndres, Paris, Manchester, Liverpool y de otras ciudades continentales y de la Gran Bretaña. La circulacion proporcional de las gacetas diarias de Londres es 44,969, de las de Glasgow 38,333, de las de Edinburgh 30,013, mientras que la publicacion diaria de Manchester toma precendencia del mundo entero en la fila de proporciones, siendo acreditada con 56,666 copias cada una por salida. Las gacetas diarias del Reino unido (el total no siendo mas que 202) poseen una circulacion diaria proporcional de 19,710 copias; mientras que la de los Estados Unidos (rombrando 970) no tiene mas salida diaria proporcional que 4,447 copias. Las unicas gacetas diarias Americanas, que se aproximen cercanamente á las de las ciudades británicas que han sido nombradas, son publicadas en Boston, Nueva York y Brooklyn—las salidas diarias de la prensa de Boston proporcionando 30,261 y las de Nueva York y de Brooklyn 23,550 copias.

En cuanto á las publicaciones que salen mas frecuentemente que una vez por semana y menos frecuentemente que cada dia (incluyéndose en esas las publicaciones que salen dos, tres, cuatro y cinco veces cada semana, que pueden llamarse por conveniencia “intra-semanales,”) la Europa deja la America fuera de vista completamente—dando salida á 3,266 de esa clase en proporcion á 271 publicadas en America. Se ve pues claramente que los Americanos no reciben con gusto las publicaciones que intervienen entre los Domingos. Los que deseen saber lo que hay de nuevo mas frecuentemente que una vez por semana, patrocinan las gacetas diarias. Los mas flegmáticos y los que son menos aprehensivos que las novedades 300,000,000 population, affords each soul but little more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ copies per year.

It is a long stride downward from Europe to the next in rank in this test of popular intelligence. This is South America, whose 30,000,000 people enjoy an annual circulation of not quite 118,000,000 copies, which gives to each inhabitant a trifle less than four numbers per year,—an average of one every three months. This, however, is not so forlorn a record as that furnished by the statistics of Asia and Africa, where more than 1,212,000,000 people receive less than 227,000,000 newspapers per year—which is equivalent to about one-tenth of a copy per annum to each soul, or one copy every ten years to each person. Is there room longer to marvel at the ignorance and superstition of the masses within these broad lands whose united areas cover more than one-half the surface of all terra firma? Distributing the nearly 10,600,000,000 copies annually issued by the entire press, among the 1,623,000,000 inhabitants of the globe, it is found that each person might receive during the year $6\frac{1}{2}$ copies.

It will be possible to glance even cursorily at but a few of the statistics relating to the prominent nations.

THE UNITED STATES.

In numbers of newspapers the United States surpasses all other nations, having herself 11,207—nearly one-third of what the world contains. Of this number 8,674 are weeklies, and 970 dailies. These two classes embrace 86 per cent. of all United States publications—proving how strong the American predilection is for daily and weekly news. The monthly publications of the United States number 1,121, or 10 per cent. of the whole. The remaining 4 per cent. is devoted to tri-weeklies, semi-weeklies, quarterlies, etc. In the bulk of its combined annual circulation, also, the United States press surpasses that of any other nation, it being 2,562,633,569 copies, or over 25 per cent. of the gross circulation annually of the world. The ratio of copies yearly distributable to each inhabitant is 51.06. Two nations only surpass it in this respect—the United Kingdom and Belgium, whose ratios are respectively 64.01, and 59.20. The ratios of other nations are as follows: France, 39.86; Germany, 38.67; Switzerland, 35.18; Netherlands, 31.70; Spain, 14.81; Portugal, 12.82; Sweden and Norway, 12.12; Austria-Hungary, 9.83; Italy, 9.70; Russia, 1.45. The cities of the United States having dailies of large circulation are as follows: New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco and New Orleans. These publish 131 daily newspapers, the gross annual circulation of which reaches nearly 730,000,000 copies, leaving 616,000,000 copies as the annual product of the remaining 839 dailies within the Republic. The average metropolitan daily issues eight copies where the average daily of the smaller cities and towns issues one.

That the Press of the United States has already reached a position of gigantic and far-reaching power is obvious from the foregoing facts. With already the largest number of publications, and the greatest gross annual circulation of any country in the world, this nation bids fair soon to outstrip all rivals in every feature of journalistic enterprise. Even now the great dailies of America's leading cities suffer but little, if anything, in comparison with the older and more pretentious European journals. That the Great

LA VRAIE PIERRE DE TOUCHE DE L'INTELLIGENCE POPULAIRE.

Venant à la vraie pierre de touche de l'intelligence populaire, indiquée par la diffusion des produits de la Presse, les tableaux statistiques montrent une diversité significative et marquée dans les diverses grandes divisions. Par cette épreuve on voit que l'Amérique du Nord occupe le premier rang. Ses presses publient près de 2,800,000,000 de copies par an, équivalant à $36\frac{1}{2}$ copies par chaque habitant dans ses limites. Le pays qui approche le plus de cette circulation se trouve, non pas en Europe, comme on pourrait naturellement le penser, mais dans ce continent—ou cette division plus jeune en civilisation que l'Amérique elle-même—nous voulons dire l'Australie. Ici, parmi une population d'un peu moins de 3,700,000 sont distribués plus de 112,000,000 de journaux imprimés dans le pays dominant environ $30\frac{1}{2}$ de copies par chaque personne. Vraiment le sang parle, surtout le sang Anglo-saxon, même dans la lecture des journaux. L'Australie, la Nouvelle Zélande, et la Tasmanie sont richement douées de belles et puissantes feuilles qui sont disséminées à la volée sur l'étendue de ces terres et sont dûment lues par ces Anglo-Américains dans leur entier. Après l'Australie vient l'Europe la première en rang d'ordre d'intelligence populaire, dont l'immense production annuelle de journaux, de plus de 7,300,000,000 de copies, lorsqu'ils sont également distribués parmi sa population de plus de 300,000,000, donne à chaque âme un peu plus de $24\frac{1}{2}$ de copies par an.

Il y a une grande distance descendante de l'Europe à la prochaine contrée dans cette échelle de l'intelligence populaire. C'est l'Amérique du sud dont les 30,000,000 d'habitants jouissent d'une circulation annuelle de pas tout à fait 118,000,000 de copies, ce qui fournit à chacun une bagatelle d'un peu moins de quatre copies par an, une moyenne de un tous les trois mois. Ceci n'est pas néanmoins un mémoire aussi triste que celui qui est fourni par les statistiques de l'Asie et de l'Afrique dont les habitants au nombre de plus de 1,212,000,000, reçoivent moins de 227,000,000 de journaux par année, ce qui équivaut à à peu près un dixième de copie tous les ans pour chacun, ou une copie dans l'espace de dix ans. Peut-on s'étonner plus long-temps de l'ignorance et de la superstition des masses dans ces vastes régions dont les aires réunies couvrent plus de la moitié de la surface de la terre? Si l'on distribuait les copies de près de 10,600,000,000 publiées annuellement par la presse entière parmi les 1,623,000,000 d'habitants du globe on trouvera que chaque personne pourrait recevoir $6\frac{1}{2}$ copies et demie pendant l'année.

Il ne nous sera possible de jeter un coup d'œil même rapide que sur quelques statistiques se rapportant aux principales nations.

LES ETATS-UNIS.

Les Etats-Unis surpassent toutes les autres nations par le nombre des journaux, ayant dans leur sein 11,207, près d'un tiers de ce que le monde contient. De ce nombre 8,674 sont hebdomadaires et 970 quotidiens. Ces deux classes embrassent 86 pr. ct. de toutes les publications des Etats-Unis—prouvant ainsi la force de la prédilection des Américains pour les nouvelles quotidiennes et hebdomadaires. Les publications mensuelles des Etats-Unis sont au nombre de 1,121 ou 10 pr. ct. du tout. Les 4 pr. ct. restant liche tägliche Auflage von 19,710 Exemplaren; während die der Vereinigten Staaten (970 an der Zahl) eine tägliche Auflage von nur 4,447 haben. Die einzigen amerikanischen Zeitungen, welche einigermaßen die Höhe der Auflagen der genannten britischen Städte erreichen, sind die in Boston, New-York und Brooklyn,—diejenigen in Boston machen im Durchschnitt 30,261, und diejenigen von New-York und Brooklyn, 23,550 Exemplare, aus.

In Bezug auf Publikationen, welche öfters jede Woche, und doch nicht täglich, erscheinen (die da zwei-, drei-, vier-, oder fünfmal wöchentlich herausgegeben werden), wird Amerika weit übertroffen von Europa, indem Europa deren 3,266, und Amerika nur 277 hat. Aus diesem ist ersichtlich, dass die Amerikaner entweder eine tägliche oder wöchentliche Zeitung zu haben wünschen.

DER RICHTIGE MASSTAB POPULÄRER INTELLIGENZ.

Indem wir nun nach dem richtigen Masstabe populärer Intelligenz urtheilen, wie derselbe angedeutet wird in der Vertheilung der Producte der Presse, so zeigen uns die statistischen Tabellen eine bemerkenswerthe und bedeutungsvolle Verschiedenheit in den Hauptabtheilungen. Man wird finden dass Nordamerika den ersten Rang einnimmt im Zeitungswesen im Allgemeinen. In diesem Lande werden jährlich gegen 2,800,000,000 Zeitungen gedruckt, oder 36% Exemplare für jeden Einwohner. Die nächst grösste Anzahl findet man, nicht in Europa, wie man erwarten möchte, sondern in dem Welttheile, der jünger ist in Bezug auf Civilisation als selbst unser Land,—nämlich Australasien. Dasselbst werden, unter einer Population von weniger als 3,700,000, jährlich mehr als 112,000,000 Zeitungen gedruckt und verbreitet, welches ungefähr 30% Exemplare für jeden Einwohner macht. Gewiss, man kann beurtheilen, selbst bei Zeitungen, welche Völker von angelsächsischer Abkunft sind! Australien, Neuseeland und Tasmanien sind reichlich beglückt mit grossen und schönen Zeitungen, welche überall verbreitet sind, und welche mit ächter angelsächsischer Gründlichkeit gelesen werden. Nach Australasien nimmt Europa den nächsten Platz ein in populärer Intelligenz, indem die grosse Auflage der Zeitungen jährlich über 7,300,000,000 Exemplare beträgt, welches, wenn gleichmässig vertheilt unter 300,000,000 Einwohner, für jeden etwas über 24% Exemplare im Jahre ausmacht.

Es ist, nach diesem Masstabe der Intelligenz des Völker, ein grosser Schritt herunterwärts, zu dem Volke, welches den nächsten Platz einnimmt. Dies ist Südamerika, mit seinen 30,000,000 Einwohnern, unter welche die Zahl von 118,000,000 Zeitungen jährlich verbreitet wird, welches nicht ganz vier Exemplare für jeden Einwohner macht,—oder eine Zeitung alle drei Monate. Dies ist aber noch immerhin besser als die Statistiken über Asien und Afrika ergeben, woselbst auf mehr als 1,212,000,000 Einwohner weniger als 227,000,000 Zeitungen jährlich kommen. Dies macht ein Zehntel Exemplar für jeden Einwohner, oder ein Exemplar alle zehn Jahre für jede Person. Können wir uns noch irgendwie wundern über die Unwissenheit und Abergläubigkeit der Einwohner jener grossen Länder, deren vereiniger Flächenraum mehr als die Hälfte der ganzen Welt ausmacht? Wenn man die ganzen 10,600,000,000 Exemplare, welche jährlich auf der ganzen Erde gedruckt werden, vertheilt unter die 1,623,000,000 Bewohner des Erdballs, so findet man, dass auf jede Person jährlich 6% Exemplare kommen.

Wir können nur flüchtig die Statistik überschauen, bezüglich einiger hervorragender Nationen.

puddieren evaporarse ó perder su aroma por quedar embotelladas durante una semana,—esperan la salida del semanal. La parcialidad que el Americano entretiene por su gaceta semanal se manifiesta en las 9,385 publicaciones de esa clase que ahora viven y gozan de prosperidad en su país, mientras que la Europa entera no pueda juntar mas que 7,463 por su catálogo.

LO QUE ES LA VERDADERA PRUEBA DE LA INTELIGENCIA POPULAR.

Llegando á la consideracion de lo que es la verdadera prueba de la inteligencia popular, indicada por la prolijidad de los productos de la prensa, las tablas estadísticas demuestran una diversidad bien significativa y marcada en las varias divisiones grandes, la cual es prueba decisiva que la America del Norte ocupa el primer lugar. Sus prensas dan salida á casi 2,800,000,000 copias anualmente lo que iguala á 36% copias cada año por cada habitante dentro de sus confines. La aproximacion inmediata á eso de ningun modo se encuentra en la Europa, lo que parecería lo mas natural, sino en aquel continente ó aquella division, mas jóven todavia en la civilizacion que la America del Norte, á saber la Australasia. Aquí, entre una poblacion de menos que 3,700,000 se distribuyen mas que 112,000,000 copias cada año de periodicos imprimidos en el país mismo, dándose así hacia 30% copias á cada individuo dentro de sus limites. Verdaderamente, se reconoce la sangre! especialmente la sangre anglo-sajona en la importancia que se da á los periodicos. La Australasia, Nueva Zelanda y Tasmania están abundantemente dotadas de hermosas y ponderosas publicaciones que vuelan á lo lejos sobre aquellos vastos dominios y son examinadas atentamente con el verdadero cuidado Anglo-Americano.

Despues de la Australasia, viene la Europa por lo que toca á la inteligencia popular; y sin embargo, su inmenso producto anual de periodicos, nombrando mas que 7,300,000,000 copias, distribuyéndose entre una poblacion de mas que 300,000,000 almas, no da sino poco mas que 24% copias anuales á cada individuo.

Y ahora se debe dar un paso largo por abajo de la Europa al proximo en la fila en esa prueba de la inteligencia popular. Llegamos á la America del Sur, cuya poblacion de 30,000,000 almas goza una circulacion de casi 118,000,000 copias, dándose así á cada habitante una bagatela menos que cuatro numeros cada año—siendo eso una proporcion de una copia cada trimestre. Como quiera que sea, no es eso razon tan desesperada como la que se lee en las estadísticas de la Asia y de la Africa, en donde mas que 1,212,000,000 almas reciban menos que 227,000,000 periodicos cada año, un equivalente de cerca de una decima parte de una copia anual ó una copia cada diez años por cada individuo. Hay lugar pues á maravillarse de la ignorancia y la supersticion del pueblo en estos tremendos dominios, cuyas areas colectivas cubren mas que una mitad de la superficie de toda la tierra del globo? Distribuyendo uno las cerca de 10,600,000,000 copias que salen anualmente de la prensa entera del mundo, entre los 1,623,000,000 habitantes del globo, se verá que cada persona pudiera recibir 6% copias anualmente.

No podremos examinar sino pasajeroamente algunas estadísticas que se refieren á las naciones prominentes.

LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS.

Por lo que toca al numero de periodicos, los Esta-

Republic is destined to stand at the forefront of the column of nations in respect of all that makes the newspaper powerful for the greatest good to the greatest number, is a foregone conclusion which waits but a few years for its realization.

THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

In justice to Great Britain it may well be said, and from an American standpoint, where magnanimity finds nothing either in the past or prospectively in the future to make it desire to be anything but generous to the mother country, it may cheerfully be said, that to-day the Press of the United Kingdom stands as the centre of the newspaper world. Not so is it, indeed, either in numbers of journals or in magnitude of combined circulations, but in that undeniable prestige and wide spread influence which are recognized and felt even to the uttermost parts of the earth. No other publications extant are so royal as a whole in their individual circulations, or so habitually quoted by the Press, or give utterance to opinions so studiously considered by the world at large, as if freighted with invaluable thought.

Of the daily publications of the United Kingdom there are only 202, but as a class these are full of merit, and many of them deserve to be called magnificent. The cities of London, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Dublin contain 70 daily journals, which annually distribute nearly 832,000,000 copies, leaving but little over 400,000,000 as the product of the remaining 132 daily offices.

The whole number of British publications is 4,082 (from which annually emanate more than 2,262,000,000 copies), of which 4.95 per cent. are dailies, 47.82 per cent. weeklies, 28.02 per cent. monthlies, 8.03 per cent. annuals, 4.07 per cent. quarterlies, and 7.11 per cent. are of other periods of publication. The average circulation of the British newspaper is 7,321 copies for each issue—the average issue of the dailies being 19,710; weeklies, 7,390; monthlies, 6,662; quarterlies, 2,673. The ratio of copies annually distributable to each inhabitant of the United Kingdom is 64.01—being larger than that of any other nation. It is noteworthy that the daily press of Great Britain and of the United States, combined, number 1,172, or 29.20 per cent. of all in existence; while their united annual circulation of about 2,600,000,000 copies is 40.04 per cent. of the whole annual circulation of all dailies.

London stands conspicuous as having a greater number of publications of all kinds than any other city upon the globe. Her grand list foots up 1,962. Other chief cities have as follows: Paris, 1,553; New York and Brooklyn, 587; Berlin, 536; Vienna, 483; Madrid, 253; Brussels, 233; Rome, 213; St. Petersburg, 183. The gross annual circulation of all London publications reaches nearly 1,017,000,000 copies, of which 48.44 per cent. comes from her daily press, 38.78 per cent. from her weekly, and the remainder (12.78 per cent.) from miscellaneous issues.

THE GERMAN EMPIRE.

Next in numerical importance after the press of the United States stands that of the German Empire, whose total list shows 5,529 publications. Of these 15.60 per cent. are dailies, 24.15 per cent. weeklies, 19.36 per cent. semi-weeklies, 12.84 per cent. tri-weeklies, 9.38 per cent. monthlies, and 8.67 per cent.

sont dévoués aux journaux qui paraissent deux ou trois fois par semaine, une fois tous les trois mois, etc. Dans la masse de la circulation annuelle combinée ainsi, la presse des Etats-Unis surpasse celle de toutes les autres nations, étant de 2,562,633,569 copies ou plus de 25 pr. ct. de la circulation totale annuelle du monde. La proportion annuelle des copies que l'on peut distribuer à chaque habitant est de 51.06. Deux nations seulement les surpassent à cet égard. Le Royaume-Uni et la Belgique dont la proportion respective est de 64.01 et de 59.20. La proportion des autres nations est la suivante. La France, 39.86; l'Allemagne, 38.67; la Suisse, 35.18; les Pays-Bas 31.70; l'Espagne, 14.81; le Portugal, 12.82; la Suède et la Norvège, 12.12; l'Autro-Hongrie, 9.83; l'Italie, 9.70; la Russie, 1.45. Les villes des Etats-Unis ayant des journaux quotidiens de grande circulation sont les suivantes: New York, Philadelphie, Brooklyn, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco et la Nouvelle Orléans. Ces villes publient 131 journaux quotidiens dont la circulation annuelle monte à près de 730,000,000 de copies, laissant 616,000,000 de copies, comme le produit annuel du reste des 839 journaux quotidiens dans la république. La proportion moyenne de la presse quotidienne métropolitaine publie huit copies, où la proportion moyenne des villes moindres en population n'en publie qu'un.

Que la Presse des Etats-Unis a déjà atteint une position gigantesque et un pouvoir transcendant devient évident par les faits précédents. Déjà avec le plus grand nombre de publications, et la plus grande circulation annuelle en gros de tous les pays du monde, cette nation a l'apparence de devoir devancer ses rivales dans tous les points de l'entreprise journalistique. Même à présent, les grands journaux des principales villes souffrent peu ou point dans leur comparaison avec les journaux Européens plus vieux et avec de plus grandes prétentions. Que la grande République soit destinée à marcher en tête de la colonne des nations à l'égard de tout ce qui rend un journal puissant pour le plus grand bien du plus grand nombre, est une conclusion forcée dont la réalisation n'attendra qu'un petit nombre d'années.

LE ROYAUME-UNI DE LA GRANDE BRETAGNE ET DE L'IRLANDE.

Pour rendre justice à la Grande-Bretagne on peut bien dire, même d'un point de vue américain, où la magnanimité ne trouve rien dans le passé ni dans la perspective du futur pour lui faire désirer d'être peu généreuse envers la mère-patrie, on peut dire avec satisfaction que, aujourd'hui, la Presse du Royaume-Uni se trouve au centre du monde journaliste. Il n'en est pas de même, en vérité, soit en nombre de journaux ou en grandeur de circulations combinées, mais dans ce prestige incontestable et cette influence étendue qui sont reconnus et sentis dans les parties les plus éloignées de la terre. Nulle autre publication en existence n'est aussi royale dans les circulations individuelles ni si habituellement citée par la Presse, ni ne prononce des opinions si studieusement considérées par le monde en général comme chargées de pensées inappréciables.

Il n'y a que 202 publications quotidiennes dans le Royaume-Uni, mais comme une classe, elles sont pleines de mérite et plusieurs d'entr'elles sont dignes d'être appelées magnifiques. Les villes de Londres, de Liverpool, de Manchester, de Glasgow, d'Edim-

DIE VEREINIGTEN STAATEN.

Bezüglich der Anzahl der Zeitungen übertreffen die Vereinigten Staaten alle anderen Nationen, indem es hier 11,207, beinahe ein Drittel aller Publikationen der ganzen Welt giebt. Von diesen sind 8,674 wöchentliche, und 970 tägliche Zeitungen. Diese zwei Klassen machen 86 pro cent. aller ihrer Publikationen aus,—welches zeigt, welchen Vorzug der Amerikaner den täglichen und wöchentlichen Zeitungen giebt. Die monatlichen Publikationen belaufen sich auf 1,121, oder 10 pro cent. des Ganzen. Die übrigen 4 pro cent. bestehen aus zwei- und dreiwöchentlichen und vierteljährlichen Zeitschriften, etc. In Bezug auf die jährlichen Auflagen zusammen genommen, übertreffen die Vereinigten Staaten ebenfalls alle andern Länder, indem hier 2,562,633,569 Exemplare, oder mehr als 25 pro cent. der ganzen Publikationen der ganzen Welt, verbreitet werden. Das Verhältniss der Publikationen pro Jahr beträgt für jeden Einwohner 51.06. Zwei Nationen nur zeigen ein besseres Verhältniss, nämlich das Vereinigte Königreich, mit 64.01, und Belgien, mit 59.20. Das Verhältniss der andern Reiche ist wie folgt: Frankreich, 39.86; Deutschland, 38.67; Schweiz, 35.18; Niederlande, 31.70; Spanien, 14.81; Portugal, 12.82; Schweden und Norwegen, 12.12; Oesterreich-Ungarn, 9.83; Italien, 9.70; Russland, 1.45. Die Städte der Vereinigten Staaten, welche tägliche Zeitungen mit grossen Auflagen haben, sind: New-York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco und New-Orleans. Diese Städte publiciren 131 tägliche Zeitungen, welche zusammen eine jährliche Auflage von nahezu 730,000,000 Exemplaren haben, welches, als die jährliche Auflage der übrigen 839 Zeitungen der Republik, 616,000,000 Exemplare übrig lässt. Die durchschnittliche tägliche Auflage der Zeitungen der Grossstädte ist im Verhältniss von drei zu eins in den kleineren Städten.

Dass die Presse der Vereinigten Staaten schon eine grosse und weitreichende Kraft entwickelt hat, ist aus Obigem ersichtlich. Indem dies Land schon jetzt die grösste Anzahl von Publikationen, und die grösste jährliche Auflage irgend eines Landes der Welt hat, ist die Aussicht vorhanden, dass dasselbe in jeder Beziehung, in journalistischen Unternehmungen, alle Länder der Welt übertreffen wird. Selbst jetzt schon stehen die leitenden Tagesblätter Amerika's den alten und begründeten Blättern Europa's nur wenig oder gar nichts nach. Dass die grosse Republik bestimmt ist, an der Spitze aller Nationen zu stehen, hinsichtlich der Macht und des Einflusses der Zeitung über die grössten Massen des Volks, ist eine begründete Thatsache, welche in nur wenigen Jahren ihre volle Verwirklichung finden wird.

DAS VEREINIGTE KÖNIGREICH GROSSBRITANNIEN UND IRLAND.

Man mag billigerweise wohl sagen von Grossbritannien—und vom amerikanischen Standpunkte aus, wo man weder in der Vergangenheit noch in der Zukunft irgend etwas findet, welches andere Gefühle, als die des Wohlwollens und der Freundschaft erweckt, sagen wir es gerne,—dass heute die Presse des Vereinigten Königreichs im Centrum der Zeitungswelt steht. Dies ist zwar nicht gerade der Fall in Bezug auf die Anzahl der Journale, oder die Grösse ihrer vereinigten Auflage, aber doch in deren nicht zu verleugnendem Einfluss und Vorrang, welcher anerkannt und gefühlt wird in den entferntesten Theilen der Welt. Keine andere Publikationen sind so erhaben in ihrer Verbreitung, oder so allgemein erwähnt von der Presse, und die Meinungen keiner andern werden so von der Welt im Allgemeinen respectirt, als ob sie von der unschätzbaren Gedankentiefe begleitet wären.

An täglichen Publikationen besitzt das Vereinigte Königreich nur 202, aber im Allgemeinen sind dieselben sehr vollkommen, und manche können ausgezeichnet genannt werden. Die Städte London, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, Edinburgh und Dublin besitzen 70 Tagesblätter, mit einer jährlichen Auflage von nahezu 832,000,000 Exemplaren; welches nur wenig mehr als 400,000,000 übrig lässt als die Erzeugnisse der übrigen 132 Zeitungen.

Die ganze Anzahl der britischen Publikationen beträgt 4,082, (welche jährlich mehr als 2,262,000,000 Exemplare herausgeben,) wovon 4.95 pro cent. tägliche, 47.82 pro cent. wöchentliche, 28.02 pro cent.

dos Unidos sobresalen todas las otras naciones, contando 11,207—cerca de una tercera parte de los que contiene el mundo entero. De ese numero hay 8,674 semanales y 970 diarios. Esas dos clases cubren 86 por cientos de todas las publicaciones de los Estados Unidos, dando una prueba eclatante de la predileccion Americana por noticias diarias y semanales. Las publicaciones mensuales de los Estados Unidos numeran 1,121 ó 10 por ciento del total. Los 4 por ciento que quedan se distribuyen entre tri-semanales, semi-semanales, tri-mestrales, &c. En cuanto al volumen de su circulacion anual entera, la prensa de los Estados Unidos sobresale la de cualquiera otra nacion, siendo 2,562,633,569 copias, ó mas que 25 por ciento de la circulacion anual del mundo entero. La proporcion de copias distribuidas anualmente á cada habitante es 51.06. No hay mas que dos naciones que sobresalen en ese respecto—la Gran Bretaña y la Bélgica, cuyas proporciones respectivas son 64.01 y 59.20. Las proporciones de otras naciones son como sigue: La Francia 39.86, la Alemania 38.67; la Suiza 35.18; los Países Bajos 31.70; la España 14.81; el Portugal 12.82; la Suecia y la Noruega 12.12; la Hungría-Austria 9.83 la Italia 9.70; la Rusia 1.45. Esas son las ciudades de los Estados Unidos publicando gacetas diarias de vasta circulacion: Nueva York, Filadelfia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco y Nueva Orleans. Esas ciudades publican 131 gacetas diarias, la circulacion total de las cuales alcanze casi 730,000,000 copias anuales, dejando 616,000,000 copias á ser la produccion anual de las 839 gacetas diarias que quedan en la Republica. La gaceta diaria de la metropoli proporcional da salida á ocho copias y la de las ciudades mas pequeñas y de las villas publica una copia.

Considerando pues las datas precedentes, no se puede poner en duda que la prensa de los Estados Unidos ya ha llegado á una posicion de influencia y poder gigantesco y de largas extensiones. Da promesa esa nacion, que ya se precia en el número mas grande de publicaciones, y la circulacion total mas grande de todos los países del mundo de dejar atras todos sus rivales en toda forma de empresa diaristica. Ahora mismo las prominentes gacetas diarias de la America del Norte pierden muy poco, casi nada, en comparacion con las mas antiguas y mas pretenciosas publicaciones Europeas. Es una consecuencia bien establecida, pues es sacada por las premisas, que la Gran Republica es señalada á ocupar el primer puesto en la fila de las naciones, en todo lo que contribuye á hacer la gaceta poderosa por el bien mas grande y el numero mas extensivo, y esa consecuencia no requiere sino pocos años para realizarse.

EL REINO UNIDO DE LA GRAN BRETAÑA Y LA IRLANDA.

Con justicia á la Gran Bretaña se puede bien decir, y, de un punto de vista Americano, en el cual nada se encuentra ni en el pasado, ni prospectivamente en el porvenir, que pudiese formar un motivo para ser algo generoso con la patria, se puede decir con gusto y con placer, que en esta fecha la Prensa del Reino de la Gran Bretaña ocupa el puesto central del mundo de los periodicos. No pudiera decirse eso en efecto relativamente al numero de las gacetas ó periodicos, ni con referencia á lo que toca á la circulacion total, sino mas bien en cuanto al prestigio incontestable y á la influencia vastamente divulgada ambas las cuales están reconocidas y sentidas hasta las partes mas estremas del mundo. No existen otras publicaciones tan ilustres en sus circulaciones individuales, ó que están citadas tan uniformemente por la Prensa, ó aun que dan expresion á opiniones las cuales el mundo entero considera tan estudiosamente, como si fuesen cargadas con juicios inestimables.

No hay mas que 202 publicaciones diarias en el reino de la Gran Bretaña, pero la mayor parte de ellas tienen un mérito repleto, y muchas con justicia se pueden llamar magnificas. Las ciudades de Londres, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, Edinburgh, y Dublin contienen 70 gacetas diarias, las cuales dan salida á casi 832,000,000 copias anualmente; no dejando así sino poco mas que 400,000,000 para la produccion de las 132 imprentas que quedan.

El número total de publicaciones de la Gran Bretaña es 4,082, (las cuales dan salida anualmente á mas miscellaneous issues. The German press is noted for the great variety of its periods of publication, its issues showing no less than thirty-two different intervals between dates or times of publication. It is noteworthy, however, that 4,046 (75 per cent.) of all its journals appear either once a week or more frequently. It is also a remarkable fact that about 95 per cent. of the whole German press editions comes from its dailies, weeklies and inter-weeklies. This appears the more singular since eminent German scholarship and broad university influences would seem naturally to encourage a liberal reading especially of literary and scientific magazines and quarterlies. The German press occupies a high position of influence upon the continent of Europe. Many of its dailies are distinguished for editorial ability, and their political power is wide-spread. While not so thoroughly unshackled by official restraint as the press of either the United States or Great Britain, yet the journals of the Empire enjoy a large measure of freedom, which they do not hesitate to exercise liberally. The German masses read habitually and are careful thinkers; and the press of no nation in the world is consulted more uniformly or is more highly honored by its own people than that of the German Empire.

THE REPUBLIC OF FRANCE.

That "Paris is France" is as true when speaking of her journals as of her politics. Almost one-half the entire press of the Republic is concentrated within its capital. Out of 3,265 journals in all the Republic, Paris has 1,553. Its dailies, numbering 132, give out an annual circulation of very nearly 900,000,000 copies, while all French dailies beyond its limits issue but 325,000,000. The combined press of Paris enjoys the distinction of having the largest aggregate annual circulation of any city in the world. Her press product is nearly 1,100,000,000 copies per year. The nearest approach to this by any other city is found in London, whose annual out-put is a little less than 1,017,000,000 copies. New York and Brooklyn, with a combined population nearly equal to that of Paris, receive annually from their home press a few more than 516,000,000 copies. In the number of its daily publications (132) Paris by far excels any other city. London has but 35, New York and Brooklyn 36, Berlin 47, Vienna 28. All England proper (outside of London) issues but 119 daily newspapers; while the ten leading and most populous cities of the United States (having an aggregate population of 4,875,000) possess but 131 daily publications. The journalistic products of Paris amount annually to almost one-tenth of the product of the entire press of the globe.

While the daily press of France, in numbers, is but 21.12 per cent. of its whole list, yet the annual gross product of its dailies is 78.15 per cent. of the aggregate annual issues of all classes. The weeklies of France number 1,505, or 46.70 per cent. of its total list; but the annual circulation of all its weeklies combined is but 14 per cent. of the product of the entire press of the Republic.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

In one feature the Austro-Hungarian newspapers are peculiarly distinguished. They are printed in a greater variety of languages than is to be found in the press of any other nation. Considering the political and religious embarrassments which have beset bourg, et de Dublin contiennent 70 journaux qui distribuent annuellement 832,000,000 de copies, ne laissant qu'un peu plus de 400,000,000 comme le produit des 132 autres bureaux.

Le nombre total des publications Britanniques est de 4,082 (d'où émanent annuellement plus de 2,262,000,000 de copies) dont 4.95 pr. ct. sont quotidiens; 47.82 pr. ct. sont hebdomadaires; 28.02 pr. ct. mensuels; 8.03 pr. ct. annuels; 4.07 pr. ct. trimestriels, et 7.11 pr. ct. d'autres périodes de publication. La circulation moyenne des journaux anglais est de 7,321 copies par chaque issue—l'issue moyenne des quotidiens étant de 19,710; des hebdomadaires 7,390, des mensuels de 6,662, des trimestriels 2,729. La proportion des copies à distribuer à chaque habitant du royaume-Uni annuellement est de 64.01 ce qui donne une plus grande proportion qu'aucune autre nation. Il est digne de remarque que la presse journalière de la Grande Bretagne et celle des Etats-Unis combinées, montent à 1,172 ou à 29.20 pr. ct. de toutes les autres en existence; tandis que leur circulation annuelle réunie d'environ 2,600,000,000 de copies est 40.04 pour cent du montant total de la circulation de tous les journaux quotidiens.

Londres est remarquable comme ayant un plus grand nombre de publications de toutes les sortes qu'aucune autre ville sur le globe. Sa grande liste donne 1,962 comme total. Les autres villes-capitales donnent comme suit: Paris, 1,553; New-York et Brooklyn, 587; Berlin, 536; Vienne 483; Madrid, 253; Bruxelles, 233; Rome, 213; St. Petersbourg, 183. La circulation annuelle de toutes les publications de Londres atteint presque 1,017,000,000 de copies; dont 48.44 pour pr. ct. vient de sa presse quotidienne; 38.78 pr. ct. de ses hebdomadaires, et le reste 12.78 pr. ct. d'issues mélangées.

EMPIRE GERMANIQUE.

Après les Etats-Unis vient, en importance numérique celle de l'empire Germanique dont la liste totale montre 5,529 publications. Des journaux 15.60 pr. ct. sont quotidiens; 24.15 pr. ct. hebdomadaires; 19.36 pr. ct. semi-hebdomadaires; 12.84 pr. ct. paraissant trois fois par semaines, 9.38 pr. ct. sont mensuels, et 18.67 pour cent sont issues irrégulièrement. La presse allemande est notable pour la grande variété de ses périodes de publications; les issues ne montrant pas moins de trente deux intervalles différents entre les dates des publications. Il est digne de remarque, toutefois, que 4.06 (75 pr. ct.) de tous les journaux paraissent une fois par semaine ou plus fréquemment. C'est aussi un fait remarquable que 95 pr. ct. de toutes les éditions de la presse Allemande viennent de ses journaux quotidiens, hebdomadaires ou inter-hebdomadaires. Ceci semble d'autant plus singulier que l'érudition éminente des Allemands et les grandes influences des Universités devraient naturellement, à ce qu'il semble, encourager une lecture assez générale des magazines littéraires et scientifiques. La Presse allemande occupe une position élevée d'influence sur le continent de l'Europe. Plusieurs de leurs journaux quotidiens, notamment, sont édités avec une habileté singulière et leur puissance politique se fait ressentir au loin. Quoiqu'ils ne soient pas aussi complètement libres d'entraves officielles que la presse des Etats-Unis ou de l'Angleterre, cependant les journaux de l'empire jouissent d'une grande mesure de liberté dont ils n'hésitent pas à user dans sa plus grande étendue. Les masses Germaniques sont des lecteurs habituels et des penseurs soigneux et la presse d'aucune nation n'est plus complètement consultée ni honorée plus hautement par son peuple que ne l'est celle de l'empire Germanique.

RÉPUBLIQUE DE FRANCE.

Que "Paris est la France" est aussi vrai en parlant de ses journaux qu'autrement. Près de la moitié de la Presse entière de la République est concentrée dans la capitale. Des 3,265 journaux de toute la République Paris en a 1,553. Ses quotidiens, au nombre de 132, donnent une circulation de très-près de 900,000,000, tandis que tous les journaux quotidiens hors de ses limites ne publient que 325,000,000. La presse combinée de Paris jouit de la haute distinction d'avoir une plus grande circulation annuelle que celle d'aucune des autres capitales du monde. Le produit de sa presse est de presque 1,100,000,000 par an. La ville qui approche le plus de ce nombre est Londres dont l'issue annuelle de ses journaux monte monatliche, 8.03 pro cent. jährliche, 4.07 pro cent. vierteljährliche, und 7.11 pro cent. andere Publikationen sind. Die durchschnittliche Auflage jeder Zeitung beträgt 7,321 Exemplare für jede Ausgabe. Die durchschnittliche Auflage der Tagesblätter beträgt 19,710; der Wochenblätter, 7,390; der Monatschriften, 6,662; der Vierteljahrsschriften, 2,673. Das Verhältniss per Jahr ist 64.01 für jeden Einwohner des Landes, — mehr als in irgend einem anderen Lande. Es ist bemerkenswerth, dass die Tagespresse des Vereinigten Königreichs und der Vereinigten Staaten zusammen sich auf 1,172 belaufen, oder 29.20 pro cent. aller Tagesblätter der Welt; während ihre vereinigte jährliche Auflage ungefähr 2,600,000,000 ausmacht, welches 40.04 pro cent. der ganzen jährliche Auflage aller Tagesblätter bildet.

London ist allen anderen Städten der Welt voraus, indem es die grösste Anzahl der verschiedensten Zeitungen besitzt. Die Liste von London zählt 1,962. Die Listen anderer grossen Städte sind wie folgt: Paris, 1,553; New-York und Brooklyn, 587; Berlin, 536; Wien, 483; Madrid, 253; Brüssel, 233; Rom, 213; St. Petersburg, 183. Die ganze jährliche Auflage aller Londoner Publikationen ist beinahe 1,017,000,000 Exemplare; wovon 48.44 pro cent. auf die Auflage der Tagesblätter, 38.73 pro cent. auf die Auflage der Wochenblätter, und die übrigen 12.78 pro cent. auf andere Publikationen kommen.

DAS DEUTSCHE KAISERREICH.

Bezüglich der Anzahl der Zeitungen steht, nach den Vereinigten Staaten, das Deutsche Reich am höchsten, indem die Listen desselben 5,529 Publikationen aufweisen. Von diesen sind 15.60 pro cent. tägliche, 24.15 pro cent. wöchentliche, 19.36 pro cent. zwei-wöchentliche, 12.84 pro cent. drei-wöchentliche, 0.38 pro cent. monatliche, und 18.67 pro cent. andere Publikationen. Die deutsche Presse zeichnet sich aus durch die grosse Verschiedenheit in den Zeiträumen ihrer Publikationen, indem ihre Zeitschriften nicht weniger als zweiunddreissig verschiedene Zeitperioden geben, in welchen dieselben publizirt werden. Es ist aber bemerkenswerth, dass 4,046 (75 pro cent.) aller ihrer Publikationen entweder einmal jede Woche oder öfter erscheinen. Ebenfalls ist es eine bemerkenswerthe Thatsache, dass 95 pro cent. der ganzen Auflage der deutschen Presse aus Tages- und Wochenblättern besteht. Dies ist um so auffälliger, da man doch erwarten würde, dass die deutsche Gelehrsamkeit und der Einfluss der grossen Universitäten das Lesen literarischer und wissenschaftlicher Publikationen beeinflussen und befördern würde. Die deutsche Presse nimmt einen hohen und einflussreichen Platz ein in Europa. Manche ihrer Tagesblätter besonders werden mit grosser Thätigkeit redigirt, und haben einen weitgehenden politischen Einfluss. Während sie wohl nicht so frei sind von officieller Aufsicht, wie die Zeitungen der Vereinigten Staaten und England, so geniessen sie doch ein grosses Mass von Freiheit, wovon sie auch den besten Gebrauch machen. Die Massen des deutschen Volkes sind aufmerksame Leser und ernste Denker, und die Presse keines anderen Volkes in der Welt wird öfter befragt, oder höher geschätzt, von dem betreffenden Volke, als die Presse des Deutschen Reiches.

DIE REPUBLIK FRANKREICH.

Dass „Paris ist Frankreich“ ist so wahr in Bezug auf seine Publikationen, als in politischer Hinsicht. Beinahe die Hälfte der ganzen Presse der Republik ist in ihrer Hauptstadt. Aus 3,265 in der ganzen Republik, hat Paris 1,553 Publikationen. Die Tagesblätter von Paris, 132 zählend, haben eine jährliche Auflage von 900,000,000, während alle Anderen im Lande nur 325,000,000 haben. Die vereinigte Presse von Paris hat den Ruhm, die grösste jährliche Auflage irgend einer Stadt der Welt zu haben. Die Produkte der Pariser Presse belaufen sich auf nahezu 1,100,000,000 Exemplare pro Jahr. London kömmt dieser Zahl am nächsten, indem sie jährlich etwas weniger als 1,017,000,000 Exemplare publizirt. New-York und Brooklyn zusammen, mit einer Bevölkerung von beinahe der Grösse der Bevölkerung von Paris, publiziren jährlich nur etwas mehr als 516,000,000 Exemplare. In der Anzahl der täglichen Publikationen (132), übertrifft Paris ebenfalls alle andern Städte der Welt. London hat nur 35, New-York und Brooklyn 26, Berlin 47, Wien 28. Das ganze England (London ausgenommen) hat nur 119 tägliche Zeitque 2,262,000,000 copias,) de las cuales 4.95 por ciento salen diariamente; 47.82 por ciento semanalmente; 28.02 por ciento mensualmente; 8.03 por ciento anualmente; 4.07 por ciento trimestralmente, y 7.11 por ciento son de otros periodos de publicacion. La circulacion proporcional de la gaceta Britanica es 7.321 copias por salida; la salida proporcional de las gacetas diarias siendo 19,710; de las semanales 7,390; de las mensuales 6,662; de las trimestrales 2,673. La razon de copias, distribuidas anualmente á cada habitante del Reino Unido de la Gran Bretaña es 64.01, asi haciéndola mas grande que la de cualquiera otra nacion. Es digno de consideracion especial que las gacetas diarias de la Gran Bretaña y de los Estados Unidos, juntas, numeran 1,172, ó 29.20 por ciento de todas las que existen; mientras que la circulacion total de los dos paises de cerca de 2,600,000,000 copias es 40.04 por ciento de la entera circulacion anual de todas las gacetas diarias.

La ciudad de Londres es eminentemente el punto central del cual salen un número mas grande de publicaciones de todas clases, que de cualquier otro del mundo. Su lista total alcanza 1,962. Otras ciudades prominentes contienen como sigue: Paris 1,553, Nueva York y Brooklyn 587; Berlin 536; Viena 483; Madrid 253; Bruselas 233; Roma 213; St. Petersburgo 183. La circulacion total en el año de todas las publicaciones de la ciudad de Londres es casi 1,017,000,000 copias; de la cual 48.44 por ciento pertenece á su prensa diaria; 38.78 por ciento á sus semanales, y el residuo (12.78 por ciento) á las publicaciones de salida de varios periodos.

EL IMPERIO ALEMAN.

La prensa del Imperio Aleman sigue á la de los Estados Unidos en lo que toca á la importancia numerica. Su lista total revela 5,529 publicaciones. De esas 15.60 por ciento son diarias; 24.15 por ciento son semanales; 19.36 por ciento semi-semanales; 12.84 por ciento tri-semanales; 0.38 por ciento mensuales, y 18.67 por ciento de salidas de diferentes periodos. La prensa Aleman es notada por la gran diversidad de los periodos de salida de sus publicaciones, lo que demuestra nada menos que treinta y dos diferente intervalos entre las fechas ó periodos de publicacion. A pesar de eso es digno de ser mencionado, que 4,046 (75 por ciento) de todas sus publicaciones salen ó una vez por semana ó con mas frecuencia. Igualmente es un dato notable, que 95 por ciento de las salidas de la entera prensa Aleman resulta de sus gacetas diarias, semanales y intra-semanales. Parece eso lo mas sorprendente, en vista de que la eminente educacion literaria de la Alemania y las liberales influencias emanando de las Universidades claramente parecen muy á propósito á infundir ánimo á un patrocinio liberal mas especialmente de las publicaciones literarias y cientificas y de las trimestrales. La prensa Aleman ocupa una posicion de influencia eminente sobre el Continente de la Europa. Muchas de sus gacetas diarias, particularmente, son manejadas con profunda habilidad y su influencia politica, se extiende colosalmente. No está tan completamente desaprovechada del refinamiento oficial como la prensa de los Estados Unidos ó la de la Gran Bretaña, pero á pesar de eso las gacetas del Imperio gozan de una libertad respetable, la que no dejan de emplear de lleno. El pueblo Aleman lee por habito y son pensadores diligentes, y la prensa de ninguna nacion del mundo es mas enteramente escudriñada ó mas profundamente honrada por su pueblo mismo que la prensa del Imperio Aleman.

REPUBLICA DE FRANCIA.

Es igualmente la verdad que „París es la Francia“ tratándose de sus periódicos como de cualquiera otra cosa. Casi la mitad de todas las publicaciones de la Republica es concentrada en su Capital. De un total de 3,265 París contiene 1,553. Sus gacetas diarias, nombrando 132, tienen una circulacion anual de cerca de 900,000,000, mientras que todas las gacetas diarias, fuera de sus limites no dan salida á mas que 325,000,000. La juntada prensa de París goza de la distincion de tener la mas grande circulacion agregada por año de todas las ciudades del mundo. La produccion de su prensa es casi 1,100,000,000 copias anuales. La aproximacion mas cerca á esa circulacion se encuentra en Londres, cuya salida anual consiste de 1,017,000,000 copias. Nueva York y Brooklyn, con una poblacion unida casi igual á la de París, reciben anualmente de su prensa local poco mas que 516,000,000 copias. En its path, the press of this nation has made commendable progress. Its 1,803 publications include 150 dailies, 180 inter-weeklies, 584 weeklies, 432 semi- and tri-monthlies, 338 monthlies, and 119 of all other classes. Its annual newspaper product is 371,101,575 copies.

SPAIN.

This ancient kingdom, with a population exceeding 16,000,000, sustains 750 newspapers, of which 220 are published daily, 389 weekly, and 141 at various other periods. The publications of Madrid, 253 in number, embrace one-third of all within the kingdom, and their gross annual circulation, over 126,000,000 copies, exceeds one-half the gross circulation of the combined Spanish press. The newspaper enterprise of Spain, especially of Madrid, is making fair progress. Its journals are growing in circulation and influence, and many of them are typographically remarkably handsome.

ITALY, SWITZERLAND AND OTHERS.

Space will not admit an extended detailed examination of the publications of separate nations. A glance at each as they pass must suffice.

Italy, famous for its ancient literature, is not signalized for its modern. Its entire list embraces 1,174 publications, of which 148 appear daily, 88 are inter-weeklies, 450 weeklies, 256 monthlies, and the remainder appear at different intervals. Her annual press product is about 270,000,000 copies. Milan, with 140 newspapers, receives therefrom 95,000,000 copies per annum; while Rome, with 213 journals, receives less than half the circulation of the Milan press, in the same time.

Switzerland supports 512 newspapers, among which are 68 dailies. Her presses give to the people annually more than 100,000,000 copies. Her journals are printed chiefly in French and German, Helvetia having no language peculiar to itself.

Russia's immense domain, with a population of 85,000,000, dwarfs the press of that Empire into comparative insignificance. Its list of publications embraces but 454 journals, whose annual product of 124,000,000 copies is less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ copies per annum to each inhabitant within its broad domain. In St. Petersburg are published 26 dailies, and in Moscow 9, whose combined annual circulation is over 87,600,000 copies. Beyond the limits of the two cities named, and of Warsaw, the press of Russia may be described as in an inchoate state, with large possibilities before it.

Sweden and Norway unitedly possess 484 publications, but 31 of which appear daily. Stockholm, Christiania and Göteborg sustain several very able and widely-circulated journals. The literature of the kingdom is distinguished for its purity of morals and for its scholarly treatment of all political, social and literary topics. The gross annual circulation of all its publications is not quite 80,000,000 copies.

Belgium, most densely populated of all European nations, maintains an able and widely diffused newspaper literature. Five hundred and ninety-one publications give to her people annually about 325,000,000 copies. In the number of copies distributable annually to its population, Belgium ranks next to Great Britain, and is in advance of the United States—its ratio, per capita, being 59.20. Brussels fur-à un peu moins de 1,017,000,000 de copies. New York et Brooklyn, avec une population combinée presque égale à celle de Paris, reçoivent annuellement de leur presse domestique un peu plus de 516,000,000 de copies. Par le nombre de ses publications journalières (132), Paris surpasse de beaucoup toutes les autres villes. Londres n'en a que 35, New York et Brooklyn, 36; Berlin, 47; Vienne, 28. Toute l'Angleterre (hors de Londres) ne publie que 119 papiers quotidiens; tandis que les dix principales villes les plus peuplées des Etats-Unis (formant ensemble une population de 4,875,000) ne possèdent que 131 publications quotidiennes. Les produits des journaux de Paris montent annuellement à près d'un dixième de ce que produit la presse entière du globe.

Tandis que la presse de la France n'est que 11.12 pr. ct., par son nombre de la liste totale, cependant le produit brut annuel de ses journaux quotidiens est de 78.15 de toutes les issues annuelles combinées de toutes les classes. Les journaux hebdomadaires de la France sont au nombre de 1,505 ou 46.10 pr. ct. de sa liste totale; mais la circulation annuelle de toutes les publications hebdomadaires réunies n'est que de 14 pour cent du produit total de la presse entière de la République.

AUTRICHE-HONGRIE.

Les journaux Austro-Hongrois sont particulièrement différents par un trait distinct. Ils sont imprimés dans une plus grande variété de langues qu'on n'en peut trouver dans la presse d'aucune autre nation. Considérant les embarras politiques et religieux qui ont traversé son cours, la presse de cette nation a fait des progrès considérables. Ses 1803 publications renferment 150 journalières, 180 semi hebdomadaires, 584 hebdomadaires, 432 bi-mensuels et trimestriels, 338 mensuels, et 119 de toutes les autres classes. Son produit annuel de journaux est de 371,101,575 copies.

ESPAGNE.

Cet ancien Royaume, avec une population surpassant 16,000,000 d'âmes supporte 750 journaux dont 220 sont publiés journalièrement, 389 toutes les semaines et 141 à diverses époques. Les publications de Madrid, au nombre de 253 embrassent un tiers de tous les journaux du royaume, et leur circulation annuelle, au delà de 126,000,000, excède de moitié la circulation totale de la presse Espagnole combinée. L'entreprise des journaux de l'Espagne, surtout celle de Madrid en particulier, fait à présent des progrès satisfaisants. Les journaux croissent en circulation et en influence et quelques-uns d'entr'eux sont d'une typographie très-belle.

ITALIE, SUISSE ET AUTRES.

L'espace ne peut admettre un examen plus minutieux dans ses détails des publications des nations séparées. Un coup d'œil rapide sur chacune d'elles en passant doit suffire.

L'Italie, fameuse pour sa littérature antique n'est pas remarquable par sa moderne. Sa liste entière embrasse 1,174 publications dont 148 paraissent tous les jours, 88 deux ou trois fois par semaine, 450 sont hebdomadaires, 256 mensuelles et les autres paraissent à des intervalles incertains. Le produit annuel de sa presse est d'environ 270,000,000 de copies. Milan avec ses 140 journaux fournit une circulation de 95,000,000 de copies, tandis que Rome, avec 213 journaux, émet moins de la moitié de ce nombre.

La Suisse soutient 512 journaux, parmi lesquels il y en a 68 quotidiens. Ses presses fournissent à son peuple annuellement plus de 100,000,000 de copies. Ses journaux sont imprimés principalement en français et en Allemand, l'Helvétie n'ayant point de langage qu'elle puisse appeler sien en propre.

Le domaine immense de la Russie avec une population de 85,000,000 laisse la presse de ce vaste empire dans une insignifiance comparative. Sa liste de publications n'embrasse que 454 journaux, dont le produit annuel de 124,000,000 de copies donne moins d'une copie et demi par an pour chaque habitant dans les limites de cette monarchie gigantesque. A St. Petersburg se publient 26 journaux quotidiens et à Moscow 9, dont la circulation annuelle combinée est de plus de 87,600,000 copies. En dehors des limites de ces deux villes et de Varsovie, la presse de la Russie peut tungen; während die zehn leitenden und populärsten Städte der Vereinigten Staaten (mit einer Bevölkerung von 4,875,000) nur 131 tägliche Publikationen besitzen. Die journalistischen Erzeugnisse der Pariser Presse belaufen sich jährlich auf beinahe ein Zehntel der Erzeugnisse der Presse der ganzen Welt.

Während die Tagespresse Frankreichs nur 11.12 pro cent. der ganzen Liste ausmacht, so beträgt doch die ganze jährliche Auflage derselben 78.15 pro cent. der jährlichen Auflage aller Publikationen. Die Wochenblätter Frankreichs zählen 1,505, oder 46.10 pro cent. der ganzen Liste; aber die ganze jährliche Auflage aller Wochenblätter zusammen, macht nur 14 pro cent. der ganzen Erzeugnisse der Presse der Republik.

OESTERREICH-UNGARN.

In einer Beziehung zeichnen sich die Zeitungen Oesterreich-Ungarns aus vor Andern, nämlich, dass dieselben in mehr verschiedenen Sprachen gedruckt werden, als dies gefunden wird in irgend einem andern Lande der Welt. In Anbetracht der politischen und religiösen Hindernisse, mit welchen die Presse zu kämpfen hat, hat sie dennoch rühmenswerthen Fortschritt gemacht. Die 1,803 Publikationen schliessen ein: 150 tägliche, 180 öfters die Woche erscheinende, 584 wöchentliche, 432 zwei- und dreimal monatlich erscheinende, 338 monatliche, und 119 andere Zeitungen. Die ganze jährliche Zeitungsproduktion beläuft sich auf 371,101,575 Exemplare.

SPANIEN.

Dies alte Reich, mit einer Bevölkerung von über 16,000,000 Seelen, unterhält 750 Zeitungen, wovon 220 täglich, 389 wöchentlich, und 141 zu anderen Zeiten erscheinen. Die Publikationen von Madrid, 253 im Ganzen, bilden ein Drittel der Zeitungen des Reiches, und ihre ganze jährliche Auflage, über 126,000,000 Exemplare, macht mehr als die Hälfte der ganzen jährlichen Auflage der spanischen Presse aus. Das Zeitungswesen von Spanien, besonders von Madrid, macht ermutigende Fortschritte. Die Zeitungen nehmen zu an Einfluss und Verbreitung, und manche derselben sind typographisch schön ausgestattet.

ITALIEN, DIE SCHWEIZ UND ANDERE LÄNDER.

Unser Raum gestattet uns nicht eine, in's Einzelne gehende Prüfung der Publikationen eines jeden Landes anzustellen. Nur vorübergehend können wir einige Bemerkungen darüber machen.

Italien, berührt durch seine alte Literatur, ist nicht besonders zu rühmen wegen der Literatur der Jetztzeit. Die Liste enthält 1,174 Publikationen im Ganzen, wovon 148 täglich, 88 mehrere Mal die Woche, 450 wöchentlich, 256 monatlich, und die übrigen in anderen Zeiträumen erscheinen. Die jährliche Produktion der Presse Italiens beträgt über 270,000,000 Exemplare. Mailand, mit 140 Zeitungen, hat davon 95,000,000 Exemplare jährlich; während Rom, mit 213 Journalen, kaum die Hälfte dieser Anzahl hat in einem Jahre.

Die Schweiz unterhält 512 Zeitungen, unter welchen 68 Tagesblätter sind. Ihre Presse liefert dem Volke jährlich mehr als 100,000,000 Exemplare. Ihre Journale sind meistens in deutsch und französisch gedruckt, da Helvetien keine eigene Landessprache hat.

Das grosse Russland, mit einer Bevölkerung von 85,000,000 Seelen, hat im Verhältniss eine sehr schwache Vertretung der Presse. Seine Listen geben nur 454 Journale, deren jährliche Production von 124,000,000 Exemplaren, weniger als 1½ Exemplar ausmacht für jeden Kopf seiner grossen Bevölkerung. In St. Petersburg werden 26 Tagesblätter publicirt, und in Moskau 9, deren vereinigte jährliche Auflage sich auf über 87,600,000 Exemplare beläuft. Mit Ausnahme von diesen beiden Städten und Warschau, kann man sagen, dass sich die russische Presse in einem unentwickelten Zustande befindet, obgleich ein grosses Feld für ihre Wirksamkeit vorhanden ist.

Schweden und Norwegen besitzen zusammen 484 Zeitungen, wovon nur 31 täglich erscheinen. Stockholm, Christiania und Göteborg unterhalten mehrere sehr gediegene und weitverbreitete Journale. Die Literatur dieses Landes zeichnet sich aus durch ihre Reinheit in moralischer Hinsicht, sowie durch den gelehrten Styl in der Behandlung aller politischen, socialen und literarischen Gegenstände. Die ganze el número de sus publicaciones diarias (132) Paris sobrepasa infinitamente á cualquiera otra ciudad. Londres no contiene mas que 35, Nueva York y Brooklyn 36, Berlin 47, Viena 28. Toda la Inglaterra entera (fuera de Londres) no da salida á mas que 119 gacetas diarias; mientras que las diez mas prominentes y mas pobladas ciudades de los Estados Unidos (con una poblacion agregada de 4,875,000) no poseen sino 131 publicaciones diarias. La produccion diaristica de Paris cada año sube á casi una decima parte de la produccion de la prensa entera del mundo.

La prensa diaria de la Francia en numeros no siendo sino 11.12 por ciento de la lista entera, la entera produccion anual de sus gacetas diarias es 78.15 por ciento de las salidas agregadas anuales de todas clases. Las semanales de la Francia numeran 1,505 ó 46.10 por ciento de su lista entera; pero la circulacion anual de todas sus semanales no es sino 14 por ciento del producto de la prensa entera de la Republica.

AUSTRIA-HUNGRÍA.

Las gacetas de la Austria-Hungria se distinguen mas especialmente en un respecto, lo que es, que son imprimidas en una diversidad mas grande de idiomas de lo que se encuentra en la prensa de cualquiera otra nacion del globo. Tomándose en cuenta las dificultades y perplejidades politicas y religiosas, que ha encontrado la prensa de esta nacion en el camino, ha hecho un adelanto digno de alabanza. Sus 1,803 publicaciones incluyen 150 diarias, 180 inter-semanales, 584 semanales, 432 semi-mensuales y tri-mensuales, 338 mensuales y 119 de toda otra clase. Su produccion anual de periodicos es 371,101,575 copias.

LA ESPAÑA.

Ese reino antiguo, con una poblacion de mas que 16,000,000 sostiene 750 periodicos, de los cuales 220 salen diariamente, 389 semanalmente y 141 en diferentes otros periodos. Las publicaciones de Madrid nombrando 253, comprenden una tercera parte del total en el Reino, y su entera circulacion anual de mas que 126,000,000 copias exceda mas que la mitad de la entera circulacion de la unica prensa Español. La empresa diaristica de la España, de Madrid particularmente, está adelantando razonablemente. La circulacion de sus periodicos y su influencia esta creciendo, y muchas de las publicaciones son notablemente hermosas en punto de tipografia.

ITALIA, SUIZA Y OTROS PAÍSES.

Nos falta el lugar para hacer una examinacion continuada y detallada de las publicaciones de las varias naciones. Debe bastar una mirada pasadera á cada una.

La Italia, afamada por su literatura antigua no está distinguida por su literatura moderna. Su lista entera comprende 1,174 publicaciones, de las cuales 148 salen diariamente, 88 son inter-semanales, 450 semanales, 256 mensuales y el residuo salen á varios intervalos. La produccion anual de su prensa es cerca de 270,000,000 copias. Milan con 140 gacetas, reciba de eso 95,000,000 copias por año; mientras que Roma, con 213 periodicos, reciba menos que la mitad de esa circulacion durante el mismo tiempo.

La Suiza sostiene 512 periodicos, de los cuales hay 68 diarios. Sus prensas dan al pueblo mas que 100,000,000 copias anualmente. Las publicaciones son imprimidas principalmente en Francés y Aleman, Helvetia no teniendo proprio idioma especifico.

El dominio inmenso de la Rusia, con una poblacion de 85,000,000 impide que la prensa del imperio llegue á un tamaño mas que comparativamente insignificante. Su lista de publicaciones no contiene mas que 454 periodicos, cuya produccion anual de 124,000,000 copias es menos que 1½ copias por año por cada habitante en sus vastos territorios. En St. Petersburg se publican 26 gacetas diarias, y en Moscova 9, cuya circulacion anual es algo mas que 87,600,000 copias. Fuera de los limites de esas dos ciudades y de Varsovia, se debe decir, que la prensa de Rusia se encuentra en un estado principiante, con grandes posibilidades mas adelante.

La Suecia y la Noruega unidas poseen 484 publicaciones, de las cuales no mas que 31 salen diariamente. Estocolmo, Christiania y Gotingen poseen varios periodicos bien capaces y de larga circulacion.

nishes a handsome catalogue of 233 publications within her limits.

The Netherlands are well represented, and its interests ably defended by 435 journals, embracing 39 dailies, 115 inter-weeklies, 267 weeklies, and 14 of various periods of publication. Amsterdam, famous for its commerce, wealth and patronage of the Fine Arts, sustains 63 newspapers, 10 of which are dailies.

Portugal is the home of 179 publications. These include 29 dailies, 20 of which appear in Lisbon. The total annual product of all Portuguese presses amounts to something over 54,000,000 copies.

OTHER COUNTRIES AND CONTINENTS.

For the details respecting Turkey, Roumania, Bulgaria, Greece, Denmark, and the several countries of other continents, the reader is necessarily referred to the tables in this volume, of which mention has been made.

LANDS IN THE SHADOW OF IGNORANCE.

Diligent inquiry fails to unearth even a solitary newspaper in Arabia. Other parts of Asia are alike destitute of journals. None are to be found in either Afghanistan or in Beloochistan. Neither has the extensive territory known as Turkestan the semblance of a printing office. Indeed, if we could take up the continent of Asia, (exclusive of Turkey in Asia and part of Persia) and with a pair of shears trim off its Chinese coast fringes, and cut away its Indian capes and tassels, and throw them into the sea, the remainder of that huge division of the earth, even then bigger than the whole of the Western Hemisphere, would be found destitute of every sort of newspaper. Central Africa, and, indeed, the whole continent of Africa exclusive of Algeria, Egypt and the States and Colonies at the extreme south, may be said to be in cimierian darkness, the occasional journals upon the west coast appearing in contrast as so many fire-flies at midnight. Here an area three times that of Europe awaits civilization.

THE PRESS CONSIDERED LATITUDINALLY.

The statistics gathered in this work help us to determine the "Power of the Press" in its relation to the Equator, and to the several degrees of latitude, both north and south. Considering the earth's surface as demarked into zones of ten degrees each, separated by the degrees of latitude numbered respectively 0°, 10°, 20°, 30°, 40°, 50°, 60°, and 70°, north, and similarly south as far as 50°, the several zones are found to contain, approximately, the following number of journals: North—Between 0° and 10°, 183; between 10° and 20°, 654; between 20° and 30°, 537; between 30° and 40°, 5,546; between 40° and 50°, 16,315; between 50° and 60°, 9,550; between 60° and 70°, 210. Whole number north of the Equator, 32,995. South—Between 0° and 10°, 80; between 10° and 20°, 107; between 20° and 30°, 301; between 30° and 40°, 687; between 40° and 50°, 104; south of 50°, none. Whole number south, 1,279. Estimating each zone as, in round numbers, 700 miles wide, it is found that the first two belts north, about 1,400 miles broad, and extending around the globe, embracing a large part of that territory where "every prospect pleases and only man is vile," contain but 837 newspapers. Add to them the next belt northward, thus including all between 0° and 30°, and it is discovered that within this triple zone almost 2,100 miles in width, there are être regardée comme dans un état d'enfance avec de grandes espérances devant elle.

La Suède et la Norvège possèdent ensemble 484 publications, dont seulement 31 paraissent tous les jours. Stockholm, Christiania et Göteborg soutiennent plusieurs journaux très capables avec une circulation étendue. La littérature du royaume se distingue par la pureté de la morale, et pour sa manière de traiter les topiques politiques, sociaux et littéraires. La circulation annuelle de toutes ses publications en gros n'est pas tout à fait de 80,000,000 de copies.

La Belgique, la plus peuplée de toutes les nations de l'Europe, maintient une littérature de journaux très-capables et très-répandus. 590 publications donnent à ses peuples annuellement environ 325,000,000 de copies. Dans le nombre des copies qu'elle peut distribuer tous les ans à sa population, la Belgique prend rang après la Grande Bretagne et se trouve en avance des États-Unis—sa proportion étant de 59.20 par tête. Bruxelles fournit un beau catalogue de 233 publications dans ses limites.

Les Pays-Bas sont bien représentés et leurs intérêts bien défendus par 435 journaux embrassant 39 quotidiens, 115 de deux ou trois issues par semaine, 267 hebdomadaires, et 14 de périodes incertaines de publication. Amsterdam, fameuse par son commerce, sa richesse et son patronage des Beaux-Arts, soutient 23 journaux dont 20 sont quotidiens.

Le Portugal fournit 179 publications, qui comprennent 29 journaux quotidiens dont 20 paraissent à Lisbonne. Le produit total annuel de toutes les publications Portugaises monte à un peu plus de 54,000,000 de copies.

AUTRES PAYS ET CONTINENTS.

Pour les détails touchant la Turquie, la Roumanie, la Bulgarie, la Grèce, le Danemark et les différents pays des autres continents, nous devons, de nécessité, renvoyer le lecteur aux tableaux de ce volume dont nous avons fait mention auparavant.

TERRES DANS L'OMBRE DE L'IGNORANCE.

La recherche la plus diligente a manqué de déterrer un seul journal en Arabie. D'autres parties de l'Asie sont pareillement dépourvues de journaux. On n'a pu en trouver aucun soit dans l'Afghanistan soit dans le Beloochistan. Et l'immense territoire connu sous le nom de Turkestan n'a pu fournir de traces d'un bureau d'imprimerie. En vérité si nous pouvions enlever le continent de l'Asie excepté la Turquie d'Asie et une partie de la Perse et avec une paire de ciseaux tailler les franges des côtes de la Chine et en couper les caps et les glands et les jeter dans la mer, le reste de cette grande division de la terre, encore même plus grande que tout l'Hémisphère occidental, se trouverait dépourvu de toute espèce de journal. L'Afrique centrale et, véritablement tout le Continent de l'Afrique, à l'exception de l'Algérie, de l'Égypte, et des États et colonies de l'extrémité méridionale, peut être regardée comme ensevelie dans une obscurité cimérienne; les journaux qui apparaissent par hasard sur les côtes occidentales se montrent comme des mouches phosphorescentes dans les ténèbres de la nuit. Ici une aire, trois fois plus étendue que celle de l'Europe, attend la civilisation.

LA PRESSE CONSIDÉRÉE PAR LATITUDES.

Les statistiques rassemblées dans cet ouvrage nous assistent à déterminer le "pouvoir de la Presse" par rapport avec l'Equateur et les différents degrés de latitude au Nord et au Sud. Si nous considérons la surface de la terre comme divisée en zones de dix degrés chacune, séparées par les degrés de latitude portant les numéros 0°, 10°, 20°, 30°, 40°, 50°, 60°, 70°, au Nord, et pareillement au Midi jusqu'au 50°, nous trouverons que les zones différentes contiennent, d'une manière approximative, le nombre suivant de journaux. Au Nord entre 0° et le 10°, 183; entre le 10° et le 20°, 654; entre le 20° et le 30°, 537; entre le 30° et le 40°, 5,546; entre le 40° et le 50°, 16,315; entre le 50° et le 60°, 9,550; entre le 60° et le 70°, 210. Nombre total au Nord de l'Equateur, 32,995. Au midi: Entre 0° et le 10°, 80; entre le 10° et le 20°, 107; entre le 20° et le 30°, 301; entre le 30° et le 40°, 687; entre le 40° et le 50°, 104. Au midi du 50°, aucun. Nombre total au midi, 1,279. Estimant chaque zone, à une largeur de 700 milles, en nombres ronds, on trouve que les deux premières ceintures au Nord, larges d'environ 1,400 milles et s'étendant autour du globe et embrassant jährliche Auflage ihrer Publikationen beträgt nicht ganz 80,000,000 Exemplare.

Belgien, welches von allen europäischen Ländern am dichtesten bevölkert ist, unterhält eine tüchtige und weitverbreitete Zeitungsliteratur. Fünfhundert- und einundneunzig Publikationen liefern der Bevölkerung jährlich ungefähr 325,000,000 Exemplare. In dem Verhältnisse seiner Publikationen zur Bevölkerung steht Belgien nächst zu Grossbritannien, und ist den Vereinigten Staaten voraus, indem das Verhältniss per Kopf 59.20 ausmacht. Brüssel hat eine schöne Liste von 233 Publikationen.

Die Niederlande sind gut repräsentirt, indem ihre Interessen vertreten sind durch 435 Journale, wovon 39 Tagesblätter, 115 mehrmals die Woche erscheinende, 267 Wochenblätter, und 14 andere Publikationen sind. Amsterdam, berühmt wegen seines Handels, Reichthums und seiner Kunst, besitzt 63 Zeitungen, wovon 10 Tagesblätter sind.

Portugal hat 179 Publikationen. Hierin sind 29 Tageszeitungen eingeschlossen, wovon 20 in Lissabon erscheinen. Die ganze jährliche Production der portugiesischen Presse beläuft sich auf etwas über 54,000,000 Exemplare.

ANDERE LÄNDER UND WELTTHEILE.

Wegen der Einzelheiten in Bezug auf die Türkei, Rumänien, Bulgarien, Griechenland, Dänemark und die verschiedenen Länder anderer Welttheile, verweisen wir den Leser auf die schon erwähnten Tabellen.

LÄNDER IM SCHATTEN DER UNWISSENHEIT.

Dem fleissigsten Nachforschen ist es nicht gelungen, auch nur eine Zeitung in Arabien zu entdecken. Andere Theile Asiens sind ebenso arm an Journalen. Man kann keine finden weder in Afghanistan noch in Beloochistan. Ebenfalls hat auch das grosse Land, bekannt als Turkestan, keine Spur von einer Druckerei. In der That, wenn wir das Festland Asiens (ausschliesslich der Asiatischen Türkei und einem Theile Persiens) nehmen und mit einer Scheere die Küste China's abschneiden, und dann die Küstenstädte Indiens's von Asien trennen, und in das Meer werfen könnten, so würde dieses grosse Land—selbst dann noch grösser als die ganze westliche Halbkugel—auch ganz und gar ohne irgend eine Zeitung sein. Central-Afrika, ja, das ganze Festland Afrika's, mit Ausnahme von Algerien, Egypten, und den Staaten und Kolonien im äussersten Süden, liegt in der dichtesten Finsterniss, und die hier und dort an der Westküste sich befindenden wenigen Zeitungen, erscheinen als Leuchtkäfer in finsterner Nacht. Hier ist ein auf die Civilisation wartendes Land, welches dreimal so gross ist als Europa.

DIE ZEITUNGSPRESSE, DEN BREITENGRADEN NACH.

Die gesammelten Statistiken in diesem Buche setzen uns in den Stand, die Macht der Presse in ihrem Verhältniss zum Aequator und den verschiedenen Breitengraden, sowohl nach dem Norden wie nach dem Süden hin zu betrachten. Nehmen wir die Oberfläche der Erde an, als eingetheilt in Zonen von je 10 Graden, welche die Grade, bezeichnet als 0°, 10°, 20°, 40°, 50°, 60°, und 70°, nördlich, und ebenso südlich, bis zum 50. Grad trennen, so findet man, dass die verschiedenen Zonen annähernd die folgende Anzahl von Journalen enthalten: Nördlich,—zwischen 0° und 10°, 183; zwischen 10° und 20°, 654; zwischen 20° und 30°, 537; zwischen 30° und 40°, 5546; zwischen 40° und 50°, 16,315; zwischen 50° und 60°, 9,550; zwischen 60° und 70°, 210. Ganze Anzahl, nördlich vom Aequator, 32,995. Südlich,—zwischen 0° und 10°, 80; zwischen 10° und 20°, 107; zwischen 20° und 30°, 301; zwischen 30° und 40°, 687; zwischen 40° und 50°, 104; südlich von 50°, keine. Ganze Anzahl, südlich vom Aequator, 1,279. Indem wir annehmen, dass jede Zone in runder Summe 700 Meilen breit ist, so findet man, dass die ersten beiden Gürtel, nördlich, ungefähr 1,400 Meilen breit um die ganze Erde herum, einschliessend einen grossen Theil des Landes, „wo die Natur ist lieblich, Und nur der Mensch verderbt.“ nur 837 Zeitungen enthält. Wenn wir zu diesen den nächsten Gürtel nördlich hinzurechnen, somit Alles zwischen den Graden 0° und 30° einschliessen, so findet man, dass in diesem Striche, beinahe 2,100 Meilen weit, nur 1,374 Publikationen sind,—eine geringere Anzahl als im Staate New-York, weniger

La literatura del reino está distinguida por la pureza de su moral, y la manera estudiosa con que trate argumentos políticos, sociales, y literarios. La circulación total de todas sus publicaciones es poco menos que 80,000,000 de copias anualmente.

La Belgica, la mas compactamente poblada de todas las naciones europeas, sostiene una literatura de periodicos bien capaces y bastante extendidas. Quinientos noventa y una publicaciones dan al pueblo cerca de 325,000,000 copias cada año. En el numero de copias distribuidas anualmente entre su poblacion, la Belgica ocupa el grado en seguida de la Gran Bretaña, y sobrepasa los Estados Unidos—su razon siendo 59.20 por cada individuo. Bruselas provee un bonito catalogo de 233 publicaciones dentro de sus limites.

Los Países Bajos tienen buena representacion, y sus intereses están bien cuidados por 435 periodicos, comprendiendo 39 diarios, 115 inter-semanales, 267 semanales y 14 de diversos periodos de publicacion. Amsterdam, afamado por su comercio, su riqueza y su patrocinio de las bellas artes, sostiene 63 periodicos, 10 de los cuales salen diariamente.

Portugal es la cuna de 179 publicaciones. En esas están incluidas 29 diarias, de las cuales 20 tienen salida en Lisboa. La entera produccion anual de todas las prensas portuguesas es una pequena cantidad mas que 54,000,000 copias.

OTROS PAISES Y CONTINENTES.

Por necesidad se refiere al lector á las tablas en este volumen, ya mencionadas, por los detalles tocantes á la Turquía, la Roumania, la Bulgaria, la Grecia, la Dinamarca, y los varios paises de otros continentes.

PAISES QUE QUEDAN TODAVIA EN LA SOMBRA DE LA IGNORANCIA.

Una investigacion la mas asidua deja de desterrar un solo periodico en la Arabia y otras partes de la Asia son igualmente desprovistas. No se encuentra ninguno en Afghanistan y en Beloochistan. Aun mismo el vasto territorio, conocido bajo el nombre de Turkestan no presenta ni apariencia de una imprenta de diario. Verdaderamente, si se pudiese agarrar el continente de la Asia, y con un par de tijeras recortar sus marjenes de las costas de la China, luego aparejando sus capas y borlas de la India y echarias todas al fondo de la mar, el residuo de aquella inmensa division del globo, aun asi mas grande que todo el hemisfero del Occidente, se descubriria enteramente destituido de toda clase de periodico. La Africa Central, y, en verdad, el continente entero de la Africa, excluyendo la Algeria, el Egipto y las colonias al extremo del Sur, deben ser citados de ser en obscuridad Cimmeriana, los periodicos de la costa del Pacifico apareciendo de vez en cuando como si fuesen tantas moscas de fosforo á la hora de media noche. Aqui hay una area de una extension tres veces la de la Europa, esperando la civilizacion.

LA PRENSA CONSIDERADA SEGUN LAS LATITUDES.

Las estadísticas recogidas en esta obra nos ayudan á determinar el “Poder de la Prensa” en sus relaciones al ecuador, y los varios grados de latitud, tanto los del Norte como los del Sud. Considerando la superficie de la tierra dividida en zonas de diez grados cada una, esos ultimos siendo separado por los grados de latitud, respectivamente nombrados 0°, 10°, 20°, 30°, 40°, 50°, 60°, y 70° al Norte y similitudinariamente al Sud hasta el 50°, se descubrirá, que las varias zonas contienen proximately el numero siguiente de gacetas: Al Norte—Entre 0° y 10°, 183; entre 10° y 20°, 654; entre 20° y 30°, 537; entre 30° y 40°, 5,546; entre 40° y 50°, 16,315; entre 50° y 60°, 9,550; entre 60° y 70°, 210. El numero entero al norte del Ecuador 32,995. Al Sur—Entre 0° y 10°, 80; entre 10° y 20°, 107; entre 20° y 30°, 301; entre 30° y 40°, 687; entre 40° y 50°, 104; al sud del 50°, ningunas. Numero entero al Sud 1,279. Estimando la anchura de cada zona ser 700 millas, se veerá que los dos primeros cintos al norte, que tienen una anchura de cerca de 1,400 millas, y extienden al rededor del globo, conteniendo una gran parte de aquellos dominios donde “cada perspectiva agrada y el hombre solo no vale nada” no dan salida á mas que 837 periodicos. Agrégese á esos el cinto siguiente en la direccion del Norte, incluyendo asi todos los que hay entre 0° y 30°, y sale á la luz el hecho, que dentro de esa zona triplicada, de anchura de casi 2,100 millas, no hay mas que 1,374 publicaciones—un numero mas pequeño que de las que aparecen en el but 1,374 publications—a less number than are published within the State of New York; fewer than appear in Paris, and not so many by 588 as are published in London.

The fourth zone, N., between 30° and 40° shows a surprising increase in numbers in comparison with the preceding three. Within this belt are 5,546 publications. The next succeeding zone—40° to 50°—reaches the heart and prime power of journalism. Here are 16,315 publications, or almost one-half the entire number north of the Equator. The belt covering from 50° to 60° is next in numbers to that last named, having within it 9,550 newspapers. Beyond 60° the press may be said to be an exotic, for between 60° and 70° there are found but 210 publications.

The main zone of journalistic power and success lies between 30° and 60° N., within which are concentrated 31,411 publications, leaving but 2,863 for all other latitudes.

The whole number of newspapers south of the Equator is so inconsiderable as to render a further analysis unnecessary. Except in Australia and New Zealand, and to some extent in South Africa, the press of the Southern Hemisphere has not kept pace with the march of events in the current century. To the English-speaking peoples of the southern world is due a large share of the credit of keeping journalism in that half of the globe from a state of almost practical nonentity.

A diagram illustrative of this distribution will be found at the conclusion of this Introduction.

THE GIANT LANGUAGES.

It is interesting to note the languages in which newspapers are printed. The variety is very great, including, perhaps, hundreds of different families, branches and dialects. But it becomes speedily apparent that the vast bulk of newspaper work is done in four tongues, which outstrip all competitors. The first of these is the English, which stands in the forefront, much more than a head and shoulders above and beyond its nearest fellow, in the number of journals which employ it. Sixteen thousand and five hundred newspapers are printed in English—that great linguistic mosaic, that philological breccia, which, rolling through the ages, has drawn into itself from all ancient and modern tongues the vigor and the fire, the piquancy and the elasticity, the Latinian polish and the Celtic ruggedness, the height and breadth and depth, which fit it for cosmopolitan uses.

Next in importance to the English stands the German,—solid, sombre, rich in resonance and resources, and powerful in expression,—speaking to the world through 7,350 presses.

The third tongue most liberally used by the press is the French,—versatile and elegant, making good in brilliant flashes and in keen thrusts what it may lack in ponderous, crushing power. In this are printed 3,850 newspapers, mostly earnestly devoted to advancing the civilization and promoting the welfare of mankind.

The Spanish tongue comes fourth in this order, making use of about 1,600 publications, and bidding fair, in the future, to reach a still wider range of usefulness. With Mexico and the South American Republics speaking the Spanish language almost uniformly, it is easy to foresee that its journalistic scope and utility are sure to increase with the steady growth of the nations named, until it may become third, or even second, in the rank of newspaper use.

The four languages named may be called the imperial mediums for the conveyance to the world of Man's purest, loftiest, most ingenious and most patriotic inspirations and designs; since through them nearly thirty thousand presses are continuously giving to the world that mental stimulus, intellectual light, moral stamina and religious enthusiasm which move, illumine and sustain all souls, both small and great, that underlie, and guide, and in their spheres achieve and illustrate the Progress of Mankind.

une grande partie de ce territoire où "chaque perspective plait et l'homme seul est vil," ne contient que 820 journaux. Ajoutez-y la prochaine zone au Nord, renfermant ainsi tout ce qui se trouve entre 0° et le 30°, et vous trouverez que dans les limites de cette triple zone, de presque 2,100 milles en largeur, il n'y a que 1,347 publications; moindres en nombre que celles qui sont publiées dans l'Etat de New-York, moindres que celles qui paraissent à Paris, et pas autant par 615 que celles de Londres.

La quatrième zone Nord, entre le 30° et le 40°, montre un accroissement surprenant par le nombre avec les trois précédentes. Dans cette zone il y a 5,679 publications. La zone suivante, entre le 40° et le 50°, contient le cœur et le pouvoir actif du journalisme. Ici nous trouvons 16,308 publications près de la moitié du nombre entier au Nord de l'Equateur. La ceinture couvrant du 50° au 60° par le nombre après celle qui a été nommée auparavant contenant 9,556 journaux. Au delà du 60° on peut dire que la Presse est un exotique; car entre le 60° et le 70° on ne trouve que 209 publications.

La zone principale du pouvoir et du succès du journalisme se trouve entre le 30° et le 60° Nord entre lesquels sont concentrés 31,583 publications, n'en laissant que 2,695 pour toutes les autres latitudes.

Le nombre total des journaux au Sud de l'Equateur est si insignifiant qu'il rend inutile une analyse plus étendue. Excepté dans l'Australie, dans la Nouvelle Zélande et, jusqu'à un certain point, dans le midi de l'Afrique, la presse de l'Hémisphère méridional n'a pas avancé à pas égal avec les événements du siècle présent. C'est aux peuples parlant Anglais dans le monde méridional que l'on doit en grande partie l'honneur d'avoir préservé dans cette moitié du globe le journalisme de cet état de non-existence pratique.

On trouvera à la conclusion de cette introduction un diagramme qui expliquera cette distribution.

LES LANGAGES GÉANTS.

Il est intéressant de remarquer les langues diverses dans lesquelles sont imprimés les journaux. La variété est très grande contenant, peut être, des centaines de familles et de dialectes différents. Mais il devient promptement apparent que la grande masse de l'œuvre des journaux est accomplie en quatre langues qui l'emportent sur toutes les autres. La première de celles-ci est l'Anglais qui marche en avant surpassant de la tête et des épaules son plus proche compagnon par le nombre des journaux qui en font usage. Seize mille cinq cents journaux sont imprimés en Anglais—cette grande mosaïque linguistique, cette agglomération de mots qui, roulant à travers les siècles, a puisé dans toutes les langues anciennes et modernes et s'est approprié la vigueur et le feu, la finesse et l'élasticité, la politesse latine et la rudesse celtique, la hauteur, l'ampleur et la profondeur qui la préparent pour les usages cosmopolites.

Après l'Anglais par son importance vient l'Allemand—solide, sombre, riche en sonorité et en ressources et puissant en expression—parlant au monde par 7,350 presses.

La troisième langue employée le plus libéralement par la presse est le français—versatile et élégant, remplaçant par de brillants éclairs et des pointes acérées ce qui peut lui manquer en pouvoir solennel et écrasant. 3,850 journaux s'impriment en cette langue, dévoués pour la plupart avec ardeur à faire avancer la civilisation et à élever le bien-être du genre humain.

La langue Espagnole vient la quatrième en importance, employée en 1,600 publications, et promettant pour l'avenir d'atteindre une plus grande sphère d'utilité. Avec le Mexique et les Républiques de l'Amérique du Sud, parlant presque uniformément l'Espagnol, il est aisé de prévoir que sa carrière et son utilité journalistiques sont sûres d'augmenter avec la croissance soutenue des nations déjà nommées, jusqu'à ce qu'elle devienne la troisième ou même la seconde dans l'usage des journaux.

Les quatre langues cités plus haut peuvent être appelés les grands expositeurs effectifs des pensées et des desseins de l'humanité, puisque par eux 20,300 presses donnent continuellement au monde ce stimulus mental, cette lumière intellectuelle, et ce support moral qui meurent, qui illuminent, qui soutiennent toutes les âmes, grandes ou petites, qui étonnent, guident et aiguillonnent le progrès de l'humanité.

als in Paris, und sogar 588 weniger als in London publicirt werden.

Die vierte Zone, nördlich, zwischen 30° und 40° zeigt, im Vergleich mit den Vorhergehenden, eine überraschende Zunahme. Innerhalb dieses Striches giebt es 5,546 Publikationen. Die darnach folgende Zone—40° bis 50°—erreicht das Herz und die Hauptkraft des Journalismus. Hier giebt es 16,315 Publikationen, oder beinahe die Hälfte der ganzen Anzahl, nördlich vom Aequator. Zunächst, nach dieser Zone, kommt die vom 50° bis 60°, indem dieselbe die Anzahl von 9,550 Zeitungen enthält. Ueber 60° hinaus ist die Presse verhältnissmässig unbekannt, denn zwischen 60° und 70° findet man nur 210 Publikationen.

Das Hauptfeld journalistischer Macht und Thätigkeit liegt somit zwischen 30° und 60°, nördlich, denn innerhalb dieser Grenzen findet man 31,411 Publikationen, welches bloß 2,863 für alle anderen Grade übrig lässt.

Die ganze Zahl der Zeitungen, südlich vom Aequator, ist so gering, dass es unnöthig ist in eine nähere Untersuchung einzugehen. Mit Ausnahme von Australien und Neuseeland, und theilweise Süd-Afrika, hat die Presse der südlichen Halbkugel nicht Schritt gehalten mit dem Fortschritt des gegenwärtigen Jahrhunderts. Der englischredenden Bevölkerung der südlichen Welt gebührt ein grosser Maasse die Ehre, das Presswesen der südlichen Erdhälften vom Stadium des Nichtseins zu erhalten.

Einen diese Vertheilung illustirenden Abriss wird man am Schlusse dieser Einleitung finden.

DIE HAUPTSPRACHEN.

Es ist interessant zu beobachten, in wie vielen verschiedenen Sprachen Zeitungen gedruckt werden. Die Verschiedenheit ist sehr gross, indem wohl hunderte von Dialekten vertreten sind. Aber es ist offenbar, dass bei Weitem der grösste Theil des Zeitungswesens vertreten wird durch vier Sprachen, welche alle Anderen übertreffen. Die erste unter diesen ist die englische Sprache, welche die Anderen um mehr als eines Hauptes Länge überragt, bezüglich der Anzahl der, in dieser Sprache gedruckten, Zeitungen. Sechszehntausend und fünfhundert Zeitungen werden in englischer Sprache gedruckt—diese grosse Sprache der Sprachen, welche im Laufe der Jahrhunderte von allen alten und modernen Sprachen deren Kraft und Feuer, deren Schärfe und Biegsamkeit, deren Höhe, Breite und Tiefe, sich angeeignet und in sich vereinigt hat, wodurch sie so recht geeignet geworden ist für kosmopolitanischen Gebrauch.

Nach der englischen ist die deutsche Sprache die wichtigste,—diese Sprache, so gediegen, und ernst, so reich an Klang und Biegungen, so kräftig im Ausdruck, welche zu der Welt redet durch 7,350 Publikationen.

Die dritte Sprache, welche von der Presse am meisten gebraucht wird, ist die französische,—fein und elegant, ersetzend durch Schönheit und Schärfe, was sie entbehren mag in Bezug auf Schwere und Kraft. In derselben werden 3,850 Zeitungen gedruckt, meistens warm interessiert in der Beförderung der Civilisation und der Wohlfahrt der Menschheit.

Darnach kommt die spanische Sprache, in welcher ungefähr 1,600 Publikationen gedruckt werden, und welche allem Anschein nach in Zukunft noch eine grössere Macht entfalten wird. Man kann voraussehen, dass mit Einschluss von Mexiko und den Süd-amerikanischen Republiken, woselbst die spanische Sprache beinahe ausschliesslich gesprochen wird, die Thätigkeit und der Einfluss des spanischen Journalismus, mit dem beständigen Wachstum jener Nationen voranschreiten wird, bis sie den dritten oder selbst den zweiten Rang einnehmen wird in der Zeitungswelt.

Diese vier Sprachen mögen wohl die grossen Offenbarer der besten, erhabensten und patriotischsten Gedanken und Inspirationen des Menschen genannt werden; denn durch sie und in ihnen geben beinahe dreissig tausend Pressen der Welt den geistigen Antrieb, die intellectuelle Erleuchtung, die moralische Festigkeit und den religiösen Enthusiasmus, welche die Seelen der Menschen, die grossen sowohl wie die kleinen, anregen und ernähren, und welche dem wahren Fortschritt der Menschheit zu Grunde liegen, denselben befördern, und in ihren einzelnen Gebieten ihn zur Vervollkommnung und zum Siege führen!

estado de Nueva York; menos grande que el total de publicaciones en Paris; formando una minoria de 588 en comparacion con las de Londres.

La cuarta zona, al Norte, entre 30° y 40° demuestra un aumento extraordinario en numeros, comparandolas con las tres que precedan. Adentro de ese cinco hay 5,546 publicaciones. La Zona siguiente,—40° a 50°—se apodera del corazon y de la fuerza principal del periodismo. Aqui hay 16,315 publicaciones, ó casi una mitad del numero total al Norte del Ecuador. El cinco que extiende del 50° al 60°, sigue al que hemos citado ultimamente en cuanto a la cantidad, conteniendo 9,550 gacetas. Mas allá de 60° se puede llamar a la prensa una planta exótica, pues entre 60° y 70° no se encuentran mas que 210 publicaciones.

La zona mas importante de resultado y poder periodistico está colocada entre 30° y 60° al norte, conteniendo alla 31,411 publicaciones, asi no dejando mas que 2,863 por todas las otras latitudes.

El numero total de periodicos al Sud del Ecuador es tan insignificante, que no es necesario seguir haciendo esa analisis. Con la excepcion de la Australia y de la Nueva Zelanda, y tal vez alguna parte de la Africa del Sud, la prensa del hemisferio del Sud ha dejado de andar al mismo paso con la marcha de los otros acontecimientos del siglo. A las naciones del mundo del Sud, hablando el idioma inglés, de derecho pertenece el crédito de haber salvado el periodismo en aquella mitad del globo de un estado, practicamente hablando, de la nada.

Un diagrama ilustrando la distribucion asi delineada se hallará al fin de esta introduccion.

LOS IDIOMAS GIGANTES.

Es materia interesante notar los diferentes idiomas en los cuales los periodicos son imprimidos. La diversidad es bastante grande, tal vez contándose a centenares de diferentes familias y dialectos. Pero no es cosa de gran escudriñamiento de averiguar que la gran mayoría del trabajo diaristico se hace en cuatro idiomas, los que dejan atrás a todos sus rivales. El primero es el Inglés, que ocupa el puesto principal en la fila en frente, sobresaliendo con la cabeza y los hombros al mas proximo companiero que sigue, en cuanto al numero de los periodicos que lo empleen. Se imprimen diez y seis mil quinientos periodicos en Inglés,—aquel grande mosaico de idiomas, aquella piedra de mármol filológica que rodeando al traves de los siglos, ha traído hacia sí de todos los idiomas antiguos y modernos la fuerza y el ardor, el piquante y la elasticidad, el lustre Latino y la rudeza Celtica, lo elevado, lo ancho y lo profundo que lo adaptan para usos cosmopolitanos.

El idioma que sigue al Inglés en importancia, es el Aleman, compacto, sombrío, abundante en resonancia y en recursos, y poderoso en expresion,—dando su voz al mundo por medio de 7,350 prensas.

El tercer idioma, lo mas liberalmente usado por la prensa es el Francés,—versátil y elegante, mejorando por medio de una agudeza brillante y de arremetidas penetrantes lo que tal vez padece falta de fuerza ponderosa y condensada. 3,850 periodicos son imprimidos en ese idioma, la mayor parte de ellos ansiosamente consagrados al adelanto de la civilizacion y al promover de la felicidad de la especie humana.

El idioma Español es el cuarto en la fila, haciendo uso de cerca de 1,600 publicaciones y dando generosa promesa de alcanzar en el porvenir una extension de utilidad mucho mas vasta todavia. Tomando en consideracion, que el Mejico y las Republicas de la America del Sud hablan el idioma Español casi sin variacion ninguna, no es difícil prever, que su carrera y utilidad de cierto aumentarán con el crecimiento asegurado de las naciones nombradas, hasta que ocupará el tercero, ó siquiera el segundo puesto en la fila usada por los periodicos.

Los cuatro idiomas mencionados en verdad pueden llamarse las avenidas simerpales por medio de las cuales están conducidas al mundo las inspiraciones y los intentos mas puros, mas elevados, mas ingenuos y mas patrióticos del hombre: pues es por medio de ellas que cerca de 30,000 prensas están continuamente dando al mundo el estimulo intelectual, la claridad mental, la estamafia moral y el entusiasmo religioso que mueven y sostienen las almas de los hombres, las grandes asi como las pequenas, que están debajo de y conducen el progreso de la humanidad, y en sus propias esferas lo perfeccionen y lo engrandecen!

HOW THE FOREIGN MATERIAL FOR THIS

The Editor and Publisher of this work cordially expresses his obligations to the gentlemen whose names appear upon the next following page, and who have kindly contributed valuable material and information for use in these volumes. Many of them are entitled to a more extended expression of thanks than space will admit. A large number of American Diplomatic and Consular Agents were especially zealous in their efforts to furnish all the desired data attainable within their several jurisdictions. It is gratifying to the pride of Americans to know that their country is so well represented abroad by a body of officials whose deportment, as a rule, reflects high credit upon the Government. It was Mr. ARCHIBALD FORBES, the well-known war correspondent of the London Daily News, who said to the Editor and Publisher of this Directory, that into whatever land or clime he went, it was his first pleasure to seek out the American Consul, as one from whom he could depend upon receiving a cordial welcome and all the information and assistance within his power. It is to be regretted that any exceptions exist to this general rule. The Editor and Publisher feels that he is justified in complaining that a few of the representatives of our Government not only failed to give the information desired of them, but were so discourteous even as to neglect answering letters repeatedly sent them. Are such suitable representatives abroad of the interests of the Republic?

The subjoined fac-simile of one of the more than four thousand pages of reports received from all sources, will show the care that was taken to get full particulars in regard to each newspaper in the world. PERIODICO DE SENORAS Y SENORITAS.

CORRIERE DELLE DAME

TEN LEADING FASHION JOURNALS.

It has been truly said "that one-half the world did not know how the other half lived," in the same sense, how little this half of the world knows about the dresses that are worn by the other half.

Three generations back, the ladies of America gazed with delight on the fashion plates in Godey's or Peterson's monthlies, representing to those who look upon those pages now, styles of dress, obsolete, primitive and devoid of the perfect drawings and elegantly colored plates as we have at this day, added to which the perfection of system and art, that we must perforce, designate, and give to these arbiters of costume and decoration of the form, a place in the list of professions and a niche in the temple of fame. Paris and Berlin, now invent, and send forth the illustrations and patterns of the coming styles to the different ladies' journals throughout Europe and America, so that they appear simultaneously, in the Paris Fashion Periodicals and also in other fashion papers of Europe and America; the fac-simile cuts and patterns, all emanating from the initial house. How few realize the importance and saving in time and money to the reader of these magazines. In every city, town and hamlet, be it in Europe or America, the mountains of South America, the arid plains of India, or the far off Australian Islands, woman of every tongue and of every land, now possess the key of style and fashion, united to the patterns and directions to cut and make her wardrobe, and all just alike.

DIE OESTERREICH-UNGARISCHE MONARCHIE.

Bestehend aus dem Kaiserreich Oesterreich und dem Königreich Ungarn.

FRANZ JOSEPH, DER ERSTE, Kaiser von Oesterreich, König von Ungarn. Bevölkerung des ganzen Reiches, 37,741,413. Hauptstadt, Wien.

In der nachfolgenden Liste findet man die Publikationen des Kaiserreichs Oesterreich in der ersten, und die des Königreichs Ungarn in der zweiten Abtheilung. Keine andere Nation Europas hat eine solche Mannigfaltigkeit der Sprachen in ihren Publikationen als diese. In Oesterreich selber ist die deutsche die Hauptsprache, während in Ungarn die ungarische oder magyarische den Vorrang hat. Die andern Sprachen, in welchen die Zeitungen im Kaiserreiche gedruckt werden, sind hier ihrer Wichtigkeit nach in Reihenfolge gegeben: Czechisch, polnisch, italienisch, slovenisch, slavisch, ruthenisch, croatisch, französisch, hebräisch, serbisch, griechisch, rumänisch, lateinisch.

LA MONARCHIE AUSTRO-HONGROISE.

Composée de l'Empire d'Autriche, et du Royaume de Hongrie.

FRANÇOIS JOSEPH I., Empereur d'Autriche, Roi de Hongrie. Population du double empire (1881), 37,741,413. Capitale, Vienne.

Dans les listes suivantes les publications de l'empire d'Autriche se trouveront dans la Première Division, celles de royaume de Hongrie dans la Seconde. Aucune autre nation de l'Europe n'emploie une aussi grande variété de langues dans sa presse que celle-ci. En Autriche, l'Allemand est la langue prévalente; tandis que dans la Hongrie le Hongrois ou Magyar l'emporte. Les autres langues dans lesquels il s'imprime des journaux dans l'Empire sont donnés dans l'Ordre de leur importance, comme suit: Czechisch, Polonais, Italien, Sclavonien, Slave, Ruthénien, Croate, Français, Hébreu, Servien, Grec, Roumain, Latin.

Pour les articles de géographie, de cartes, liste des banques, table des monnaies, etc., voyez l'Index.

THE ISLAND OF ICELAND.

[A DEPENDENCY OF THE KINGDOM OF DENMARK.]

Population, 69,763. Capital, Reikjavik.

The newspapers of Iceland are printed in the Icelandic language, being that which is used by the people. By a custom peculiar to newspapers of that island, their periods of publication are about three times a month—from thirty-five to forty times annually. The people of the island are exceptionally intelligent and extensive readers.

PARISIAN ILLUSTRATED PAPERS.

Among the best of the illustrated newspapers of Paris we have the Univers Illustré, whose engravings are finely executed, depicting the striking events of the day, in every part of the world; the Revue de la Mode is a most complete index of Parisian fashion, as is also La Mode Française, another ladies' fashion journal, issuing five editions. In fact, the Gazette des Dames and the Printemps and others are good fashion periodicals. La Nouvelle France Chorale and L'Orpheon are both the exponents of choral and instrumental music, posting the thousand of singing societies in France upon musical meetings and kindred matters. Les Bons Romans, exclusively devoted to two or three continued novels, as is also Le Voleur. In the humorous list we have the Petit Journal Pour Rire, which, has the largest circulation. The Journal Amusant has a large circulation and is full of well drawn characters and sketches of the ridiculous side of French human nature. La Scène, of Montpellier, is dropped in the collection accidentally to introduce the "Gommeux" (swell) at the left, who looks very gummy. The Journal des Abrutis, or, the "Fool's Journal or Journal of Sots," no doubt has a large circulation, from the liberal terms offered on the head lines as follows: "Whoever will bring a certificate signed by three doctors and legally certified stating that he is completely besotted, shall have the right to a year's subscription." "Articles very witty, or too political, will be sent to other Journals. Sole branches: Charenton (The national lunatic asylum), and the Academy."

PROMINENT FRENCH PROVINCIAL PAPERS.

On this page we give a few of the principal newspapers of the French provinces. La Gironde, a daily of Bordeaux, is the more important from having been the training school of some of the best journalists in Paris. Le Moniteur de Lyon, a semi-weekly, conservative in its politics, is in the interests of trade and manufactures, and widely read throughout the "midi." La Comédie Politique, a satirical, illustrated weekly, judging from the caricature and the arrangement of the type, must be very entertaining to those who understand the language. The Revue Viticole and Commerciale, of Cognac, is a very important paper to those interested in Wines and Brandies, which in that country is the one important topic of daily discussion. L'Echo du Nord, of Lille, is a solid daily the most widely read and circulated of any of the journals of the North. Le Gazette of Corsica is a weekly publication in the French language, at Ajaccio, and favors the legitimist or the old Bourbon party. Le Nouvelliste is published in the city of Algiers, and, although printed in French, is possibly read by the "Arab of the deserts," it being issued in the interests of the conservative party

THE REPUBLIC OF FRANCE.

PROMINENT GERMAN NEWSPAPERS.

Prominent German Newspapers.—Above we give the fac-similes of several prominent German newspapers, most of which are dailies; some of them are even issued twice or thrice a day. They represent the principal trade centers of the German Empire and of Austria as well as different political and commercial interests. There is at the head of our reproduction the Neue Preussische Zeitung, the organ of the Ultramontane or Roman Catholic Party, published in Berlin and enjoying a large circulation. Next below it appears the fac-simile of the Hamburgische Börsen-Halle, one of the most important representatives not only of the Hamburg commerce, but of that of all Germany. The Berlin Tribune following next is one of the most popular newspapers of North Germany, bringing besides its valuable political matter local reports of Berlin law courts, etc. Other newspapers of importance are the Frankfurter Zeitung, published in Frankfort-on-the-Main and representing the interests of the German home trade; also, the Leipziger Zeitung, one of the most popular newspapers in the Kingdom of Saxony. The Frankfurter Presse, a political paper, has three editions daily.

Our limited space does not permit us to mention all the leading journals, but the above represented papers are second to none in the world in the matter of enterprise and ability.

THE GERMAN EMPIRE.

Composed of the United German States.

WILLIAM I., Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia. Population, 45,194,172. Capital, Berlin.

It will be understood that in the following lists all publications are in the German language, unless indicated to the contrary opposite the name of the exceptional publication.

THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Consisting of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the Channel Islands.

VICTORIA I., Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, reigning Queen and Empress.

Population (1871), 31,513,442; (in 1881), 35,246,562. Capital, London; population (1881), 3,814,571.

All publications in Great Britain and Ireland are in the English language, except those opposite to which another language is stated (in parentheses.)

Abbreviations—The following abbreviations are used to denote the various periods of publication: D., daily; T.W., three times a week; S.W., twice a week; W., weekly; S.M., twice a month; M., monthly; B.M., once every two months; Quar., four times a year; H.Y., twice a year; Y., yearly; Occl., at uncertain intervals. Mon., Monday; Tue., Tuesday; Wed., Wednesday; Thu., Thursday; Fri., Friday; Sat., Saturday. The character of the contents of publications, when not stated in full, is denoted by the following abbreviations: A., arts and sciences; Ag., agriculture, horticulture, etc.; B., building, architecture, engineering; C., commercial; Ch., church and religious affairs; D., dramatic, theatrical; E., epitome or digest of current general news; F., financial; G., general news, full telegraphic reports, with all the characteristics of a first-class journal; Il., illustrated; Lc., local news made a specialty; Lt., literature; M., mercantile affairs; Mc., mechanics, scientific subjects, inventions; Mf., manufacturing; Mk., markets; Ms., general miscellany; R.R., railway news and affairs; S., society news and gossip; Sh., shipping and marine affairs; Sp., sporting, racing, hunting, etc.; St., stocks, shares, bonds, etc.; Temp., temperance news and affairs; Vis., lists of visitors and watering place news. The political character of each journal is indicated by one of the following abbreviations immediately following the name of the journal: Con., conservative; Lib., liberal; Ind., independent; Neu., neutral; Const., constitutional. Other political characteristics are stated in full, or in abbreviations of unmistakable meaning. The initials U. K. mean United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

It will be observed that in the arrangement of the subjoined lists the publications of the several grand divisions of the Kingdom are grouped alphabetically, by towns and cities, in the following order: ENGLAND, WALES, SCOTLAND, IRELAND, the CHANNEL ISLANDS. Within these divisions the several places of publication appear in alphabetical order, without regard to size or importance.

For articles descriptive of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Empire, as well as for maps, catalogue of banking institutions, and tables of money values, reference should be made to the Index and other departments of this work.

Circulations characterized by an asterisk (*) have been furnished by the publishers or managers of such journals solely for publication in this work. In all other cases circulations have been furnished by those who are believed to have very nearly approximated the truth. In cases where circulations have been erroneously stated the publisher of this work will thankfully receive corrections for the next edition. In instances where circulations are not stated it is by request of the publishers or managers of the publications in question.

It is to be regretted that many British publishers decline to make public their circulation, alleging as a reason that "unscrupulous competitors" will unblushingly exaggerate their own, and that as for themselves they will not run a race with lies. It should be remembered, however, that the publisher who intentionally over-states the value of his editions, and puts into figures a fictitious circulation, is much more liable to exposure and shame than if he were simply to claim (as so many do) "the largest and most influential circulation in the county." On the other hand, he who declines to state the number of copies regularly issued of his journal invites the belief that his indignation of "fictitious circulations" is a happily conceived pretext to conceal editions so limited and valueless that he dare not expose their numbers. Sooner or later the truth concerning circulations will come out. If a publisher misrepresents deliberately and publicly by claiming a circulation larger than his editions warrant, the untruth will find him out and will make it the worse for him. But the publisher who makes known truthfully the amount of his editions will, in the end, be justified and profited thereby in securing the confidence and patronage of the public. American advertisers, than whom there are none in the world more numerous, or more liberal, or shrewder, will rarely consider a proposition to use the columns of a publication whose proprietor or manager dare not make known publicly its bona fide circulation. The plea that a competitor without conscience and without circulation will over-top him by a lie, is laughed at as a puerile evasion, unworthy consideration. If you have a horse to sell, take off his blanket, or shut up about his "good points."

In the matter of Population, the Publisher regrets his inability to give, throughout, those of the Government census of 1881, which, without success, (save in a few instances) he endeavored to obtain. The populations given in the subjoined lists are derived in part from the census of 1871, in part from subsequent local enumerations, and in part from estimates by well-informed citizens of the places stated, respectively. The endeavor has been made to approximate as nearly as possible, in all cases of estimates, to the present population; and it is believed that in a majority of instances the figures given in round numbers will be found to agree substantially with the official returns for the year 1881.

Illustrations of the leading papers of Great Britain will be found on pages 1087 to 1091.

LE ROYAUME UNI DE LA GRANDE BRETAGNE ET D'IRLANDE.

Comprenant l'Angleterre, l'Ecosse, l'Irlande, le Pays de Galles et les Isles de la Manche.

VICTORIA I., Reine de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, Impératrice de l'Inde, Reine et Impératrice régnante.
Population (en 1871), 34,513,442; (en 1881), 35,246,562. Capitale, Londres; population (1881) 3,814,571.

Toutes les publications de la Grande Bretagne et de l'Irlande sont en langue Anglaise, excepté celles vis-à-vis desquelles une autre langue est spécifiée (entre parenthèse).

Abbréviations—Les abréviations suivantes sont employées pour marquer les différents périodes de publication: D., quotidien; T.W., trois fois la semaine; S.W., 2 fois par semaine; W., hebdomadaire; S.M., 2 fois par mois; M., mensuel; B. M., 1 fois tous les deux mois; Quar., 4 fois par an; H. Y., 2 fois par an; Y., annuel; Occl., périodes incertaines. Mon., Lundi; Tue., Mardi; Wed., Mercredi; Thu., Jeudi; Fri., Vendredi; Sat., Samedi. Lorsque le caractère du contenu des publications n'est pas donné en entier, il est marqué par les abréviations suivantes: A., arts et sciences; Ag., agriculture, horticulture, etc.; B., bâtisse, architecture, génie; C., commercial; Ch., église et affaires religieuses; D., dramatique, théâtre; E., épître ou digeste des nouvelles générales courantes; F., finance; G., nouvelles générales, pleins rapports télégraphiques, avec tous les caractères d'un journal de première classe; Il., illustré; Lc., nouvelles locales spécialement; Lt., littérature; M., affaires mercantiles; Mc., mécanique, sujets scientifiques, inventions; Mf., manufacture; Mk., marchés; Ms., affaires diverses; R.R., nouvelles et affaires de chemin de fer; S., nouvelles et bavardages de société; Sh., affaires et transportations maritimes; Sp., sport, courses, chasse, etc.; St., fonds publics, coupons, hypothèques, etc.; Temp., nouvelles et affaires de tempérance; Vis., liste des visiteurs aux sources et eaux minérales. Le caractère politique de chaque journal est indiqué par une des abréviations qui suivent immédiatement le nom du journal: Con., conservateur; Lib., libéral; Ind., indépendant; Neu., neutre; Const., constitutionnel. Les autres caractères politiques sont marqués en plein, ou en abréviations très intelligibles. Les initials U. K. veulent dire Royaume uni de la Grande Bretagne et de l'Irlande.

On observera que dans l'arrangement des listes ci-dessous les publications de chaque grande division du royaume sont groupées alphabétiquement, par bourgades et villes, comme suit: ANGLETERRE, PAYS DE GALLES, ECOSSE, IRLANDE, ILES DE LA MANCHE. Dans ces divisions les divers lieux de publication paraissent en ordre alphabétique, sans égard à la grandeur ou à l'importance.

Quant aux articles descriptifs de la Grande Bretagne et de l'Irlande, et de l'Empire Britannique, à la géographie, au catalogue des institutions de banque, et au tableau des valeurs des monnaies, il faudra s'en référer à l'Index et aux autres départements de cet ouvrage.

Les circulations caractérisées par un astérisque (*) ont été fournies par les éditeurs ou les directeurs expressément pour la publication de cet ouvrage. Dans tous les autres cas les circulations ont été fournies par ceux qui, à ce que nous croyons, sont arrivés très-près de la vérité. Dans les cas où les circulations ont été données avec erreur l'éditeur recevra les rectifications avec plaisir pour la prochaine édition. Dans les cas où la circulation n'est pas spécifiée, c'est à la requête de l'éditeur ou du directeur des publications en question.

Il est à regretter que plusieurs des éditeurs Anglais refusent de publier leur circulation alléguant pour raison que des compétiteurs peu scrupuleux exagèrent la leur sans rougir, et que quant à eux-mêmes ils n'ont aucun désir de chercher à qui publiera le plus grand nombre de mensonges. Il faudrait cependant se rappeler que l'éditeur qui exagère délibérément la valeur de ses éditions et établit en chiffres une circulation fictive est beaucoup plus sujet à la honte de voir exposer sa supercherie que celui qui réclame simplement, comme plusieurs le font, "la circulation la plus grande et la plus influente du comté." D'un autre côté celui qui refuse de donner le nombre de copies régulièrement publiées de son journal invite à croire que son indignation et ses "circulations fictives" ne sont qu'un prétexte ingénieusement inventé pour cacher des issues si limitées et insignifiantes qu'il n'ose pas en exposer le nombre. Tôt ou tard la vérité de la circulation deviendra connue: Si un éditeur a trompé effrontément le public en réclamant une circulation plus grande que son édition ne le comporte, son mensonge se trahira quelque jour et le rendra plus méprisable. Ainsi l'éditeur qui fait connaître le nombre véritable de ses issues sera justifié en fin de compte et y gagnera en s'assurant la confiance et la clientèle du public. Les avertisseurs Américains, et il n'y a point de plus nombreux, de plus libéraux, ni de plus fins au monde, regarderont rarement avec faveur les colonnes d'une publication dont le propriétaire ou le directeur ne veulent pas faire connaître la circulation véritable. Le prétexte qu'un compétiteur sans conscience et sans circulation l'emportera sur eux par un mensonge tombera sous le ridicule comme une évasion puérile et indigne de considération. Si vous avez un cheval à vendre, enlevez la couverture ou gardez le silence sur ses bonnes qualités.

Quant à ce qui regarde les populations, l'éditeur regrette de ne pouvoir donner dans tous les cas celles du recensement du gouvernement pour 1881 qu'il a essayé de se procurer, mais sans succès, sauf dans quelques rares exceptions. Les populations données dans les listes suivantes sont dérivées en partie du recensement de 1871, en partie des énumérations subséquentes faites sur les lieux, et en partie des estimations approximatives de citoyens bien informés sur les lieux mentionnés respectivement. Dans ces estimations on s'est efforcé d'arriver aussi près que possible de la population réelle, et nous croyons que dans la majorité de ces instances, les chiffres donnés en nombres ronds s'accorderont substantiellement avec les retours officiels du recensement de 1881.

Alle Publikationen in Grossbritannien und Irland sind in der englischen Sprache, ausgenommen solche bei welchen eine andere Sprache angegeben ist (in Klammern).

Abkürzungen—Die folgenden Abkürzungen sind gebraucht um die Zeit der Publikation anzugeben: D., täglich; T.W., dreimal wöchentlich; S.W., zweimal wöchentlich; W., wöchentlich; S.M., zweimal monatlich; M., monatlich; B.M., alle zwei Monate; Quar., viermal im Jahre; S.Y., halbjährlich; Y., jährlich; Oocl., in unbestimmten Zwischenräumen. Mon., Montag; Tue., Dienstag; Wed., Mittwoch; Thu., Donnerstag; Fri., Freitag; Sat., Samstag. Der Charakter des Inhalts der Zeitungen, wenn nicht vollkommen angegeben, ist durch folgende Abkürzungen bezeichnet: A., Kunst und Wissenschaft; Ag., Landwirtschaft, Gartenbau, etc.; B., Bau-, Architectur- und Engineerwesen; C., Handel; Ch., kirchliche und religiöse Interessen; D., dramatisch, theatralisch; E., kurzgefasste allgemeine Neuigkeiten; F., Finanzwesen; G., allgemeine Neuigkeiten, vollkommene telegraphische Nachrichten, überhaupt eine vollkommene Publikation erster Klasse; Il., illustriert; Lc., locale Neuigkeiten eine Specialität; Lt., Literatur; M., kaufmännische Angelegenheiten; Mc., Mechanic, Erfindungen; Mf., Manufactur; Mk., Märkte; Ms., Vermischtes; R.R., Eisenbahnwesen- und Angelegenheiten; S., Gesellschafts-Neuigkeiten; Sh., See- und Schiffsahrts-Angelegenheiten; Sp., Sport, Wettrennen, Jagd, etc.; St., Actien, Werthpapiere, etc.; Temp., Mässigkeitssangelegenheiten; Vis., Fremden- und Kurlisten, Bäder, etc. Der politische Charakter eines jeden Journals ist bezeichnet durch eine der folgenden Abkürzungen unmittelbar hinter dem Namen des Journals: Con., Conservativ; Lib., Liberal; Ind., Unabhängig; Neu., Neutral; Const., Constitutionell. Andere politische Charakteristiken sind entweder ausführlich angegeben, oder sonst in unzweideutigen Abkürzungen. Die Buchstaben U. K. meinen Vereinigtes Königreich von Grossbritannien und Irland.

Man wird bemerken dass in der nachfolgenden Liste die Publikationen der verschiedenen Abtheilungen des Königreichs einzeln gegeben sind, in alphabetischer Reihenfolge der Orte wo die Zeitungen herausgegeben werden, nämlich: ENGLAND, WALES, SCHOTTLAND, IRLAND, DIE INSELN IM KANAL. Indem die Orte nun alphabetisch einander folgen, ist keine Rücksicht genommen auf ihre Grösse oder ihre Wichtigkeit.

Wegen den beschreibenden Artikel über Grossbritannien und Irland und dem Britischen Kaiserreich, sowohl als Karten, Katalog der Bankgeschäfte und Münz-Tabellen, siehe man das Inhaltsverzeichniss und andere Theile dieses Werkes.

Circulationen (Auflagen) die mit einen Sternchen (*) bezeichnet sind wurden uns von den Verlegern oder Geschäftsführern der Zeitungen eigends für dieses Werk geliefert. In allen anderen Fällen sind sie geliefert von Männern von denen man annehmen kann dass sie sich Mühe gaben die Wahrheit zu ermitteln. Wenn eine solche verkehrt angegeben wurde, so würde der Herausgeber dieses Werkes sehr dankbar sein für irgend eine Berichtigung zum Gebrauch für die nächste Auflage dieses Buches. In Fällen wo die Auflage nicht angegeben ist, geschah dies auf Wunsch der Verleger oder Geschäftsführer der betreffenden Publikation.

Es ist zu bedauern dass manche englische Verleger es weigern ihre Auflagen anzugeben indem sie vorwenden dass „gewissenlose Concurrenten“ die Auflagen ihrer Zeitungen viel zu hoch angeben, und dass sie nicht mit solchen Lügern in die Wette laufen wollen. Man sollte sich aber daran erinnern dass derjenige Verleger der absichtlich die Zahl der Auflage und den Werth seiner Publikation zu hoch angibt, mehr der Gefahr ausgesetzt ist ausgefunden und dadurch beschämt zu werden, als der welcher einfach seiner Zeitung „die grösste und einflussreichste Circulation im Distrikte“ zuertheilt, wie so viele es thun. Dagegen wieder, der Verleger welcher sich weigert die Auflage seiner Publikation anzugeben, ist in Gefahr betrachtet zu werden als ob sein Abscheu über „erdichtete Auflagen“ eben nur ein Vorwand sei die Anzahl der Exemplare seiner eigenen Publikation, als sehr beschränkt und werthlos, dadurch zu verheimlichen. Früher oder später wird die Wahrheit betreffs der Auflagen an's Licht kommen. Wenn ein Verleger absichtlich und öffentlich seine Zeitung misrepräsentirt indem er eine grössere Auflage angibt als dieselbe hat, so wird einmal seine Lüge offenbar werden und wird es dann um so viel schlimmer sein für ihn. Der Verleger aber, welcher wahrheitsgetreu seine Auflage angibt, wird gewiss am Ende dabei profitieren, indem er sich das Vertrauen und die Patronage des Publikums sichern wird. Amerikanische Anzeiger, welche wohl so viel anzeigen, so gut bezahlen und so scharfsichtig sind als irgend welche Anzeigende in der ganzen Welt, werden sich sehr selten dazu verstehen die Spalten einer Zeitung zu benützen deren Eigenthümer oder Geschäftsführer nicht die Auflage bona fide veröffentlicht. Man lüchelt einfach über den Vorwand dass gewissenlose Concurrenten ihn durch eine Lüge überflügeln werden und betrachtet dies als einen nichtigen Ausweg, nicht werth der Beachtung. Wenn man ein Pferd zu verkaufen hat, so sollte man entweder die Decke abnehmen, oder sonst aufhören über die Vorzüge des Pferdes zu reden.

Der Herausgeber bedauert sehr dass er in Bezug auf die Bevölkerung nicht in Stande ist im allen Fällen die Zahlen der officiellen Volkszählung für 1881 geben zu können. Ausgenommen in einigen Fällen waren seine dahingehenden Bemühungen leider vergeblich. Die in der beifolgenden Liste gegebenen Zahlen sind theilweise aus Berichten von 1871, theilweise aus späteren lokalen Berichten und theilweise sind sie uns gegeben von prominenten Bürgern der betreffenden Plätze. Wir haben uns bemüht immer so genau als möglich die gegenwärtige Einwohnerzahl zu bestimmen und wir haben guten Grund zu glauben dass in der grossen Mehrzahl von Fällen die Zahlen, welche wir geben, in runder Summe so ziemlich übereinstimmen werden mit den officiellen Berichten der Volkszählung für 1881.

Die Illustrationen der leitenden Zeitungen Grossbritanniens werden gefunden auf Seite 1087 bis 1091.

AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY JOURNAL OF SCIENCE, METALS AND MANUFACTURES

IN

IRON AND STEEL.

Established in the year 1823 as The Mechanics' Magazine.

Conducted by

PERRY F. NURSEY, C.E.

The foremost object and purpose of IRON is to survey from week to week the scientific and commercial aspects of the great staple of Britain's commerce,— which survey is effected by means of a large staff of correspondents in Great Britain, on the Continent, and in America.

IRON AND STEEL,

Mining, Metallurgy, Smelting, Engineering, and all the varied interests connected with the manufacture of have special attention; at the same time carefully prepared price lists and trade reports render IRON peculiarly valuable to the mercantile community.

The Charity Record and Philanthropic News.

LONDON, ENGLAND.

The ONLY Journal representing the Charities of the Country.

The charities of England and Wales possess HALF A MILLION ACRES OF LAND, and the voluntary subscriptions for London charities are SIX MILLIONS A YEAR.

THE CHARITY RECORD has been noticed by the Athenæum, Lancet, St. James's Gazette, Observer, Standard, Fact, Walsall Free Press, City Press, Citizen, Literary World, Brief, Metropolitan, etc., and the following is a specimen of the notices:—"THE CHARITY RECORD AND PHILANTHROPIC NEWS appears to supply the want long felt by the numerous Charitable Institutions of some public channel by which they can advance their interests other than those now at their disposal. The regular Press, for obvious reasons, cannot undertake to ventilate the claims of all the deserving charities. There would be little room for any public matter. Again, the wealthy philanthropist, distracted by the seemingly endless number of appeals which the post brings him, and each of which seems to be equally deserving, will have a guide at hand which will enable him to exercise some discrimination in the distribution of his bounty."

THE CHARITY RECORD, the advertising medium of all who wish to appeal to the GENEROSITY OF THE BRITISH PUBLIC, is published FORTNIGHTLY (on Thursday), price 2d. at 160 FLEET STREET, E. C., London, England. All communications to E. W. TOYE, and all advertisements to be prepaid.

VANITY FAIR:

A WEEKLY SHOW OF POLITICAL, SOCIAL AND LITERARY WARES.

LONDON, - - ENGLAND.

Since its foundation in 1868, as the first of the weekly journals of its kind, VANITY FAIR has not ceased to hold the first position among the numerous prints which have since been established in more or less close imitation of its plan. It is found at all Town and Country Houses, Clubs and Officers' Messes in the United Kingdom, at every Official Residence and Military Mess in India and the Colonies, and wherever English people of means and refinement are to be found throughout the world; and it differs from most existing journals in that it is not merely circulated amongst, but is read by, a larger number of official and wealthy persons than any other English weekly journal.

VANITY FAIR is published every Friday in time for the mails.

Licensed Victuallers' Guardian, LONDON, ENGLAND.

PRICE, 2d. POST FREE, 2 1-2d.

Fifteenth Year of Publication.

THE ONLY AUTHORIZED WEEKLY ORGAN OF THE TRADE.

The LICENSED VICTUALLERS' GUARDIAN is the property of the Licensed Victuallers of the United Kingdom, it having been transferred to the Licensed Victuallers' Guardian Newspaper Company (Limited), on the 1st of January, 1876. For the last fifteen years the GUARDIAN has used its influence and efforts in forwarding the interests of Licensed Victuallers. It has a large guaranteed circulation in all parts of Great Britain, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, and from the fact of its being the property of the Licensed Victuallers themselves, and its profits devoted to Trade Defence, advertisers may rest assured that they will be well supported by the large and influential body of shareholders to whom the paper belongs.

The LICENSED VICTUALLERS' GUARDIAN is the only authorized Weekly trade organ; in fact it is the only weekly paper in which news connected with Licensed Victuallers appears. The world-famed "Aristocratic Tout" contributes a weekly article on racing matters.

Advertisers are requested to note the distinctive title "GUARDIAN."

 ABSOLUTELY UNIQUE IN JOURNALISM.

THE ORACLE.

LONDON, ENGLAND.

A Weekly Journal of Response, Research and Reference,

CONSISTING OF

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS, ON ALL TOPICS, FREE OF CHARGE.

ESTABLISHED 1879.

Every Thursday. One Penny; Monthly Parts, 6d.; Half-yearly Bound Vols., 5s.

"I do refer me to the Oracle."—SHAKESPEARE.

THE ORACLE is devoted exclusively to "Answers to Correspondents." No charge is made for supplying the best information that can be obtained in reply to any question that may be asked, within reasonable and practicable limits.

THE ORACLE has a large, and well-qualified editorial staff, and no effort is spared to satisfy the legitimate wishes and requirements of any interrogator. Special attention is given to legal and literary questions.

THE ORACLE occupies a unique position in modern journalism. The extraordinary testimonies received from press and public show that it meets a long-felt want. To those in search of special information it obviously affords an inestimable boon. To the general reader it offers a repertory of miscellaneous and out-of-the-way information which no one who desires a reputation for wide-reading will care to neglect. To the literary and cultured classes it affords a new and advantageous means of intercommunication on subjects of mutual interest.

WHAT THE PUBLIC SAY.

"I thank you for publishing such a useful paper at so cheap a rate."—J. F. L.

"Your paper is the cheapest pennyworth I have seen for a very long time."—H. S.

"For general information your paper surpasses anything I ever read."—T. R. D.

"I am very fortunate in coming across such a boon to society in general."—W. M. E.

"I consider your paper the cheapest pennyworth in circulation; it will save the subscribers many shillings."—J. T. H.

"I have great pleasure in pushing forward The Oracle, as I am thanked so heartily by my friends for so doing."—H. D.

"I like your paper more and more, and find information in it which it would be impossible to obtain in any other way."—W. H. S.

"Never before, I think, did the aims of a publication so merit the support and appreciation of the student and general reader."—S. R. S.

"I have great pleasure in telling you how much I am pleased with The Oracle. The idea is excellent, and I shall feel it a pleasure to do all in my power to make it known."—W. S.

"And The Oracle worthy of its name and deserving of all the appreciation it meets with. It supplies information which would be otherwise inaccessible to those who cannot command the use of a large library."—E. P.

"If I did not know that you receive many appreciative criticisms on your unique and instructive newspaper, I should tell you how much I prize it, and end by saying that it often happens that the answer to a single question is worth a year's subscription money and more."—C. E. M. (California.)

&c., &c., &c.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS.

"The paper is well worth taking regularly and filing."—Dover Express.

"The Oracle is likely to meet with the success it so thoroughly deserves."—Torquay Times.

"The publication may best be described as an 'exchange and mart of information.'"—East Anglian Daily Times.

"Its success cannot be wondered at; it would be a wonder if such a journal were not a success."—Jarrow Guardian.

"It is managed with spirit and ability, and the answers to questions bear the stamp of high merit."—Oakham Journal.

"We have no hesitation in joining in the commendation of a subscriber: I like the paper better every time I read it."—West Surrey Times.

"The wide range of information which is to be found in its pages is somewhat surprising, even in these days of surprising journalism."—Oldham Evening Chronicle.

"This weekly journal of inquiry is meeting with an amount of success far beyond the expectations of its most sanguine promoters, and fully justifies their efforts."—Worcestershire Advertiser.

"The number before us is certainly in itself a mine of information, the answers apparently being carefully collated and well considered. Such a medium ought to be well patronized, as it cannot fail to prove serviceable."—Hampshire Independent.

"Questions of the most diverse and varied kind, on every conceivable subject, receive elaborate answers; and we are bound to say, looking over a number, that an immense amount of general information may be derived from perusing these questions and answers."—Stroud Journal.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The novel, neat and effective manner in which advertisements are displayed—occupying the centre of the page between two columns of reading matter—brings every announcement under the eye of every reader, and thus gives the paper a unique position as an advertising medium.

Police and Fire, Journal of Public Safety. LONDON, ENGLAND.

Weekly Record of Police Administration, Fire Prevention and Extinction, Insurance and Ambulance Work.

Conducted by JENKYN INGRAM (the original editor of The Fireman), aided by able writers on legal, technical, and social subjects. Independent, impartial, intelligent. The only special medium for official advertisements addressed to the police and fire services, and, as such, patronized by the Metropolitan Board of Works, county and borough authorities. From the varied character of its contents, it has a large general circulation, and advertisers of all kinds, addressing themselves to men and gentlemen, will find it remunerative to use its columns. Ridiculously low rates are not offered as an inducement. Terms on application.

Published Weekly.

One Penny.

Annual subscription, post free, Five Shillings.

"Edited by a gentleman who knows, probably, more about the subjects dealt with than any other journalist."—Metropolitan. "Full of excellent matter, capably written, and well edited. We welcome 'POLICE AND FIRE' as a valuable addition to our exchange list."—The Fireman's Journal of New York. "This new Journal is on an entirely independent basis, having no connection with any manufacturing firm, and is already receiving the support of the police and fire authorities. Its general tone is bright, cheerful and racy."—Chester Chronicle.

Edited by EDWIN PHILLIPS.

Principal Editions on the First and Fifteenth of each Month.

Price, - - - - - Sixpence.

THE RAILWAY SUPPLIES' JOURNAL, a re-issue of the "Railway Gazette" (which was started some years ago by Mr. BASS, M. P. for Derby), is specially intended to bring under the notice of Railway Companies the various inventions, improvements and supplies demanded by the numerous requirements of the Railway Service ; and generally to form a medium of communication between Railway Companies and those who supply them with materials, goods or appliances.—Times.

Manufacturers throughout the world will find this to be the best medium for their English announcements. This journal is the only representative of the business of railway supplies in England. It is guaranteed that a copy of each issue is sent to every railway director and principal official in the United Kingdom.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Average Weekly Circulation, 50,000. Average Weekly Circulation, 25,000.

EACH EDITION QUITE SEPARATE AND DISTINCT.

The scope of this Journal embraces every phase and feature of social life: Art in the Studio and Gallery, and in its application to our homes; Literature at its purest and best; Music, professional and popular; The Drama, with its increasing influence and interest; Politics without party bias; Sport and Athletics in their healthier aspects; Money-making and Investing cautiously criticised; The Fashions from a feminine point of view; and Current Events—each subject being discussed brightly and pithily.

The circulation of “SOCIETY” is far in excess of that of any similar publication.

ADVERTISEMENT TARIFF.

The following is the scale of charges for advertisements in either edition of “SOCIETY.”

Both Editions are equally valuable, the Popular 1d. Edition having the larger circulation, while the 3d. Edition reaches a higher constituency, and, by availing themselves of both Editions, advertisers secure the widest possible publicity.

SCHOOLMASTER.

LONDON, ENGLAND.

The Only Weekly Newspaper devoted to the Interests of the Scholastic Profession.

Established January, 1872. A Weekly Educational Newspaper, Review, and School Board Record. The Organ of the National Union of Elementary Teachers. Published every Saturday. Price One Penny. Post free for 6s. 6d. per annum; 3s. 6d. for six months; or 1s. 10d. for three months, paid in advance.

The SCHOOLMASTER is, in the highest sense, a Professional Organ, in which the interests of Teachers are advocated, and their opinions freely expressed. It gives early and accurate intelligence of educational proceedings, and is a medium of rapid communication between all interested or engaged in Education. It contains leading and contributed articles by the most eminent practical and theoretical Educationists: the list of contributors already comprising the names of many of the best known educational writers. The very complete staff of agents and correspondents already appointed throughout the country, in the Colonies, and on the Continent, enables the SCHOOLMASTER to furnish special information as to the progress of Education at "Home and Abroad." The price of the paper, and the character of its contents, have secured for the SCHOOLMASTER a large circulation among School Managers, Peers, Members of Parliament, Teachers, Members of School Boards, and others. Its ordinary and special class circulation is so extensive and so rapidly increasing that it secures to school managers and teachers requiring schools, as well as publishers and general scholastic advertisers, the surest and most profitable medium for advertisements.

London: The Educational Newspaper Company (Limited). Offices:—14, Red Lion Court, Fleet Street, E. C. Advertisements, and all inquiries relating to them, should be sent to the Manager. Post office orders should be made payable at Fleet Street, to W. S. LATHAM.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

WEST LONDON ADVERTISER.

LONDON, ENGLAND.

Published every Wednesday and Saturday, by CHARLES CORDINGLEY, at the Hammersmith Printing Works, W. Sold by upwards of one hundred news agents in the District.

The WEST LONDON ADVERTISER, established in 1867, is the largest and best local paper in the district, and has gained a position of great influence, and a large and increasing circulation in the fashionable suburbs of Bayswater, Belgravia, Mayfair, Kensington, and Tyburnia, and among the trading, industrial, and residential population of Acton, Barnes, Brentford, Brompton, Brookgreen, Castelman, Chelsea, Chiswick, Ealing, Earl's Court, Fulham, Hammersmith, Notting Hill, Shepherd's Bush, Turnham Green, Twickenham, Westbourne Park.

A high-class weekly paper, published every Tuesday morning, with second and third editions at Bideford, North Devon. Price One Penny.

It is distinguished for its vigorous, independent political writing, its original racy gossip, and its carefully written and condensed local and general news. It is supported by all classes, and circulates through a population of 120,000 inhabitants, in every town and village in North Devon and North and East Cornwall.

The EXPRESS is the only paper wholly printed in Bideford.

The advertisement scale of charges is moderate.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Blyth Weekly NewsAND NORTHUMBERLAND ADVERTISER, BLYTH, - ENGLAND.

Published every Friday afternoon for Saturday.
Price 1d.

The WEEKLY NEWS is the only paper published in Blyth, and enjoys a most extensive circulation in the town and all the densely populated surrounding district, as well as Morpeth, Newcastle, and North Shields, besides large numbers being posted weekly to Scotland, Ireland, and many of the Colonies, thus presenting a most valuable medium for advertisers.

Established April, 1861.

HERTS AND ESSEX OBSERVERBishop Stortford, England.

Published every Saturday, price One Penny. The proprietors having in Sept. 1865, purchased the copyright of the "HERTS & ESSEX JOURNAL," the actual bona fide weekly circulation is between 6,000 and 6,500. The Proprietors, as a proof that this statement is no exaggeration, freely invite all intending advertisers to obtain some confirmation of it. This can be done by reference to the papermakers; or, better still, by visiting, either themselves or by their agents, the printing office (on Friday evening), and seeing the papers actually printed and despatched to the various agents—at the same time examining the weekly publishing journal. It has been four times enlarged, and is printed by STEAM POWER. Objectionable advertisements, medical and others, strictly excluded. Special contracts, on a low scale, for six or more insertions.

H. COLLINGS & Co., Steam Printing Works, Bishop Stortford, Herts.

Brighton Standard and Fashionable Visitors' List.

BRIGHTON, - ENGLAND.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, price 2d.
The most authentic and reliable record of fashionable movements on the South Coast. Gives a complete directory of visitors, and all the latest arrivals, obtained by systematic collection. Every visitor arriving is presented with a copy gratis.

Independently of its literary notices, it contains the names of all visitors three times a week, and it is posted in large numbers all over the country. One hundred thousand names pass through its columns in a year.
To advertisers desiring to reach a high class of readers, it is one of the most valuable mediums published out of London. The class of advertisements it contains is a sufficient proof of its value.

Advertisers are invited to send for a copy.

BRIGHTON GUARDIAN.

BRIGHTON, - ENGLAND.

Established in 1827.

Brighton and Adjoining Counties Advertiser.

A newspaper of town and county circulation. A journal of public questions, municipal affairs, of fashion, literature, art, science, and local progress.

The local policy of the BRIGHTON GUARDIAN has given it repute and influence beyond all its compeers. Its established influence has secured it a town and county circulation. In records of affairs of fashion, of all public proceedings, lectures, celebrations, receptions, dramatic and musical events: recreative, scientific, and artistic exhibitions, the BRIGHTON GUARDIAN includes whatever may entertain the resident or the visitor. In the colony or galaxy, so that the BRIGHTON GUARDIAN is a family journal, in the sense that the members of the household and visitors alike take it up from time to time, secure of finding a pleasant and useful picture of Brighton for the week, of sufficient interest, when read to post to friends elsewhere.

The BRISTOL MERCURY was established March 1, 1790; the BRISTOL DAILY POST was issued in conjunction with the MERCURY, January 24, 1860, and incorporated with it January 26, 1878.

The Leading Paper in Bristol, West of England, and South Wales.

BRISTOL MERCURY AND DAILY POST.

Western Counties, Monmouthshire, and South Wales Advertiser.

BRISTOL, - ENGLAND.

PUBLISHED DAILY, (EIGHT PAGES).

ONE PENNY.

The BRISTOL MERCURY has for many years held a distinguished place in the front rank of English provincial journals, and is recognized as at the head of the press west of the metropolis. Its well-known prestige and influence are greatly increased by the incorporation with it of the DAILY POST, so long issued in conjunction with it, and by the equalization of price throughout the week.

The BRISTOL MERCURY AND DAILY POST, on Saturdays, is one of the largest newspapers in the kingdom, and its great circulation renders it an unrivalled advertising medium on that as on the other days of the week. Not only is it universally read in Bristol and the neighbourhood, but it is most extensively distributed throughout the counties of Gloucester, Somerset, Wilts, Dorset, Devon, Cornwall, Monmouth, and Hereford, the whole of which for their announcements are quite unapproached by any other paper in the West of England. This fact has been long recognized by professional men, auctioneers, etc.

On Saturdays, a Weekly Supplement of eight pages, or 48 columns, can be had with that day's number, forming a complete weekly newspaper of 16 pages, or 104 columns. Price of paper and supplement, Twopenny.

To Advertisers—The MERCURY AND DAILY POST is the best paper for Advertisements west of London.

BRADFORD DAILY CHRONICLE & MAIL,

— AND —

North-west Riding Advertiser.

BRADFORD, ENGLAND.

IS THE LARGEST MID-DAY AND EVENING NEWSPAPER IN ENGLAND.

It has a greater circulation than any other mid-day or evening paper published in the important manufacturing districts of the West Riding of Yorkshire.

The daily issue is shown by Harding's Patent Indicator, which may be inspected by any advertiser who desires to satisfy himself of the value and great importance of the paper as a most extensive medium for bringing all classes of announcements before the public.

It is the only newspaper in Bradford in which the Government advertisements appear, and all the notices of the Bradford Corporation, the Bradford School Board, and other local bodies, are advertised in its columns.

All the important Sales by Auction in Bradford and the neighborhood are advertised in the CHRONICLE AND MAIL, and the paper is patronized by the chief shipping firms in the country.

The CHRONICLE AND MAIL is printed on the best modern machinery, capable of turning off 12,000 copies per hour.

The CHRONICLE AND MAIL employs its own reporting staff in Bradford, Halifax, Wakefield, Batley, Dewsbury, Harrogate, Keighley, and Skipton, and it has correspondents in all the neighbouring towns and villages.

The CHRONICLE AND MAIL has about two hundred and fifty agents, who receive their supplies (if not by train) by news carts or messengers sent direct from the office. All classes of the community have, thereby, the paper brought to their doors very shortly after publication.

The CHRONICLE AND MAIL is a consistent supporter of Constitutional principles; but in local matters it deals fearlessly and impartially with all the questions, affecting the rights of the burgesses, either in Municipal or School Board management, or in finance, as far as regards the increase or decrease of the rates. It does not give way to any clique, but assiduously maintains the privileges of independent criticism in all matters affecting the welfare of the community.

It is acknowledged to be the leading authority in the borough on dramatic or musical matters.

It is the only paper in the borough that gives special attention to sporting intelligence.

Its London letters are written by authors of eminence, who enjoy special privileges in both Houses of Parliament.

Its Local Sketches are supplied by pressmen of twenty years experience.

Its Leading Articles are written by some of the best informed politicians of the day, and the paper is quoted by its contemporaries far and wide.

No important company, sale, wanted, or other description of advertisements can be effectually brought before the great commercial community, of which Bradford is the center, unless it is inserted in the CHRONICLE AND MAIL.

For excellence of style in writing as well as in printing; for the wide spread circulation it has reached, the CHRONICLE AND MAIL is unequalled by any of its contemporaries.

All orders and remittances should be addressed to the publisher, Wm. H. Hatton, CHRONICLE AND MAIL Office, Bradford, Yorks.

The London agent is Mr. W. W. Snelling, of No. 2, Whitefriars-street, Fleet Street, who will be happy to receive orders for advertisements, or contributions to the news or literary columns of the paper.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. Hubbard, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE DERBYSHIRE TIMES.Chesterfield Herald, and General Advertiser for the Counties of Derby, Nottingham, South Yorkshire, East Cheshire, and North Stafford.*CHESTERFIELD, - ENGLAND.THE OLDEST BI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN DERBYSHIRE.(Established January 7, 1854.)

Enlarged from 48 to 56 columns, January 2, 1875. Largest, cheapest, and most widely circulated paper in Derbyshire. Further enlarged 1879.

The above journal is the great advertising medium for the above counties. It is published Wednesday and Saturday, the size being eight pages, 56 long columns, price One Penny, and its circulation upwards of 18,000 copies weekly—confirmation of which fact can be obtained by inquiry of the news-agents.

It is especially desirable that all announcements should appear in its columns having reference to the coal and iron trades, from the unrivalled circulation of the DERBYSHIRE TIMES among the above interests throughout the Midland Counties.

This paper will also be found a superior medium for the advertising of estates to be let or sold, machinery, plant, &c., for sale by auction or private contract, sales of farming stock, cattle, and agricultural produce generally, and for all announcements requiring extensive publicity.

The DERBYSHIRE TIMES was especially selected by the Magistrates of the county of Derby in Quarter Sessions assembled, as a medium for the county advertisements, being the only paper which has received such an order for very many years past.

The great extension in size was necessitated by the demands of advertisers and the pressing requirements of one of the most rapidly growing centres of wealth in England.

PROPRIETOR:WILFRED EDMUNDS.*HEAD OFFICE:*Station-road, Chesterfield.The DERBYSHIRE TIMES recently published certificates from news agents as to its circulation in comparison with the other papers in the county, the originals of which can be seen on application at the office.The average result shown is a THREEFOLD CIRCULATION as compared with any other paper in the county.

NORTHERN ECHO.

DARLINGTON, ENGLAND.

Liberal Morning Newspaper for the North of England.

Is published every morning in time for the early trains.

Its circulation increased seven-fold in seven years; was, in October, 1876, publicly referred to by the Right Hon. John Bright as a triumph of cheap literature; and, about a month afterwards, described by the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, M.P., as a most ably-conducted journal.

Publishing Offices:—Priestgate Street, Darlington; Corn Market, Stockton; Albert Street, Middlesborough; Albert Chambers, Whitby; South-road, Bishop Auckland; Market-place, Richmond; 1, Church Street, West Hartlepool; and Victoria Street, Hartlepool.

Proprietor, J. H. BELL, Darlington.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

SOUTH DURHAM AND CLEVELAND MERCURY.

THE HARTLEPOOLS, ENGLAND.

Established in 1851.

With this journal was amalgamated in 1855 the Sunderland News and North of England Advertiser; in 1860, the Stockton and Hartlepool Mercury and Middlesbrough News; in 1869, the Stockton Guardian; and in 1873, the Hartlepool Free Press, and the Hartlepool Weekly News.

It has separate publishing offices in Hartlepool, West Hartlepool, Whitby, Richmond, Bishop-Auckland, Darlington, and Stockton; a reporting staff which covers the whole of the important mercantile, mining, and agricultural district with which by name it is identified. Its circulation is immense, and its advertising columns give evidence of its position as the leading weekly newspaper of the district.

THE MERCURY IS PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

Proprietor, J. H. BELL, Hartlepool and Darlington.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

AUCKLAND CHRONICLE.

BISHOP-AUCKLAND, ENGLAND.

CHESTER CHRONICLE,

And Cheshire and North Wales Advertiser,

CHESTER, - - - - - ENGLAND.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

The CHESTER CHRONICLE, which has by far the largest circulation of any paper published in Cheshire and North Wales, has maintained its reputation as the leading family paper in the district for more than a century. Its subscribers are not merely numerous, but of the most respectable class, a consideration of the utmost importance to advertisers who seek an influential medium for their advertisements.

PUBLISHING OFFICE—FLETCHER'S-BUILDINGS, BRIDGE STREET-ROW, CHESTER.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

DARLINGTON & STOCKTON TIMES

South Durham and North York Advertiser.

DARLINGTON, - - - - - ENGLAND.

Fifty-six columns, every Saturday morning, price 2d. The oldest and most extensively circulated paper in South Durham and North Yorkshire.

THE TIMES is a commercial, agricultural and family journal, circulating widely throughout the great iron and mining districts of Cleveland and Durham, including the important mining districts of North Yorkshire, Auckland, Teesdale, Weardale, &c.; the ports of Sunderland, the Hartlepoons, Middlesborough, Stockton-on-Tees; the towns of Darlington, Richmond, Northallerton, Brough, Appleby, Romaldkirk, Kirkby Stephen, Bedale, Stokesley, Yarm, Guisborough, Redcar, Thirsk, Barnard Castle, Saltburn, Mawke, and generally throughout Durham, Yorkshire, Northumberland, Cumberland, and Westmoreland. It is an old-established county paper, and finds its way into the hands of all the leading commercial men, landowners, agriculturists, and the best families in the large and important district through which it circulates. Special attention is paid to agricultural and commercial intelligence.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

COVENTRY STANDARD.

COVENTRY, ENGLAND.

Published on Friday, price 2d., by post 2½d.; and on Saturday, price 1d.

The COVENTRY STANDARD has for many years been the principal organ of the Church, and of the Conservative party in a great portion of North and Central Warwickshire. It is the Conservative newspaper for Coventry. The Friday edition circulates largely among the nobility, clergy, gentry, and agricultural and commercial inhabitants of the city and neighborhood, including the large mining district comprising the Warwickshire coal field. The cheap edition has an extensive popular circulation. Both editions have been considerably enlarged.

Advertisements at scale prices are inserted in both (the same week) without extra charge.

Advertisements other than business announcements, under three lines, charged 1s. Orders from a distance to be paid for in advance. Large space specially estimated for.

Advertisements set solid, six words may be counted for the first line, and NINE WORDS for every subsequent line. Where display is required this rule will not apply.

NOTICE.—The Proprietor particularly requests that persons from a distance will not send advertisements unless they send Cheque or P. O. O., in payment. Post Office Orders or Cheques to be made payable to the Proprietor, W. H. KNOWLES, Market Place, Denton, Manchester. All accounts up to 5s. may be sent in stamps.

P. S.—Large or small spaces paid for in advance receive a large reduction.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

The Leading Paper in Derbyshire, North Staffordshire, and the Commercial Centres of the Midland District.

THE DERBYSHIRE ADVERTISER AND NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE JOURNAL.

DERBY, ENGLAND.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

THE DERBYSHIRE ADVERTISER has now been established upwards of a quarter of a century, and has for many years held the position of a first-class English Provincial Journal. The amount of business entrusted to it during that period is the best proof of the confidence reposed in it by advertisers, and has been fully commensurate with its large and ever increasing circulation amongst all classes of the community.

The DERBYSHIRE ADVERTISER is the LARGEST PAPER in the County of Derby, and its circulation GREATLY EXCEEDS that of any of its contemporaries. It has long been recognized as a first-class Advertising Medium for Joint-Stock Companies, Public Notices, Shipping Announcements, Book, Insurance, and General Business Advertisements. It is a Commercial, Agricultural, and Family Newspaper, and circulates most extensively amongst the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Solicitors, Auctioneers, Accountants, Estate Agents, School Proprietors, Manufacturers, Tradesmen, Farmers, and the public generally of an important Agricultural, Mining, and Manufacturing District, comprising the entire County of Derby, the important district of North Staffordshire, and large portions of the adjoining counties. The advantages it affords to advertisers who desire the fullest publicity for their announcements, are quite unapproached by any other paper in the heart of the midland District—a fact which has long been recognized and appreciated by the advertising public.

The ADVERTISER is published on Fridays, and late orders or instructions, by telegraph, are promptly attended to. Fifty-six columns—Price Twopence. WILLIAM HOBSON, Proprietor. Head Office:—Market Place, Derby.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Guaranteed to have a circulation far exceeding that of any other local paper.

Established 26 years. Three times enlarged.

EASTBOURNE GAZETTE,

Brighton, Hastings, Hailsham, Lewes, and Sussex News.

EASTBOURNE, ENGLAND.

Is the only Newspaper printed in Eastbourne, and is, therefore, a much more advantageous medium for advertisers than journals printed at a distance, bearing Eastbourne titles, but possessing no local standing or influence. Contains more original local matter, local articles, and advertisements than any other paper; a full list of visitors; railway tables, tide tables, walks and drives; churches and chapels, and a full record of the week's news, local and general. Published on Wednesdays, at 4 Penvensey-Road. Price 1d.

Proprietor, T. R. BECKETT, Eastbourne.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

JARROW EXPRESS

And Tynside Advertiser.

JARROW, - - ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Every Friday.Price One Penny.

This Journal is the oldest and largest (8 pages, 40 columns), published in the district, and enjoys the most extensive circulation. Special attention is given to Tynside news. The district in which it circulates contains 70,000 to 80,000 inhabitants. Its columns contain a serial story written by some of the best authors. It is a household favourite, and consequently a valuable advertising medium.

(General printing promptly executed, estimates for large quantities forwarded per return of post.

PROPRIETOR:

THOMAS ROBINSON, Ormonde-street, Jarrow.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

HORNSEA GAZETTE.HULL, - - ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1863.

Published every Saturday. Price 1d.

Is the only newspaper published in this favourite watering place, and has a good circulation in the surrounding neighborhood. It contains all the news of the district, and (during the season) a list of the visitors.

Hornsea is only fifteen miles from the large and populous town of Hull, and has direct railway communication therewith.

The best agricultural and general advertising medium in Northumberland. No objectionable advertisements inserted.

* * The HEXHAM COURANT has more than doubled its circulation during the last two years, and is now one of the most popular papers in the county.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

IPSWICH JOURNAL,And SUFFOLK, NORFOLK, ESSEX, and CAMBRIDGESHIRE ADVERTISER.IPSWICH, - ENGLAND.Established 1720. Conservative. Published Tuesday and Saturday at Ipswich.

In the rural districts the most convenient means of distributing newspapers is by the post-office. The JOURNAL has for many years relied mainly on the post-office to reach the inhabitants of remote districts, and has obtained a circulation far beyond that of any other paper in the county amongst the nobility, clergy, farmers, and trading classes. It has been from time to time improved, enlarged, and suited to the wants and conditions of the districts in which it circulates, being now the cheapest paper in Suffolk.

Its columns contain the news of the week, and its editorial matter is always well-versed and interesting. Every effort is used to make the JOURNAL worthy of its position as nearly the oldest county paper in England; and worthy also of the importance of the county to which it more immediately owes its prosperity. Advertisers have always recognized, and will doubtless continue to remember, that there are peculiar advantages in making a paper which is bought to be read, and which is read, the medium of their communications. The JOURNAL has by virtue of its adaptability to the district long been the acknowledged advertising medium of the county of Suffolk.

THE LIVERPOOL JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

LIVERPOOL, - - - ENGLAND.

EXTRACTS FROM THE ENGLISH PRESS.

THE GLOBE.—One of the most influential provincial shipping and commercial newspapers, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has changed hands. The new Proprietor has had great experience.

EXAMINER.—Our old contemporary, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has changed hands. This is one of the most influential shipping and commercial newspapers.

THE FREEMASON.—A change of proprietorship has taken place in the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, the leading shipping and commercial paper in the province.

THE ATHENÆUM.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce has recently changed hands, and Mr. Charles Birchall has become the new proprietor. Mr. Birchall has long been connected with Mr. Greenwood, of Liverpool.

MINING JOURNAL.—We understand our old and well-conducted contemporary, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, one of the most influential commercial papers, has become the property of Mr. Chas. Birchall, long known in journalism.

BULLIONIST.—We notice that the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, a paper well known in the shipping and commercial world, has just changed hands. This is perhaps one of the most influential of provincial commercial papers, and from his long experience in newspaper work, we expect, under Mr. Birchall's management, great things.

IRON AND COAL TRADES' REVIEW.—Our old friend, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has changed hands. This paper, upon all matters connected with shipping and commerce, has been long favorably known, and is perhaps the most influential paper on all matters of this kind.

INDIAN OVERLAND MAIL.—Our old and well-conducted contemporary, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has changed hands. This paper is one of the most important and influential on all shipping and commercial matters, and under the new proprietorship we expect great things for the future.

LIVERPOOL ALBION.—One of our most influential and enterprising provincial shipping and commercial newspapers, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has just passed into the hands of Mr. Chas. Birchall. Under the new proprietorship we may expect this well-established shipping paper to not only maintain but increase its reputation.

PRESS NEWS.—On Oct. 1 the Liverpool Journal of Commerce entered upon the twentieth year of its existence. Being devoted exclusively to shipping and commercial matters, this journal is recognized as a high authority not only in Liverpool but in the various industrial centres of the kingdom. Recent new arrangements have necessitated a material addition to the size of the paper, which, we are glad to hear, has been duly appreciated by its numerous readers.

LIVERPOOL MERCURY.—Our contemporary, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has passed into new hands—those of Mr. Charles Birchall, who for many years has been engaged in the business.

LEEDS MERCURY.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, a most influential provincial shipping and commercial newspaper, has recently changed hands.

BRADFORD OBSERVER.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, an authority upon all shipping and commercial matters, has just changed hands.

MANCHESTER WEEKLY TIMES.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, published in Liverpool, has just changed hands. This paper has long been noted for its shipping and commercial information.

GLASGOW HERALD.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, chiefly devoted to shipping and commercial news, has recently changed hands. The new proprietor has had great experience in journalistic matters.

SOUTH WALES DAILY NEWS.—Mr. Birchall, who for many years has been Manager for Mr. H. Greenwood, has just become the proprietor of the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, the most prominent shipping and commercial paper in the provinces.

BIRMINGHAM DAILY GAZETTE.—The old-established commercial and shipping paper, the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, has changed hands. This is one of the most influential provincial shipping and commercial newspapers.

PROTESTANT STANDARD.—We recorded at the time in our columns the assumption by Mr. Charles Birchall of the proprietorship of the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, and expressed the belief that, successful as the paper had been in the past, it would become more so in the future. We find that this anticipation has been verified already, and that the enterprise displayed in its management has resulted in the Journal of Commerce being more extensively confirmed as a thoroughly reliable authority on commercial and shipping matters.

Manchester Guardian.

Manchester, - - - England.

ESTABLISHED 1821.

Published Daily. Price One Penny.

This Journal, long known and respected for its high and independent character, continues to enjoy the most influential circulation, of all Provincial Papers. In addition to a circulation in Manchester and the surrounding towns, far beyond that of any other paper, it is extensively sold amongst the wealthy classes in nearly every market-town and village from London, in the South, up to Edinburgh and Glasgow in the North, and as far as the coast, both East and West. It thus presents the best medium for giving extended publicity to all the classes of Advertisements, and contains a far larger number of Mercantile Advertisements of the highest class than any other newspaper out of London. This great result is the more satisfactory to the proprietors, because it has been attained without resort to the prevalent system of canvassing.

Taylor, Garnett & Co., GUARDIAN Office, Manchester, London Office (private wires), for News only, 9, Northumberland-street, Strand, W. C. City Office, 5, Austin-Frirs, E. C.

Mansfield and North Notts Advertiser.

MANSFIELD, ENGLAND.

Claims the attention of Advertisers, from the fact of its circulating in one of the wealthiest and most populous districts in the United Kingdom—viz., throughout the whole of the mining, manufacturing, and agricultural divisions of North Notts and East Derbyshire.

It is impossible to distribute a notice throughout North Notts and East Derbyshire, unless advertised in this valuable medium. Districts otherwise impossible for advertisers to reach, may be opened out by the MANSFIELD AND NORTH NOTTS ADVERTISER.

PROPRIETOR:

THE LEADING PAPERS IN THE DISTRICT.

Cambridgeshire Times and March Gazette.

MARCH, - - - ENGLAND.

(With which is incorporated the ISLE OF ELY GAZETTE, Established 1872.) Published at March. The only newspaper there. Population 6,000.

City of Ely Standard.

ELY, - - - ENGLAND.

The only paper there. Population 8,000.

Chatteris Advertiser.

CHATTERIS, - - - ENGLAND.

The only paper there. Population 5,000.

Huntingdon Advertiser.

HUNTINGDON AND ST. IVES, - - - ENGLAND.

Littleport Gazette.

LITTLEPORT, - - - ENGLAND.

Population 4,000.

Whittlesea Reporter.

WHITTLESEA, - - - ENGLAND.

The only paper there. Population 8,000.

Advertisers wishing to bring their notices prominently before the public, can do so by advertising in the above series of local newspapers.

These newspapers involving all controversial matters editorially, but reporting local events at great length, are very largely read by the clergy, gentry, etc., in the district. Each paper has its own reporter and its own office; they interchange all classes of advertisements without extra charge to advertisers.

These papers circulate in the towns and villages of the several places of publication. During the year which has passed their circulation has rapidly increased.

They are the only papers which circulate amongst all classes in the neighborhood, all other papers having but a very limited circulation in these localities.

Each paper contains 48 columns of neatly-printed matter, and includes the news of the district to the time of publication. The rising importance of the rich agricultural districts in which the different publishing centres are situated are well known. No other paper attempts or even pretends to give the news of so wide and important a district; and they are therefore the best mediums for advertising.

Scale of charges on application. Contracts made at very reasonable rates for a series of insertions.

Inquiries should be addressed to GEORGE SHARMAN, Steam Printing Works, Little London, March.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

EASTERN DAILY PRESS.

NORWICH, ENGLAND.

The EASTERN DAILY PRESS has now been established nine years, and has obtained a large and daily increasing circulation. It is published in time to be laid on the breakfast-tables in most of the towns and villages in Norfolk, Suffolk, and Cambridgeshire. It contains all the news furnished by the London daily papers, which are not received in the locality till some hours later, and in parts of the district till the following day. Price 1d.; by post, 1½d.

The EASTERN DAILY PRESS affords to advertisers the surest and best means of a very extensive publicity, without a day's delay, throughout the Eastern Counties.

OFFICE:—5 EXCHANGE STREET, NORWICH.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

NORFOLK NEWS.

NORWICH, — — — — — ENGLAND.
IMPORTANT TO ADVERTISERS.

The NORFOLK NEWS, consisting of 12 pages, size of the Times, is most extensively circulated throughout the Eastern Counties. It is published on the Friday, in time for despatch by the afternoon trains and the evening post.

While giving all the general and district intelligence of the week, the NORFOLK NEWS aims to GREATER ORIGINALITY than usually distinguishes provincial journals, and with this view it has a staff of SPECIAL CONTRIBUTORS on agriculture, commerce, music, matters of social interest, &c.

Price 3d., or by post 3½d. Advertisements should be received not later than Thursday.

OFFICE:—5, EXCHANGE STREET, NORWICH.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

NORFOLK COUNTY PAPER.

NORWICH MERCURY.

NORWICH, ENGLAND.

Established 1720. The Oldest Paper in the Eastern Counties.

Is published every Tuesday (1d.) and Friday (2d.) at 3 P. M., for circulation the same evening throughout Norfolk and the adjoining counties. The county and city official advertisements, with those of the auctioneers, merchants, and traders of the district, all appear in its columns.

The NORWICH MERCURY, independent of its city sale, circulates extensively as a County Paper amongst the nobility, gentry, and leading agriculturists of Norfolk, Suffolk, and Cambridgeshire, and is in every way an advertising medium of the BEST CLASS.

The NORWICH MERCURY devotes especial attention to agriculture.

Publishing Office, — — — — — Market-place, Norwich.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

NOTTINGHAM AND MIDLAND COUNTIES DAILY EXPRESS.

NOTTINGHAM, ENGLAND.

(With which is incorporated the "Nottingham Review," Established 1808.) Price One Penny.

Is the oldest morning newspaper, and has by far the largest circulation in the town and district. It circulates extensively in Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire, Leicestershire, and the Midland Counties generally, and consequently offers unequalled means of publicity to advertisers.

The recent important political change had the immediate effect of increasing the circulation of the DAILY EXPRESS by a very large percentage, and since then its growth has been rapidly advancing.

Every Wednesday (fifty-six columns) and Saturday (sixty-four columns) double numbers are published, consisting of eight pages. Other days enlarged according to the requirements.

No advertisement can be effectively brought under the notice of the inhabitants of this important district, unless it appears in the columns of the DAILY EXPRESS.

Published by the Proprietor, EDMUND RENALS, at the New EXPRESS Offices, Parliament-street, Nottingham.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

OSWESTRY ADVERTISER AND MONTGOMERYSHIRE MERCURY.OSWESTRY, ENGLAND.*33rd Year of Publication.*Enlarged 1878.

The County Paper for Montgomeryshire. Leading Journal for North Shropshire and South Denbighshire. With the largest and most influential circulation in the district. Established 1849. Price 1½d.

Generally 36 long columns. Wednesday morning. Eight pages. Has been in existence for over thirty years, and by the care bestowed upon its reports, the encouragement given to free discussion, and the independent tone of its articles, in which non-sectarian Liberalism is earnestly advocated, has established itself as the leading NEWSPAPER for an extensive district, where it circulates largely amongst the landowners, farmers, clergy, solicitors, tradesmen, artisans, and inhabitants generally, many of whom see no other newspaper. DISTRICT.—From the East of Shropshire to the West coast, including the important agricultural district of North Shropshire, the whole county of Montgomery (for which it has county advertisements), South Denbighshire (with a large mining population), and parts of Merionethshire, Flintshire, &c. CONTENTS.—News of the district carefully reported; leading articles—free criticism; open column—occasional contributions; by-gones—district antiquarian lore by contributors in various parts of the kingdom; Tipyn o' Bob Peth—items from Wales and the borders; markets; agricultural articles, original and selected; correspondence; general, political, and ecclesiastical news, &c. ADVERTISING.—The fact that, although the familiar "cheap standing advertisements" are not accepted, the paper contains from 15 to 20 long columns of advertisements, will be a sufficient guide for men of business, who will find in its pages announcements of property, agricultural, and other sales, as well as "wants," business addresses, prospectuses of public companies, &c. Published at Newtown (Montgomeryshire), at J. PHILLIPS'S, Oswestry (Shropshire), by the proprietors, WOODALL & VENABLES, to whom all communications should be addressed, and who will be glad to supply specimen papers.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

PRESTON HERALD.

PRESTON, ENGLAND.

Established 1853.

WEDNESDAY, 8 PAGES, 1d.

SATURDAY, 12 PAGES, 2d.

The Leading Newspaper published out of Manchester and Liverpool in the County Palatine. Circulates throughout the whole county, and has a larger sale than ANY OTHER paper in the Manufacturing, Agricultural, and Mining districts of North, North-east, and a great portion of South-west Lancashire, in every town and village of which it has its own correspondents and agencies.

RECOGNIZED AS THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

—the morning dailies excepted—in the county.

The special attention of advertisers is called to the large number and superior and bona fide character of the advertisements, from all parts of the Kingdom, appearing in its columns, in which respect it is superior to all its bi-weekly or weekly contemporaries, and surpassed by only a few provincial daily journals.

In addition to its being the leading commercial paper and advertising medium, its freedom from all objectionable matter, combined with its strict attention to Local and Social subjects, have secured for it the support of all classes, irrespective of party or sect, and the gratifying position of being not only the most trustworthy Local Journal, but also the best Family Newspaper published in the above districts.

THE READING MERCURY AND BERKS COUNTY PAPER.

READING, ENGLAND.

One of the Oldest Newspapers in England.

Established in 1723 (or 158 years ago).

Published at Reading, the chief town of the Royal County of Berks. Will be forwarded, postage free, to any part of the world, for one year, on receipt of Post Office Order for £1. The READING MERCURY AND BERKS COUNTY PAPER circulates amongst the Nobility and influential classes, as well as the Agricultural and Commercial. It offers UNUSUAL ADVANTAGES as an ADVERTISING MEDIUM for THE SOUTHERN COUNTIES OF ENGLAND. Communications to be addressed to the Publishers,

Reading Mercury and Berks County Paper Office,
READING, ENGLAND.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Rotherham and Masbro' Advertiser.

ROTHERHAM, ENGLAND.

Established January, 1858.

Enlarged to 56 Columns, 1876.

Published Every Saturday. Price 1d.

Is the only newspaper published in the Union and Borough of Rotherham, and has by far the largest circulation in the neighborhood.

The ADVERTISER is the medium for official and general publicity in the important iron-working and coal-producing districts of

ROTHERHAM, MASBRO', PARKGATE, RAWMARSH, KILNHURST, SWINTON, MEXBRO', &c.

Its circulation greatly exceeds in these places all other local papers combined, and the advertising advantages it offers are unequalled.

Proprietors—Executors of the late JOHN GARNETT.

OFFICE, - - - - - 8, EFFINGHAM STREET, ROTHERHAM.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

RETTFORD AND GAINSBOROUGH TIMES, AND WORKSOP AND NEWARK WEEKLY NEWS. RETTFORD, ENGLAND.

(Established 1866.) Certified increase in the circulation for the year ending December 31st, 1878, 83,728 copies. The County Paper for North Notts. Head Office—Market Place, Retford. Branch Offices—Eastgate, Worksop; Silver-street, Gainsborough.

The RETTFORD AND GAINSBOROUGH TIMES is the only paper possessing an extensive circulation throughout the wide district lying between Doncaster and Newark, and Sheffield and Lincoln, which includes the large towns and districts of Retford (Worksop) and Gainsborough.

In publishing the TIMES the Proprietors aim at supplying a first-class newspaper, which shall be both the best and cheapest in the wide district over which it circulates. The news and articles are carefully written and arranged; the advertisements are classified with care, and those of an objectionable nature rigorously excluded.

The TIMES is well printed on excellent paper, and the circulation is larger than that of any other paper in the district, it being read by all classes in Retford and twenty miles round.

The TIMES presents the advantages of three papers, being the chief local organ of three large towns and districts, in each of which its circulation is superior to that of any other paper.

Specimen copy sent to advertisers on receipt of post card.

EVERY FRIDAY. EIGHT LARGE PAGES. PRICE ONE PENNY.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

MID-SURREY TIMES. RICHMOND, ENGLAND.

The circulation of this influential journal increased immensely during 1878. For auction and trade advertisements it is a valuable medium, as it circulates in Kingston, Richmond, Surbiton, Teddington, Twickenham, Putney, Wandsworth, Hammersmith, Brentford, Barnes, Wimbledon, Hampton, Hounslow, &c. Every Friday evening, 48 columns, price 1d.

CHIEF OFFICE—KEW ROAD, RICHMOND.

T. W. R. LEE, - - - Proprietor.

RICHMOND NEWS. RICHMOND, - - - ENGLAND.

Enlarged to 48 columns. Every Friday. Price 1d. The RICHMOND NEWS, having, by the special features which have appeared in its columns, created for itself a position of influence in Richmond and the vicinity, is a first-class medium for the insertion of public and professional announcements of all descriptions, which are inserted on moderate terms. Printed and published by the proprietor, T. W. R. LEE, at the offices, Kew Road, Richmond, S., where all communications should be addressed.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

*Circulation furnished by the publisher or manager expressly for this work.

Rochdale Times.

ROCHDALE, ENGLAND.

Conservative—Penny weekly. Published every Saturday, at the Bank, Yorkshire-street.

Has a large, influential, and increasing circulation in Rochdale and surrounding districts. As the population amongst whom the ROCHDALE TIMES circulates number a quarter of a million, there is a splendid field for advertisers, whose announcements can only be made thoroughly known in its columns. It is an ably written journal, containing all the local and district news, specially prepared by its own reporting staff and correspondents. Printed on a Wharfedale Machine.

MANAGER, - - T. J. HARDY.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

MAN OF ROSS,

Forest of Dean and West of England Advertiser.

ROSS, ENGLAND.

Established 1855. Every Thursday. Price 1d. Circulating throughout the counties of Hereford, Gloucester, Worcester, and Monmouth.

One of the largest, best and cheapest family newspapers in the district, containing all the news of the week up to the hour of going to press. To Advertisers.—The MAN OF ROSS offers special advantages to advertisers of all classes, from its connection with the fashionable, agricultural, mining, and commercial interests in the extensive district it represents. Office—Market Place, Ross, where all communications should be addressed.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

South Wilts Express,

SALISBURY STANDARD and GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Salisbury, England.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY. PRICE ONE PENNY.

An Excellent Advertising Medium.

This paper is acknowledged to have the largest circulation in Salisbury (the capital of the county) of any paper. It contains a full report of all public meetings and local gatherings, while it steadily and persistently advocates Salisbury interests.

The SOUTH WILTS EXPRESS being the only penny paper entirely printed in Salisbury, possesses especial advantages, and enables the very latest information to be inserted in its columns.

Advertisements are inserted on favourable terms.

Offices—1, QUEEN-ST., SALISBURY.

EDWARD ROE, PROPRIETOR.

*Circulation furnished by the publisher or manager expressly for this work.

Hertfordshire Standard, ST. ALBANS, ENGLAND.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN HERTS.

THE HERTFORDSHIRE STANDARD is well established as a county newspaper, circulating largely in the business centres—St. Albans, Hertford, Barnet, Watford, Bishop's Stortford, Ware, Hitchin, &c.—and in fifty other towns and villages in the county. It is, therefore, unequalled for placing advertisements before the public. It also enjoys a high reputation for the fullness and accuracy of its reports of all local occurrences.

An eight-page newspaper. Price One Penny.
Published every Tuesday and Friday, by the HERTFORDSHIRE STANDARD NEWSPAPER COMPANY (Limited), at their offices, Chequer-street, St. Albans, Herts.

Communications to be addressed to

A. WILLIAMS, Manager.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

SALFORD CHRONICLE, SALFORD, ENGLAND.

Established, - - - October 24, 1868.

Published every Saturday morning.

Price One Penny.

Pre-eminently the leading and most extensively circulated weekly paper in the locality.

Also printers and publishers of H. Snape & Sons' "Railway Guide," "The Manchester and Salford Historical Almanack," and Salford Chronicle Sheet Almanack.

54, CHAPEL-STREET, SALFORD.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE PRESCOT REPORTER AND ST. HELENS GENERAL ADVERTISER. ST. HELENS, ENGLAND.

(Established 1859.)

With which is incorporated THE ST. HELENS STANDARD (established 1853).

Published every Friday Evening for Saturday, at 1d. The only paper entirely printed at St. Helens.

THE REPORTER is the oldest and most widely-circulated paper published in the important manufacturing and agricultural district of South-West Lancashire lying between Liverpool, Ormskirk, Wigan, Warrington, and Run-corn; whilst it may be said to be the only local paper known to the public of Prescott, Huyton, Rainhill, and that district. The charges for advertisements are moderate, and may be had on application. All advertisements and communications should be addressed to the publishing offices,

New Market-place, St. Helens; or Market-place, Preston.

CULSHAW, BROWN & CULSHAW, PUBLISHERS AND PRINTERS.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Wiltshire County Mirror.

SALISBURY, - - - ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1833.

(With which is incorporated the Salisbury and Wiltshire Herald.)

Published every Tuesday during the Market. Price 2 1-2d.

IT CIRCULATES IN

SALISBURY, WARMINSTER, DEVIZES, MARLBOROUGH, SWINDON, CHIPPENHAM, TROWBRIDGE, WESTBURY, WILTON, FROME, MALMESBURY, CORSHAM, CALNE, ANDOVER, FORDINGBRIDGE, WINCHESTER, POOLE, SOUTH-AMPTON, LYMINGTON, SHAFESBURY, BLANDFORD, SHERBORNE, DORCHESTER, AND WEYMOUTH, &c.,

and in the principal towns and villages in the counties of WILTS, HANTS, DORSET and SOMERSET.

The class of its circulation includes principally the nobility, clergy, magistrates, landowners, gen. try, solicitors, manufacturers, and traders of the district above indicated, most of whom are regular subscribers. It is also to be found in nearly every reading room throughout the district. Advertisers requiring a high-class circulation, should, therefore, advertise in the WILTSHIRE COUNTY MIRROR, and from the confidence with which it is received in the family circle, it has few, if any, equals in this district as a medium for the announcements of auctioneers, tradesmen, and others, and for objects of general interest, such as amusements, life assurance, investments, associations, &c., &c. It is the recognized medium for auctioneers' advertisements throughout the district, and is one of the two organs selected in the South of Wilts by the Court of Quarter Sessions for the insertion of the official county advertisements. It is also acknowledged as the organ for official advertisements of every description. Published every Tuesday.

THE OLDEST PAPER IN THE COUNTY OF HUNTINGDON.

ST. NEOTS CHRONICLE.

ST. NEOTS, - - - - - ENGLAND.

Published every Saturday. Offices--High-street, St. Neots.

Established in 1855, this paper has made steady progress, and for a long period has been recognized as one of the best advertising mediums in the district. Not only in the county in which it is published, but also in the counties of Beds and Cambs, the ST. NEOTS CHRONICLE commands an extensive circulation. For all descriptions of advertisements the paper has obtained a pre-eminence, and more especially for those relating to agriculture. Fruit and vegetable salesmen, manufacturers of artificial manures, agricultural implement makers, &c. will thus find it an admirable organ for giving publicity to their notices amongst farmers, market gardeners, and others. The regular subscribers to the CHRONICLE includes the majority of the gentry, farmers, and tradesmen resident in the district, and the paper is therefore more freely used than any other in the neighborhood for announcements of a general character.

PROPRIETORS:

EVANS & WELLS.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Craven Herald and Wensleydale Standard

SKIPTON, ENGLAND.

Is the only Conservative newspaper having a general circulation in Craven and the adjoining districts of East Lancashire and the West Riding of Yorkshire. It numbers the leading clergy and gentry among its subscribers; it finds a place in most of the public institutions and hotels within this extensive district, and it is the recognized organ of the agricultural, manufacturing, and mining districts of Craven, Wharfedale, Ribblesdale, Wensleydale, and the borders of Cumberland and Westmoreland.

Though Conservative in politics, the able manner in which it advocates all necessary reforms, and the generous spirit it shows to political opponents, has obtained for it a wide and increasing circulation amongst those professing opposite views.

The HERALD is noted for the completeness of its market and local reports; is admittedly an excellent medium for advertisements in this populous district.

The HERALD is published on Friday afternoons, in order that it may be received on Saturday morning by its numerous postal subscribers, and consists of eight well-arranged pages, the size of the Times, and as it is sold at the popular price of one penny, it commands a weekly sale of several thousands.

Publisher:--Edmund Townsend.

SOUTH BANK ADVERTISER.

SOUTH BANK, - - - - - ENGLAND.

Is a Liberal-Independent journal, and besides interesting tales contains accurate reports of all the events of importance which transpire in the Cleveland iron and steel-making district where it circulates, and is therefore gladly welcomed in almost every home, thus being one of the best mediums for advertising. Published every Friday night and Saturday morning. Price One Penny.

For continued advertisements, a liberal discount allowed. Terms on application.

STAFFORDSHIRE TIMES.

STOKE-UPON-TRENT, - - - - ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1855.

Published every Saturday (8 pages—48 columns). Price One Penny. Yearly subscription, per post 6s., payable in advance.

CHIEF OFFICES:—RED LION-SQUARE, NEWCASTLE-UNDER-LYME.

The STAFFORDSHIRE TIMES is a high class county paper, possessing the largest and most influential newspaper circulation throughout the agricultural, mining, and manufacturing districts of Staffordshire; in the towns of Stafford, Newcastle-under-Lyme; the Staffordshire Potteries, comprising the towns of Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent, Longton, Burslem, Tunstall, Fenton, Silverdale, Kidegrove, and all the lesser towns (containing a population of about 200,000); and also in Crewe, Leek, Cheddle, Macclesfield, Congleton, Ashbourne (Derbyshire), Uttoxeter, Market Drayton (Salop), Alsager, and generally throughout Staffordshire, Cheshire, and Salop.

The STAFFORDSHIRE TIMES is subscribed to by the nobility, clergy, gentry, and commercial classes of the district. It is forwarded regularly to every reading-room, hotel, and place of public resort in the district, and is undoubtedly the best medium for advertisers.

Filed copies are kept at the principal London advertising offices. It is a recognized medium in Staffordshire for auctioneers and law advertisements, for public notices, and companies' advertisements. The GOVERNMENT ADVERTISEMENTS are also inserted in this paper.

Full and accurate reports of all meetings of public interest are regularly given. An epitome of district news is supplied by a competent staff of correspondents, and a carefully-arranged digest of general news is added. Particular attention is paid to all matters relating to agriculture, mining, the manufacture of iron and pottery, and commerce generally, and special articles on the trades of the various districts in which it circulates appear weekly in its columns by writers of acknowledged ability.

The latest intelligence is supplied by telegraph, and special features have lately been introduced with respect to the arrangement of advertisements.

The STAFFORDSHIRE TIMES is the only paper published in the large and important borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, and is the only Staffordshire penny newspaper circulating in that town, and in the populous district of the Potteries.

Letters should be addressed to the publisher, WILLIAM SCOTT, and communications for the literary department to the Editor.

Scale of charges for advertisements sent on application.

London Office for advertisements, 22, Parliament-street, S.W., and 107, Fleet-street.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

WEDNESBURY,

ENGLAND.

Enlarged to Eight Pages; Forty-eight Columns.

Published every Saturday.

Price, 1d.

The WEDNESBURY HERALD is the only Conservative weekly newspaper published in the borough of Wednesbury, which borough includes the townships of Wednesbury, Westbromwich, Tipton, and Darlaston. It has a large circulation. It contains a reliable record of all local events of interest, and a careful summary of the general news of the week; and circulating as it does among the nobility, gentry, ironmasters, and professional men and tradesmen, and the working classes of the borough and district, it offers exceptional advantages to advertisers who wish to make their wants known among all classes of the community. Parliamentary advertisements appear in the HERALD.

ADVERTISEMENTS INSERTED ON MODERATE TERMS.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE WAKEFIELD DAILY FREE PRESS.WAKEFIELD, - - - - ENGLAND.

Published every evening, Price ½d.; three editions daily.

The FREE PRESS, which is the only daily paper published in Wakefield, has an extensive and constantly increasing circulation; and although the advocate of Liberal principles it enjoys the extensive support of its political opponents, who recognize in the FREE PRESS an impartial record of local occurrences and general news. The FREE PRESS is the only Wakefield paper supplied with the latest telegraphic information from all parts of the world.

The weekly edition of the FREE PRESS is published every Saturday morning, eight Large Pages, price 1d.; and in conjunction with it are three other weekly newspapers, viz: the HORBURY FREE PRESS, CASTLEFORD FREE PRESS, and the NORMANTON FREE PRESS.

Scale Advertisements are inserted in all four without extra charge, and the combined circulation of the four papers affords to advertisers a splendid medium for expressing their wants.

All orders, remittances, &c., to be sent to the Proprietor,

Workington Free Press and Solway Pilot.WORKINGTON, - ENGLAND.

Published every Saturday, 48 columns.

Price 1d.

Circulates more copies each issue than all the local newspapers put together, and is read by all the clergy, gentry, and men of business in the district. Gives local news fully.

An Unrivalled Advertising Medium.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Weymouth and Dorset Guardian and Portland Herald.WEYMOUTH, - - - ENGLAND.

PUBLISHED TUESDAY EVENINGS, PRICE 1d.

This journal, established in 1855, is the only paper printed in Weymouth, and has an extensive circulation in this fashionable watering-place, in the Island of Portland, and the county generally. It gives full and accurate reports of local and district matters, a resume of general news, together with a visitors' list. Among its subscribers are the most influential, professional, and commercial men; and the GUARDIAN is also purchased by the thousands of visitors who resort there, and sent by them to all parts of the world. It therefore constitutes the best possible medium for advertisers.

WIDNES WEEKLY NEWS.

WIDNES,

HIGH-CLASS FAMILY PAPER.

ENGLAND.

The Best Advertising Medium for the Alkali Trades, Widnes being the principal seat of the Chemical Manufactures of Great Britain.

Gives full reports of all local movements, a careful digest of general news, and devotes special attention to the chemical trade—the staple manufacture of the district. Although only established in January, 1876, it has already attained a success unprecedented in provincial journalism. It is the only newspaper printed in Widnes, and enjoys a large and rapidly increasing circulation in all the rising towns and villages of the district, including Runcorn, Ditton, Farnworth, Hale, Penketh, and throughout South West Lancashire generally. It is extensively supported by the gentry, clergy, manufacturers and tradesmen of the district, and from the influential position which it enjoys is generally acknowledged to be a peculiarly advantageous medium for advertisements, which in its columns are brought under notice of the most desirable classes.

ONE PENNY. PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.

Publishing and Advertising Offices—Victoria-road, Widnes. Proprietor—THOMAS S. SWALE.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE LEADING JOURNAL IN WEST CUMBERLAND.

WHITEHAVEN NEWS.

WHITEHAVEN, ENGLAND.

Established 1852.

Published every Thursday Morning. Fifty-six long columns. Price 1d.

The WHITEHAVEN NEWS is the principal local newspaper in Whitehaven, the second county town, and centre and capital of the important agricultural, commercial, and mining district of West Cumberland. At the neighbouring towns of Workington and Millom competent reporters are stationed, and—as no expense is spared in procuring the latest intelligence—the full reports of late news it gives have long been a distinguishing feature of the paper.

The WHITEHAVEN NEWS is the largest penny weekly newspaper in Cumberland and Westmorland, and in both town and country is recognized as the leading medium for all announcements of a public nature, in the extensive district in which it circulates, as a glance at its columns will at once show.

The paper has THE LARGEST CIRCULATION BY SOME THOUSANDS of any newspaper published in Whitehaven. The area of its circulation extends throughout the extensive district of West Cumberland and North Lancashire, including Carlisle, Ulverston, Barrow-in-Furness, and the Lake district. The character and extent of the circulation are of the soundest description, for the NEWS is read by all classes, embracing the gentry, the professions, the agricultural, commercial, mining, and industrial community, and it is therefore THE BEST LOCAL PAPER FOR ADVERTISEMENTS.

Proprietor—ROBERT FOSTER.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

WIGAN EXAMINER.

WIGAN, ENGLAND.

Published every Friday and Saturday Morning.

The oldest-established newspaper in the extensive mining, manufacturing, and agricultural district of which Wigan is the centre. 48 columns, price 1d. The Wigan EXAMINER is the only Conservative Journal published in the district, and has an exclusive and more extensive circulation among a larger portion of the inhabitants than any other paper. It is the recognized organ of the party, which is very strong, and the proprietary is most influential. As a medium for advertisements, especially for legal notices, sales by auction, new books and publications, &c., it is unrivalled in the neighbourhood. Post-office orders and bankers' cheques to be made payable to Deal, Walmer, Dover, and Kentish Telegram.

DEAL, ENGLAND.

Published twice a week, at Victoria Printing Office, 9 Broad street, Deal, every Friday, at One Penny, and a double edition on Saturday, at Twopence. Offers a first-class medium to advertisers.

The connection of Deal with that great roadstead of the world, the Downs, stamps this journal with an importance beyond that of any other Kentish paper. It enjoys a most extended foreign circulation, in addition to the metropolis and principal towns of Kent. It has trebled its circulation since its establishment in 1858.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

FROM LEADING FOREIGN PAPERS.

The American people are famed for several great things,—the almighty dollar, waterfalls, rivers, railroads, rings, conventions, etc. In a tastefully printed book sent us, Mr. H. P. Hubbard of New Haven, Conn., by his "Directory of the Newspapers of the World" shows how they are great in newspapers, and in their use of them by advertisers. Mr. Hubbard's experience enables him to give the following key to that success:—"Judicious advertisers select those papers which have a large circulation, good management, established character and influence. They are read by thinking people and people of enterprise—the most desirable in all communities to be reached by advertising."—Glasgow (Scot.) Evening Times.

It is one proof of the position which journalism has taken up among social forces in modern times that its history and statistics contribute largely to a distinctive literature which counts students and professors as remarkable in their way as the students and professors of other cults. The histories of journalism already in existence are supplemented by Hubbard's Directory of the Newspapers of the World—an American Annual which gives the titles of every journal of importance published anywhere, whose conductors have been wise enough to take Hubbard into their confidence.—Anglo-Indian Guardian, Calcutta, India.

To get an idea of the newspapers of the New World, and what it means to advertise, one should consult Hubbard's Newspaper Directory of the World, published by H. P. Hubbard, who is one of the leading advertising agents of the United States. Not only do the newspapers speak well of him, but also the great advertisers who are his clients.—Translated from the Amsterdamsche Courant, Amsterdam, Holland.

Mr. Hubbard, by his book, shows his own faith in what he recommends to others, that "a good advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen;" or as Lord Macaulay said, "Advertising is to business what steam is to commerce—the grand propelling power."—Glasgow (Scot.) Herald.

Some idea of the extent of the foreign list may be formed from the fact, that it ranges from the Argentine Republic to the West Indies, and includes papers published in China, Japan, Fiji, and the Sandwich Islands.—Brief. The Week's News, London, Eng.

Too much praise cannot be given to this new and useful book. It contains a great amount of information, and we would fervently recommend it as the only work of the kind that is meritorious.—Translated from the Spanish. Diario, Cienfuegos, Cuba.

It is destined to be of great service to all industries. Such a masterpiece must meet with success, and we predict it, as it is the light of the current year.—Translated from the Portuguese, Jornal do Commercio, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

MID-SURREY STANDARD.

Putney, S. W., England.

A High-class Church and Conservative Paper.

The MID-SURREY STANDARD has now the largest local circulation of any newspaper in the district. As a trustworthy organ on all social and administrative topics that affect the vast neighbourhood in which it circulates, the MID-SURREY STANDARD is placed in the foremost rank. The success which has favoured its career has been due to the reliable nature of the intelligence in its columns, and also to the enticing character of the literary matter placed before the public. A time-table of the local trains is inserted weekly, and, to those who frequently travel by rail, the MID-SURREY STANDARD must be regarded as the only local journal which gives accurate information on the train service of the locality. For the purpose of advertising, there cannot be found a better medium than the MID-SURREY STANDARD, as it circulates largely amongst the clergy, and professional men, and well-to-do classes in the district.

The MID-SURREY STANDARD is the best Family Journal, and contains all the Local News.

CARNARVON ^{AND} DENBIGH HERALD.

CARNARVON, WALES.

Established 1831.

Price Twopence.

Published Friday evening for Saturday. Is a Family Newspaper circulating universally throughout North Wales, and among Welshmen in all the large towns of England, Scotland, and Ireland. It is found in news-rooms; is supplied with reports of all local news by seven qualified reporters, and about 200 correspondents.

HERALD CYMRAEG.

CARNARVON,

WALES.

(WELSH.)

Established 1854. Price One Penny.

Published Wednesday and Friday, and circulates universally throughout the Principality, and among Welshmen throughout the world.

LLANDUDNO REGISTER.

NORTH WALES VISITORS' PAPER.

CARNARVON,

WALES.

Established 1856.

Price Twopence.

Published Friday evening for Saturday. Contains full and accurate lists of visitors at Llandudno, Colwyn, Penmaenmawr, Llanfairfechan, Llanberis, Criccieth, Barmouth, Bettwys-y-Coed, &c., and the surrounding summer resorts.

NORTH WALES JOURNALS.

FACTS FOR ADVERTISERS, &c.

The publishers guarantee a circulation of 40,000 copies a week, being an average circulation of 50 copies for 800 agencies in North and South Wales, Liverpool, Manchester, Chester, &c.; a fact worthy of consideration by all advertisers.

These National Family Journals contain a complete epitome of the news of the week. Maintaining seven special and qualified reporters, and two hundred occasional correspondents, local news from the mining, agricultural, and mercantile districts is fully reported throughout the whole of North Wales and Cardiganshire.

For advertisements of estates or properties for sale, these journals present an invaluable medium of publicity, as they are regularly subscribed for by agents and others interested in such matters; and through no other medium can the same amount of general and varied circulation be secured in the district.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

WALES.

A weekly penny paper, published on Tuesday. Guaranteed the largest circulation in Wales. 750 agencies, extending over every part of Wales, and among the Welsh population of Liverpool, Birmingham, Chester, Crewe, Manchester, London, Dublin, &c. The acknowledged leading newspaper of the Principality—circulating most extensively amongst the commercial, agricultural, and general Welsh reading population in every part of the world. It is supported by and contains articles from several eminent literary gentlemen; and, as it gives special agricultural, trade, and market reports, it is largely read by farmers, tradesmen, and quarrymen.

"The GENEDL GYMREIG—one of the leading papers of the Principality."—Liverpool Mercury. "The GENEDL GYMREIG—the leading Welsh paper in the Principality."—Liverpool Daily Post. "The GENEDL GYMREIG—a leading Welsh weekly."—South Wales Daily News. "Circulates throughout the Principality. It gives special, agricultural, trade, and market reports, as well as all the news of the week."—Newspaper Press Directory.

THE NORTH WALES EXPRESS.

CARNARVON, WALES.

The only penny weekly English paper circulated throughout North Wales, containing 8 pages, 48 columns. Published on Thursday evening. It contains reports of all proceedings throughout the North Wales counties; a digest of the general news of the week; Parliamentary incidents; social and religious topics; special mining, agricultural, trade, and market reports; latest home and foreign telegrams; educational, literary, and antiquarian items.

Chief Offices—Carnarvon, North Wales. D. W. DAVIS & CO., Publishers.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

TO ADVERTISERS AND OTHERS.

North Wales (late Wrexham) Guardian,

And General Advertiser for Denbighshire, Flintshire, Carnarvonshire, Merionethshire, Montgomeryshire, Shropshire, and Cheshire.

WREXHAM, - - - - - WALES.

Being the leading commercial and family newspaper, and having the largest and most influential circulation throughout the whole of North Wales and the adjacent English counties, offers superior advantages to those advertisers who wish to bring their announcements before the most intelligent classes of readers.

Circulating, as the GUARDIAN does, among the most influential persons throughout the North of the Principality, no better medium for advertisements can exist.

The GUARDIAN is the recognized organ for the counties of Denbigh and Flint, and is, by special order of the Courts of Quarter Sessions, the only newspaper in which the official advertisements of both counties are inserted. It is supported by the nobility, landowners, clergy, gentry, solicitors, ironmasters, colliery proprietors, merchants, bankers, auctioneers, farmers, and the leading tradesmen throughout the extensive and important district in which it circulates.

Chief Offices—26, Hope-street, Wrexham. Branch Offices—Vale-street, Denbigh, and Wellington-road, Rhyl.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

BRECON COUNTY TIMES.

FIFE HERALD. - SCOTLAND.

A high-class county paper, the oldest in Fife. Circulating in the middle of the week among the nobility and gentry in the county, and among the better class farmers and the moneyed classes generally. Devotes much attention to agricultural subjects. Population of the county, 160,735.

FIFE NEWS. - SCOTLAND.

A popular penny paper, circulating in the end of the week among the masses, and having different editions for various districts of the county. The FIFE NEWS has the largest circulation of any paper printed and published in the county.

ST. ANDREW'S CITIZEN. - SCOTLAND.

Is published on Friday. Has six times the circulation of any other local paper devoted to that university city and fashionable sea-bathing and golfing resort.

All the above papers are conducted with great enterprise, and being affiliated, contracts on moderate terms can be effected for advertisements to appear in them simultaneously.

CUPAR, FIFE: JOHN INNES.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Dumfries and Galloway Courier,

DUMFRIES, - - - - - SCOTLAND.

Established 1809.

INDEPENDENT.

Has a large circulation among the landed gentry, monied classes, and farmers of Dumfriesshire, Kircudbrightshire, and Wigtownshire. Is also widely read by Scotchmen in all parts of the United Kingdom, and is therefore the best medium for advertisements.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE SCOTTISH LEATHER TRADER. GLASGOW, SCOTLAND.

PUBLISHED THE FIRST THURSDAY OF EACH MONTH.

Price 3s. 6d.; delivered in any part of the Kingdom, 8s. 6d. a year, or in the United States, $1. Neutral in politics. Established July, 1880.

The SCOTTISH LEATHER TRADER is devoted to the Scottish Trades in Leather, Boots and Shoes, Hides, Skins, Wool, and Tanning Materials, and circulates throughout Scotland, England, Ireland, the United States, the Continent, and the British Colonies. One of the Specialties of this Journal is an article in each number expository of one or other of the Leather Industries of Scotland, and the paper has been established to meet a long felt want.

FOR ADVERTISEMENTS

The SCOTTISH TRADER is the only medium in Scotland specially addressing Tanners, Hide Factors, Curriers, Boot and Shoe and Belt Manufacturers, and those connected with the Leather Trades generally, and should be taken advantage of for Trade announcements.

Publisher—J. C. HAY,

19 Howard-street, - - - - - Glasgow, Scotland.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

SCOTTISH PATRIOT. GLASGOW, - - - - - SCOTLAND. EVERY SATURDAY. PRICE ONE PENNY.

Is the only newspaper published in the West of Scotland specially devoting itself to the interests of Protestant truth and civil and religious freedom. It identifies itself with no party, either in Church or State. On its staff of contributors are clergymen and laymen belonging to the various Protestant denominations, and, in the advocacy of its principles, it keeps solely and steadily in view the advancement and defence of our common Protestantism, seeking to unite all in a common bond against a common foe.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The SCOTTISH PATRIOT forms an effective and valuable medium of advertising. It circulates amongst a respectable, intelligent, religious class, and is much read amongst families. The nature of its contents commands a class of readers peculiarly its own, and being of more lasting interest than usually characterizes mere ordinary newspapers, induces filing for preservation. Every advertisement therefore tells, and is worth in value to advertisers incalculably more than if buried in a mass of advertisements in an ephemeral sheet.

ORCADIAN.KIRK WALL, - - SCOTLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1854.

Published on Friday for Saturday. Price 1d.

This was the first journal ever printed in the northern county. It contains 8 pages of 48 columns, being the largest penny paper in the North of Scotland, and is the leading paper in the county of Orkney and Shetland, having a circulation, at least double that of any other paper printed in the district. It is specially devoted to the development of the fishery, agricultural, shipping, and general commercial interests of the north.

Publisher, JAMES ANDERSON,

ORCADIAN OFFICE, - - - KIRK WALL.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Peterhead Sentinel and Buchan Journal,

- AND -

General Advertiser for the Buchan District.PETERHEAD, SCOTLAND.

Published in Peterhead, every Wednesday morning, price 1½d. stamped, and 1d. unstamped. Embracing, as it does, thorough Liberal and Independent principles, it commands an extensive circulation throughout the large agricultural county of Aberdeen and the north of Scotland generally, and therefore presents itself to advertisers as a first-class medium for their announcements. The SENTINEL has the largest circulation, is the largest in size, and is the longest-established penny paper published in East Aberdeenshire.

Published by DAVID SCOTT, Peterhead.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Perthshire Advertiser and Strathmore Journal.PERTH, SCOTLAND.Established 1829.PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

The ADVERTISER is the leading journal in Perthshire, throughout which county, as well as in the Highlands generally, it circulates very extensively, and it has also a large and increasing constituency in the adjoining counties of Forfar, Fife, Kinross, and Stirling.

Its patrons are of all classes, and consequently it offers to advertisers especial advantages as a medium through which readily and effectually to communicate with the residents, whether professional, commercial, or agricultural.

PUBLISHED BY

S. COWAN & CO.,Victoria Buildings, - - - Tay-street, Perth.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

NORTHERN ENSIGN.WICK, - - - SCOTLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1850.

Is a full-sized paper of forty-eight columns, and has more than double the circulation of any paper published in the counties north of Inverness, and has the preference of advertisers. It is the accredited organ of the herring fishery, agricultural, and commercial interests in the north of Scotland. It was enlarged some years ago, and is now the largest sized newspaper published in the Northern counties.

*Published at Wick every Wednesday Evening.Price 2d. unstamped.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Border Standard & Southern Advertiser.LANGHOLM, SCOTLAND.*WEDNESDAY.*ONE PENNY.

Contains all the news of the week, articles, sketches, tales, poetry, and reports of general and local interest. Circulates extensively in south of Scotland and north of England, and is an excellent advertising medium.

Ulster General Advertiser

BELFAST, IRELAND.

Established 1842. Published every Saturday.
Gratuitous circulation, 8,000.

The Ulster General Advertiser is circulated gratuitously in all the warehouses, shops, and respectable dwelling-houses of the important manufacturing and commercial town of Belfast, and in all the leading towns of the province of Ulster. The Ulster General Advertiser, being non-political and unsectarian in its character, finds its way into the hands of readers of all parties and denominations. The Ulster General Advertiser is a good family paper, being much sought after for its interesting tales and other selections. The Ulster General Advertiser, by its gratuitous mode of distribution, is always able to command a respectable and extensive circulation. The Ulster General Advertiser is, therefore, a first-rate medium for bringing the announcements of advertisers before the public of Belfast and the North of Ireland. Office—2, Donegall Street, Belfast.

THOMAS MORRISON, Proprietor.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Dundalk Examiner and Louth Advertiser.

DUNDALK, - IRELAND.
(ESTABLISHED 1830.)

A weekly paper of national politics, published on Saturdays. Circulates extensively through Ireland, also through England, Scotland, and the United States.

Publishing Office, Clambrassil Street, Dundalk.

JOHN MATTHEWS, Proprietor.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

CLARE ADVERTISER AND KILRUSH GAZETTE.

KILRUSH, - IRELAND.

Published on Saturdays. Price 3d.

Public Companies and all practical advertisers will see the desirability of selecting the CLARE ADVERTISER as a choice medium. All classes eagerly look for it. Established 1856. To avoid being imposed on by spurious fly sheets, advertisers should see the paper and judge for themselves. Circulates largely in Clare and surrounding counties, with large clientèle in America, and the Colonies. Terms moderate.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE KERRY INDEPENDENT.

TRALEE, - IRELAND.

ESTABLISHED 1880.

On Catholic, Home Rule, and Tenant Right Principles.

An Organ of the Roman Catholic Clergy, and the Best Advertising Medium in the "Kingdom" of Kerry.

PROPRIETOR:

HENRY BRASSILL.

OFFICE:

2, Stoughton's-row, Tralee

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

Standard and Waterford Conservative Gazette.

WATERFORD, IRELAND.

Is published on the morning, of Wednesday and Saturday, and is the only paper in Waterford that publishes the latest telegrams up to the hour of going to press. It is the recognized organ of the Conservative party in this county and city, which commands for it an exceedingly wide circulation to the extreme end of the county, and also the adjoining counties of Kilkenny, Wexford, Tipperary, and Carlow; advertisers are therefore enabled to secure in its columns an amount of publicity far beyond that which any other Waterford paper can give. In fact, no advertisement can be thoroughly brought under the notice of the public in Waterford county and city unless inserted in the columns of the WATERFORD STANDARD. Terms moderate. P. O. O. to be made payable to ROBERT WHALLEY, 22, Bailey New Street, Waterford. Price 2d.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

FERMANAGH MAIL AND ENNISKILLEN CHRONICLE.

ENNISKILLEN, IRELAND.

ESTABLISHED 1808.

Is the oldest established paper in the heart of Ulster, and the only one that is published twice a week. Its circulation among the nobility, gentry, clergy, Poor Law Guardians, respectable farmers and merchants, renders it a good advertising medium.

Publishing days, Monday and Thursday.

THOS. R. J. POLSON, Proprietor.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.

THE PEOPLE.

WEXFORD, - IRELAND.

ESTABLISHED 1853.

The "Wexford Guardian" was incorporated with "The People" 1857. Office 41, South Main-street, Wexford.

The PEOPLE is published on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Price to subscribers, 2d.

It commands the largest circulation of any provincial newspaper in Ireland.

For advertisements intended for the nobility, clergy, gentry, wealthy farmers, and intelligent artisans, it cannot be excelled.

The International Newspaper Agency, H. P. HUBBARD, Proprietor, is the only authorized agent in America.
